

1911.
FAILED TO PASS

Whose Ap-Council

complaints Council of day by allow-99, who failed ons, to pass because it was applied ana-undergone un-while the the marking the failure of

of candidates dition of the y be included on: ology, but
D. Carleton
opoland, A. S.
guson, W. G.
G. O. Gunn (in intermediate),
C. Rick, Ambrose
Caulay, Ken-McAllister, Reynolds, A.
Nelson, A. G.
Smith, E. B.
D. Sinclair, Rickway (in nals), W. L.
G. L. Wild, Thomas W.
late surgery,
W. Thompson, but not in
L. J. Cor-
C. P. Dorsey,
m. C. Cam-intermediate,
A. Marshall
y science, but Smith, E. B.
Howard P.
but not in examination will ay in November

d examinations ngton on the

for the fall Harrowsmith, following Scott, r, London, and ville, diseases
rd, St. Thomas, surgery,
appointed exam-J. D. Balfour, ari, Guilford,
nell, Kingston,
arrowsmith, J.
Arthur, Sud-Toronto, in mid-

it was decided we should be committee. He the courts of

ORMERS
BORDEN

Con.), Says
Be Sent

paign.

World (Con-following all the fight British Par-anasthesis or reformers do ical duty. They turned to help falseness of to defeat the en raised in for "education Canada, the t western sec-fresh stimu-posed commu-
United States
try should de-general elec-the war chest ne greatly in-nam and other is dwell upon prediction that ent once result of reciprocity ers will make y day in com-pauphs state legitimate proerests, he is as much as anneles." A also to Mr.

that whatever reciprocity treaty e," the "mis-consequence of union between —namely, the ed States put best-favored—interpretation Ma-to the far berlain."

on Forever

ment Cure

CARTER'S LITTLE PILLS

ation—Brighten Dess, Small Price

Dear signature

Food

LAST EDITION

London Advertiser

LAST EDITION

47th YEAR, NO. 20359

WEATHER TOMORROW.
THUNDERSTORMS.

LONDON, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, AUG. 1, 1911.—TEN PAGES.

Sun Rises Tomorrow 5:06.
Sun Sets Tomorrow 7:41.

PRICE TWO CENTS.

EIGHT DEAD, AND SCORES HURT IN HAMILTON ASYLUM FIRE SOME OF INJURED MAY DIE

Early Morning Blaze in Top Floor of Institution Takes Terrible Toll of Life.

PATIENTS THROWN INTO A PANIC MANY SAVED BY LIFE NETS

Heroic Rescues by Tillerman Fitzgerald—Sensational Developments May Result From the Government Inquiry Which Opened This Afternoon.

THE DEAD.

CHARLES BYLLIARD, Dunville.
ALFRED NAY, St. Catharines.
JOHN HEFFERMAN, Arthur, Ont.
THOMAS EVANS, Elora, Ont.
EDWARD SODKE, Welland.
JOHN T. HOLDAWAY, Lindenwood, Ont.
GEO. W. STOREY, Hockley, Ont.
ALBERT BOWLER, Dundalk, Ont.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Aug. 1.—Fire early this morning broke out on the top floor of the main building of the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane, causing eight deaths and the injury of many others, some of whom are probably fatally hurt, and threw hundreds of patients into hysterics before the flames were controlled. The known dead, all patients, are: John Hefferman, Berlin; George Haye, address unknown; Charles Pylyard, Gainsboro Township; George Storey, address unknown; Eddie Stodke, address unknown; three unidentified men, two of whom are believed to be patients named Evans and Berry.

STARTED IN STOREROOM.

The fire started at 1:30 in the storeroom on the top floor, and spread rapidly. Night Watchman Fred Bassett, who discovered it, turned in an alarm for the asylum fire department, and this was followed by a hurry call for the city brigade. In the meantime Charles Piper, an attendant, fought the fire over the transom door of the storeroom until he was driven away and carried out unconscious. He claimed that if another extinguisher had been available, he could have put the fire out.

ROARING MASS OF FLAMES.

The asylum department was powerless to check the flames. The incline was not running, and had it not been for Hamilton's new auto fire truck, which climbed the steep hill at a twelve-mile clip, the disaster would probably have been greater. Three city companies and a steamer were sent up. By the time they arrived the top of the building was a roaring mass of flames.

PATIENTS JUMPED.

Hundreds of people from the city who were attracted by the glare of the flames, witnessed a series of spectacular and heroic deeds, for with life nets spread out the firemen caught patient after patient as they dropped or were thrown from the top floors. Some of the patients clung to the eaves and cried piteously for assistance.

HEROIC FIREMEN.

Tommy Fitzgerald, tillerman of the truck, was one of the heroes. Time and again he dashed through the flames and smoke to save lives. He saved the lives of at least six people, unassisted, and nearly lost his own battling in the roaring furnace of flame. Fitzgerald was forced to abandon one unfortunate fellow when he found his own strength ebbing.

RESCUERS' NARROW ESCAPE.

P. C. Campaign and Fireman Wheaton had a narrow escape. They were trying to save two patients who were caught in a room like rats in a trap, with a solid sheet of fire cutting off escape by the stairs, and blinding smoke preventing them from finding the window. Wheaton and Campaign were climbing in the window when a sheet of fire and smoke covered them. Campaign fell face forward into the room, and was yanked out by Wheaton, who a few minutes later himself fell unconscious.

PATIENTS TRAPPED.

In less than an hour after the fire started, a big section of the roof collapsed, and this gave rise to alarming stories as to the number of dead. Deputy Chief of Police Whately and Fire Chief Ten Eyck, with their men fought frantically to save the patients who were known to be trapped on the top floor. Time and again they burst through the wall of fire and smoke until they were driven back and forced to abandon hope. It was not until 4 o'clock this morning that the police and firemen were able with the assistance of lanterns to grope their way through the dark to a small room, a veritable chamber of horror, in which five charred corpses lay. Some of them were burned almost beyond recognition.

A GHASTLY SIGHT.

Attendants, blanched with horror, almost fainted as the gruesome procession started for the morgue. The bodies were covered with sheets, but the horror of what was beneath the cover suggested itself, and women fainted. One stretcher carried all that was left of three bodies. The morgue presented a ghastly sight.

PATHETIC SCENES.

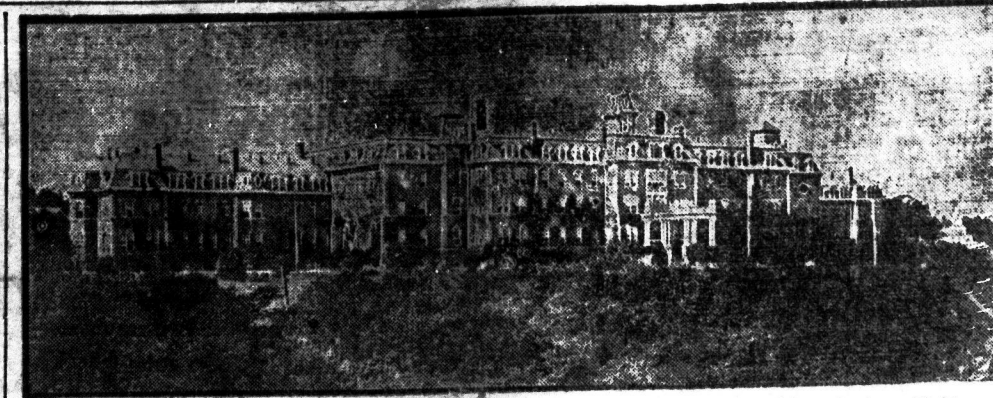

It was a pathetic scene in the presence of death and suffering to see scores of human beings who came near meeting the fate of the victims, laughing and chattering. They seemed almost entirely ignorant of the terrible tragedy.

BATTLE WITH PATIENTS.

The attendants had a terrible battle with the panic-stricken patients on the top floor, trying to drive them to safety. Nearly 300 patients are quartered in that side of the building. Many of the patients persisted in rushing back into the fire after being safely escorted to the corridors, and more than one lost his life that way.

Superintendent English personally superintended the recovery of the bodies. As soon as the first alarm was given, he pressed every employee into service. All patients were ordered dressed and prepared for a hasty exit. The heroic work of the firemen practically confined the fire to where they found it when they started to work.

Continued on Page Eight.

The Hamilton Asylum for the Criminally Insane, Where Eight People Were Burned to Death Last Night.

A FIGHT FOR LOCAL OPTION

Mr. D. A. McDermid Addressed Meetings in Glencoe and Newbury.

NO CHANCE IN LONDON

Temperance People Will Not Attempt a Vote in This City—Over 200 Contests in January-Next.

There is no chance of a vote on local option being taken in London yet," said Mr. D. A. McDermid, to the Advertiser today. Mr. McDermid is secretary of the Ontario branch of the Lord's Day Alliance, and is thoroughly in touch with the temperance work of the province. He was seen by the Advertiser while on his way back to Toronto from Glencoe and Newbury, where he addressed meetings of citizens who organized for local option fights in January.

Largely Attended Meetings.
"Both meetings were largely attended," said Mr. McDermid, "and the people in Glencoe and Newbury are going to make a tremendous effort to carry local option. Glencoe failed three years ago, but there is every chance of success now, as the new regulation in regard to non-residents not voting, will help them a great deal. Both in Newbury and Glencoe petitions asking for the vote will be circulated at once."

In Glencoe the following committee was organized to arrange the campaign: W. R. McCracken, president; T. C. Raycraft, vice-president; Alex. McAlpine, secretary; Charles Hewitt, treasurer.

See Victory.
Mr. McDermid is enthusiastic over the prospects of the temperance societies in the coming elections. "We will have over 200 contests on," he said, "and we are working hard. There is a very strong sentiment in favor of local option. The people all over Ontario are giving us splendid assistance. Five years ago at headquarters they were receiving $3,000 a year to do the work. Every year the amount has been increasing. Until this year we are getting $1,000 a week. We are covering the country thoroughly, and the campaign now is an educational one. We have speakers going all up through the Lake Superior region into the lumber camps, the mining camps, and the railway construction camps. They give illustrated lectures, and are doing great work. We will cover Ontario thoroughly in the fall, and have completed arrangements for holding over 3,000 meetings."

WOMAN DRINKS ALCOHOL WANDERS IN STREETS

Police Magistrate Says He Will Send Her Down for Next Offence.

A rather pretty, very neatly dressed little woman from South London, who has developed an alarming habit of drinking pure alcohol, sat on the prisoners' bench at the police court this morning shaking with sobs. She had been found wandering about the streets at five minutes to one this morning in a dazed condition after having drunk about half the contents of a six-ounce bottle of pure alcohol. The woman is French, and came to London some months ago from Montreal. This was her third appearance for drinking alcohol. On her first, she lay unconscious in the cells for nearly twelve hours, after having drunk a bottle of alcohol, and for a long time the attending physicians despaired of her life. Just four weeks ago she was again, having been found dazed from the effects of the drink.

"How ever did you come to form this horrible habit?" asked the magistrate. "I started it first when I couldn't get whiskey," said the woman, "between her sobs. Please let me go back to my three little children. Monday night I got the alcohol to give the baby a bath in it, and hadn't been feeling well, and just took a little drink, and then I left home. I will try not to drink any more."

"You promised me faithfully four weeks ago that you would never drink any more," said the magistrate. "Now I am going to make a bargain with you. If you ever come up again for this sort of thing I am going to send you to the Mercer, and your little children will be placed in the home. Now, I will send you home with a policeman, and remember it to you now whether you stay home with your family or go to the reformatory."

ALI LOSES PENSION.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—It is reported that Mohammed Ali left Astrabad and embarked at Gumeshepe for an unknown destination. The British and Russian legations today sent identical notes to the Persian Government, recognizing that the ex-shah had forfeited the pension which he received while in exile.

LITTLE HEROINE OF WINGHAM GIVES HER LIFE FOR OTHERS

Saves Brother and Sister From Death by Runaway, But in Brave Act Is Herself Fatally Crushed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, Aug. 1.—Yesterday forenoon about 11 o'clock Edith Jarvis, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holt Jarvis, 25 years old, was killed by a team of runaway horses owned by Mr. W. Grey, of this town. It seems that Mr. Grey was busy loading a camping outfit for some people who were going to Kincardine, when in some manner the horses became frightened and ran away.

Edith Jarvis was out with her baby sister, three months old, in a carriage, and her little brother about four years old was toddling by her side. They were directly in the path of the horses, which were going at a terrific rate.

As it seemed impossible that any of the trio would escape.

She was rushed to Dr. Agnew's office, when after a short time she regained consciousness. She was carried to her own home and passed away at 1:30 p.m.

The services will be conducted by the Salvation Army, of which deceased was a member. Her father is leader of the band.

CAMPAIGN STARTS IN ONTARIO PREMIER OPENS AT ST. THOMAS

Both Leaders to First Tour This Province—Rumor Persists That Tariff Reformers Will Help With Men and Funds.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Aug. 1.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier will open his reciprocity campaign early next week by speaking at the Province exhibition grounds, where E. B. Oiler will have as guests the electors of West Toronto. Mr. Laurier will stump Ontario for three weeks, and will then address meetings in Quebec and the Maritimes. The former will go in the same direction. In Ontario it is understood that his meetings will be chiefly in the smaller places, and it is expected that he will have as great success as his famous rural tour of the last campaign.

Tariff Reformers To Help.

The rumor persists here that tariff reformers of England will enter the campaign, with both speakers and funds.

As justification for English interference it is pointed out by the Conservatives that Canadians have taken part in the last two or three British campaigns. The Secretary of State is busy perfecting the election machinery, and expects to be able to name the official returning officers on Wednesday or Thursday next.

That Yellow Yarn.
The Conservative press has been provided from Ottawa with a story that differences in the cabinet led to a rift between Hon. Mr. Fielding and Hon. Frank Oliver. The story is an absolute piece of fiction. There is entire harmony in the Government, and Mr. Oliver and Mr. Fielding are particularly good friends. This story was circulated just after a conference between Hon. Robert Rogers and Hon. Clifford Sifton. It is interesting to recall that the last piece of fiction of the same sort was published some years ago, when Conservative papers printed a report that there had been a physical encounter between Mr. Sifton and Mr. Fisher.

All G. T. R. Men Back by Thursday

[Canadian Press.]
Toronto, Aug. 1.—By Thursday night it is expected that all the men who went on strike on the G. T. R. last summer will be reinstated. The local men believe this is the result of a conference between Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Charles M. Hays, which took place recently.

DROVERS FOUND SOME CATTLE AND ALSO LOST SOME ON WAY

A Peculiar Mixup in Which Westminster People Were the Principals—Easy To Lose a Steer When You Have a Big Drive.

A peculiar case was straightened out Monday afternoon by the county police, in which Peter Johnson, of Westminster, who lost two steers five weeks ago, received $70 from Messrs. Elson & Campbell, drovers of Irvon, who took Johnson's cattle by mistake while driving a herd of fifty through Lambeth to Melbourne.

Mr. Johnson had six cattle on the road, but about five weeks ago discovered that two were missing. He thought that they had merely strayed and did not report the matter until recently, when it was discovered that they were in the possession of Mr. Archie Brown, of Melbourne.

It was then learned that Mr. Brown had purchased the cattle from Messrs. Elson & Campbell, of Irvon, who, when questioned regarding the matter, explained that the two steers had joined their own herd unobserved on the road near Lambeth and that not knowing to where they belonged or where they came from, were at a loss what to do in the matter.

However, the money for the cattle was paid over to Mr. Johnson on Monday. It now develops that since that time the Johnson cattle were missed a strange steer has wandered about the roads of the district.

The animal was impounded about a week ago, and is supposed to have been lost from the Elson & Campbell herd. Unless these gentlemen are able to prove ownership the steer will be sold and the proceeds placed in the township treasury.

EMANCIPATION DAY

Local Colored People Are Not Celebrating Here.

This is Emancipation Day. The anniversary of the freedom of the slaves is always a red letter day among the colored residents of Western Ontario. It is generally celebrated with a big picnic.

Locally there is nothing eventful taking place, although it is understood that at Chatham and Windsor there are picnics.

The only noticeable thing today was the appearance of Mr. John Anderson, a colored citizen, in a plug hat, and in company with more or less interesting "company." It was quite an interesting sight.

ENGINEER WRIGHT REFUSED A PAVING COMPANY'S JAUNT!

Took the Ground That if He Is To Go Anywhere on Civic Business the City, Not a Prospective Contractor, Should Pay the Bill.

Who is the city engineer's boss?

This question is creating much disturbance in the mind of Ald. Neil Cooper, chairman of the board of works, and before it is answered it is likely that he will express himself rather forcibly about things in connection with the engineering department.

The trouble happened over City Engineer Wright's refusal to go to Cleveland on the last Saturday night at the expense of a paving concern.

Mr. Wright refused to go at the expense of a private corporation, taking the stand that if he went on city business he should have his expenses paid by the city, not by any person else. If the council did not send him, he considered he had no right to go. Consequently he remained at home.

This caused Ald. Cooper a bad humor, and he threatened dire things on his return.

"Who is the city engineer's boss, anyway?" Ald. Cooper asked. "I guess I know who has to give him his orders. When I get home I will show some person a thing or two about the city engineer's department. He had a right to come, and I am going to see why he did not come."

City Engineer Wright, however, refuses to discuss the question, merely stating that he did not go to Cleveland because he had no wish to go.

There will probably be some fun when Ald. Cooper lets go his vocabulary. In the meantime the majority of citizens will be likely to agree that Mr. Wright is right, and that his example is a good one in municipal circles.

THREE FROM LONDON DISTRICT IN HAMILTON INSANE ASYLUM

Dr. English, the Superintendent, Is Also a Well-Known Londoner —Crimes for Which the Three Persons Are Held.

So far as can be learned, there are three prisoners from the neighborhood of London in the Hamilton Asylum.

They are Miss Fanny McGarvey, of Strathroy, who killed her uncle, Patrick McGarvey.

Robert Quick, of Carleton Place, who in a moment of religious frenzy strangled his brother to death.

James Harwood, of the Niagara Township, who horribly murdered his life a few years ago.

Pte. W. A. Moir, who shot Sgt. Lloyd

was also confined to this institution until his spectacular escape about a year ago made it unwise to keep him there, and he was transferred to the Central Prison, Toronto.

Dr. English, formerly of this city, is superintendent. He was a practitioner in London until about three years ago, when the Government appointed him.

Since going there a number of striking events has brought the place much in the limelight.

The escape of Moir and Taggart was one of these incidents.

$300 DAMAGE TO TWO BARN FIREMEN ANSWER MANY CALLS

Brigade Were Out Five Times Within a Few Hours—Oil Stove Exploded in a Home—Spontaneous Combustion Is Blamed for Another Blaze.

The fire department had five runs last night and this morning.

On the last of the night, a fire broke out in the barn of a house on Dundas street, where two barns, owned by Trust Officer Weir and Mr. Michael Gleeson, caught fire. They were burning merrily when the department arrived, but after an hour's battle the flames were subdued.

The loss was about $300. The fire was called to Hueston's garage to extinguish a burning automobile. However, it was not there but in front of the Mitchell garage.

An automobile owned by a citizen caught fire across the street, and for a moment it looked as if the whole machine would be destroyed. A spark ignited the gasoline coming from a broken pipe.

The fire department was called, but gave the wrong garage, however, one of the employees of Mitchell's place put the fire out with a hand chemical. The damage will be about $15.

Shortly before 6 a.m. today the department was called to the Dundas street, near King, to a house occupied by C. A. Butterworth. A fire had started in the basement from some cause of other, probably spontaneous combustion. There were two sick people in the house, and the smoke circulating through it greatly alarmed them. However, the fire was extinguished without much damage.

The firemen had still another run to the Star Laundry, but when they arrived they found the alarm to be a false one.

Two men had scarcely returned to the stations when an alarm came in from Mr. Josiah Liddell's residence, 28 St. Ann street, West London. An oil stove in some way exploded, setting fire to the kitchen. There was no person in the room when the accident happened. The fire was quickly put out, the loss being quite small.

Magistrate Judd is after the Indian-baiters, and near Indian-baiters of the city at a rate that is making all the members of the brigade sit up and take notice. The new Indian list, which was issued today, shows that since July 1, 21 names were added by the court, and at this morning's session of the police court four more names, those of Louis Guilbult, George Fraser, William Dunlop and Alex. Lawlor, were added, making 25 additions in 31 days. This is certainly going some, and besides there are a number of other citizens, for the magistrate is only waiting for them to come up again to give him an excuse for putting them on the list.

"I never had names put on so fast before," said Inspector Galpin to the Advertiser this afternoon. "I just got the new list today, and when I got back to my office I found four more names to be added. The magistrate is keeping us busy looking after these fellows."

The latest list contains the names of 110 citizens, and includes men and women in all walks of life. Altogether there are twelve women on the list.

Magistrate Judd is trying out a new plan, and it is apparently working very well. The first time a man comes up he is let go with a warning. If he comes back he is fined $20 or 25 days, and if he comes back again he is put on the list whether he wants to go or not.

THE WEATHER.
Tomorrow—Thunderstorms.
FORECAST.
London, Aug. 1—5 a.m.
Today—Moderate to fresh southerly breeze, generally fair and very warm tonight and on Wednesday.

TEMPERATURES.
Past 24 hours.
Stations. Max. Min. Weather.
Calgary. 80. 62. Fair.
Port Arthur. 82. 64. Rain.
Perry Sound. 88. 60. Clear.
Toronto. 88. 64. Clear.
Ottawa. 88. 60. Clear.
Montreal. 88. 60. Clear.
Quebec. 88. 60. Clear.
Forth Point. 62. 48. Rain.

WEATHER NOTES.
Light showers have occurred in the northern parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan, and heavy rains have fallen in the Lake Superior district. Elsewhere the weather has been generally fair and in Ontario and Quebec very warm.

LOCAL TEMPERATURES.
Highest and lowest temperatures in London on Monday, 80-62.

Who is the city engineer's boss?

This question is creating much disturbance in the mind of Ald. Neil Cooper, chairman of the board of works, and before it is answered it is likely that he will express himself rather forcibly about things in connection with the engineering department.

The trouble happened over City Engineer Wright's refusal to go to Cleveland on the last Saturday night at the expense of a paving concern.

Mr. Wright refused to go at the expense of a private corporation, taking the stand that if he went on city business he should have his expenses paid by the city, not by any person else. If the council did not send him, he considered he had no right to go. Consequently he remained at home.

This caused Ald. Cooper a bad humor, and he threatened dire things on his return.

"Who is the city engineer's boss, anyway?" Ald. Cooper asked. "I guess I know who has to give him his orders. When I get home I will show some person a thing or two about the city engineer's department. He had a right to come, and I am going to see why he did not come."

City Engineer Wright, however, refuses to discuss the question, merely stating that he did not go to Cleveland because he had no wish to go.

There will probably be some fun when Ald. Cooper lets go his vocabulary. In the meantime the majority of citizens will be likely to agree that Mr. Wright is right, and that his example is a good one in municipal circles.

So far as can be learned, there are three prisoners from the neighborhood of London in the Hamilton Asylum.

They are Miss Fanny McGarvey, of Strathroy, who killed her uncle, Patrick McGarvey.

Robert Quick, of Carleton Place, who in a moment of religious frenzy strangled his brother to death.

James Harwood, of the Niagara Township, who horribly murdered his life a few years ago.

Pte. W. A. Moir, who shot Sgt. Lloyd

was also confined to this institution until his spectacular escape about a year ago made it unwise to keep him there, and he was transferred to the Central Prison, Toronto.

Dr. English, formerly of this city, is superintendent. He was a practitioner in London until about three years ago, when the Government appointed him.

Since going there a number of striking events has brought the place much in the limelight.

The escape of Moir and Taggart was one of these incidents.

The fire department had five runs last night and this morning.

On the last of the night, a fire broke out in the barn of a house on Dundas street, where two barns, owned by Trust Officer Weir and Mr. Michael Gleeson, caught fire. They were burning merrily when the department arrived, but after an hour's battle the flames were subdued.

The loss was about $300. The fire was called to Hueston's garage to extinguish a burning automobile. However, it was not there but in front of the Mitchell garage.

An automobile owned by a citizen caught fire across the street, and for a moment it looked as if the whole machine would be destroyed. A spark ignited the gasoline coming from a broken pipe.

The fire department was called, but gave the wrong garage, however, one of the employees of Mitchell's place put the fire out with a hand chemical. The damage will be about $15.

Shortly before 6 a.m. today the department was called to the Dundas street, near King, to a house occupied by C. A. Butterworth. A fire had started in the basement from some cause of other, probably spontaneous combustion. There were two sick people in the house, and the smoke circulating through it greatly alarmed them. However, the fire was extinguished without much damage.

The firemen had still another run to the Star Laundry, but when they arrived they found the alarm to be a false one.

Two men had scarcely returned to the stations when an alarm came in from Mr. Josiah Liddell's residence, 28 St. Ann street, West London. An oil stove in some way exploded, setting fire to the kitchen. There was no person in the room when the accident happened. The fire was quickly put out, the loss being quite small.

Magistrate Judd is after the Indian-baiters, and near Indian-baiters of the city at a rate that is making all the members of the brigade sit up and take notice. The new Indian list, which was issued today, shows that since July 1, 21 names were added by the court, and at this morning's session of the police court four more names, those of Louis Guilbult, George Fraser, William Dunlop and Alex. Lawlor, were added, making 25 additions in 31 days. This is certainly going some, and besides there are a number of other citizens, for the magistrate is only waiting for them to come up again to give him an excuse for putting them on the list.

"I never had names put on so fast before," said Inspector Galpin to the Advertiser this afternoon. "I just got the new list today, and when I got back to my office I found four more names to be added. The magistrate is keeping us busy looking after these fellows."