Interesting Confessions by Saloonkeepers at Montreal's Investigation.

Montreal, May 10. - The feature of today's inquiry by the civic commission was the testimony of Capt. Beignet, who retired from the police force about a year ago. Beignet swore that the C. P. R. Stockyards Hotel, kept by named Patenaude, was in his district, and that he reported the place on three occasions for selling on Sundays.

though it was located in about its centre, and placed in that of No. 14. and that he would not report upon it in the future. A number of saloonkeepers were heard, and several of them testified to having subscribed money towards the election of Ald. Proulx, chairman of the police committee.

One of them confessed that the rea-
