A TERRIBLE fraças, says the Lucknown Times of April 22nd occurred at the Jumma Musjid of Lucknow on Saturday morning last in which Colonel Burroughs, commanding her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders, was ing her Majesty's 93rd Highlanders, was most severely handled and beaten by the darogah of the above mosque, which by some unaccountable means appears to be in the hands of Begum Mulks Jehan, instead of the high priest of the Mussulmans. As various garbled statements by different writers may find their way into other journals, we may as well give the exact details of the affair as it really occurred. Colonel Burroughs was here in 1857, and being curious to compare the present state of the city with the aspect it bore when we took it under Lord the top of the steps he was spoken to in most offensive and grossly-provoking language, and told there was a board below for bidding strangers entering the place; he replied he did not wish to enter the place. agreement to abandon the use of explosive bullets in time of war. THE VARIATION OF THE COMPASS COR-RECTED .- Owing to the number of accidents comparatively simple plan of ascertaining the error or amount of variation and deviation combined was devised and put in prace tice some time since. It consists in taking an ordinary compass card and erecting upon its centre, and perpendicular to its plane, a fine copper wire. At the time of the sun's meridian passage as indicated by the noon observation for latitude, the direction of the shadow cast by the wire on the compass card is noted. The angle contained between this direction and that of the north and south line of the card will give the local attraction and variation combined. Small errors and many disadvantages are, however, found to attend this plan, owing to the uncertainty of obtaining the exact meridian altitude when the sun is partially obscured. To obviate this, a most ingen-ious instrument has been invented by Mr Lowick, of the Royal British Navy. The in-atrument consists of a compass dial, needle hour circle and latitude are. The hour circle revolves, and is capable of being adjusted to the latitude, thus forming an ordinary sun dual for any latitude, which may be used whenever a shadow from the sun can be obtained. All that is required to ascertain the error of a compass by this beautiful simple instrument is the latitude and apparent time at ship. wall 19001113 a

Explosions.

New York, June 25, 1868.

Two explosions a week will do, I suspect, and that is our number in this city, First, one of our steam fire engines exploded its boiler, and right in front of a theatre ! " That is not the worst of it, for its seized the oppor-tunity to go on a 'bnst' just as the people were coming out of the theatre, and it made havor enough in the crowd. The other explosion was in a fireworks warehouse up Brosdway. The pyrotechaic spirit could not wait until the Fourth of July. His particular enthusiasm could not be restrained. It knew no bounds. It was impatient unto death, and bang! went off one piece of fiery mechanism, probably from spontanous com-bustion. Bang! bang! bang! and off flew, the doors, away flew the windows, and up in the air went the passers by. Then all the fireworks in the store ignited, and the roar fireworks in the store ignited, and the roar of middle aged artillery is nothing to it. Of course a grand conflagration was the result. Only one or two persons were killed, fortunately, and the fire engine explanion, on the contrary, killed five outright and wounded grieviously twenty-odd more. It was one of the old first steam fire engines made for New York, and was taken ont by a Company whose engine was under result. whose engine was under repair. It stood in the Bowery, opposite the door of the Bowery Theatre, and the boilers exploded about balt past nine p. m., scattering the steam and masses of broken metal in every direction, d tearing some of its victims all to pieces e slaughter was horrible. The inquest is still sitting, under the Coroner, but the engineer was so much jojured that they have vet been able to take his testimony They say that the water in the boiler was suffered to get too low, and that cold water being suddenly turned on, the result was inevitable. It is the first occurrence of the kind we have had yet; but why should it be our last? Are we not as good as our neighbors? Can't we have the little luxuries they indulge in? Cincinnati has had two of these affairs already, and New York is not to to be kept in the background, let me tell you. We have too much enterprise for that !- Cor S. F. Call. 21. Norfolk street, Park lane, Hyde Park, and Lausanne, in Switzerland, was proved in the Loudon Courts by Miss Angela Georgina Burdett Coutts, of Stratton street, Piccadilly, and the Rev. Thomas Helmore, master of Her Majesty's wounded as he was proceeded at once to the city magistrate's residence and reported what had occurred. The darogab and those who had assisted him in this little jehad were immediately arrested and brought up for trial, and the offence having been brought bome to the darogah he was sentenced to one month's head labor in irons. The sentence conth's hard labor in irons. The sentence 6, 1868, and the testator died Feb. 25, may strike some people as being much too lenient, but Colonel Burroughs having struck the first blow put himself very nearly out of court in so doing, and left the magistrate no alternative. Had he allowed himself even to be pushed, we have very little doubt that the darogah would have got six months' imprisonment along with his gang of abetters.—A. durive to the happiness of mankind; for which purpose he bequeaths to him his manuscripts, correspondence, and private letters and memoranda. The rest of his pictures, curiosities, articles of antiquity or virto he leaves to the Wisbech Museum. The gold watch usually worn by him he leaves to Miss Burdett Coutts; his other gold repeater he leaves to Charles Dickens. To his wife he leaves an annuity of £500 beyond all other provision. There are several other annuities and legacies to friends. All bequests to be free of duty. The residue of his property, as may be applicable to charitable purposes, he leaves for the support of schools in or near London for the education of the humblest and simplest kind, under the visitation of the Bishop of London. Holloway's Ointment.—A fair trial is all that is asked to prove the sterling and superior merits of this Ointment, and to demonstrate how much more successful it is in curing old ulcers, inveterate sores, and disfiguring eruptions than any other application. When properly used it lessens the inflammation, which invades parts adjacent to the wound or ulcer, whereby much local pain is immediately assuaged, and, in the course of an hour or two, satisfactory results invariably follows, which will steadily advance to a thorough and permanent cure. This treatment, so much at variance with the old-fashioned views of cauterising, blistering, leeching, &c., has by common consent been p nounced to the greatest blessing to persons thus afflicted.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it, for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.
