AN INN UNDER TWO FLAGS.

There are no barrooms in Houlton, for a very strong temperance sentiment pervades a majority of its 4,000 people, and they would made it hot for anybody who attempted to run anopen drinking saloon there, not so much out of respect for the prohibitory law, but on general anti-liquor principles. But there are a few places where the thirsty traveler can get something stimulating, and these do a good business on the quiet. There is a grocery where, by dint of a bit of diplomacy, one can get a drink of provincial ale in a tin dipper for the customary nickle; and another place where foreign whiskey, gin, or bottled hall. An American Swindler in Brussels.
BRUSSELS, Oct. 29.—E. C. Schwartzkoff,
Secretary of the United States Commission for the Belgian Exhibition, who came here with letters of introduction to Prince De Chimay, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and to M. De Moreau, former Minister of Public Works, from the Belgian Minister at Washington, and who had been received and entertained by the best society in Brussels, was arrested yesterday on a charge of stealing a diamond necklace from M. Bardett, a Parisian jeweler, in 1886, and for numerous, swindling operations committed between 1881 and 1882 in France and Belgium. Schwartzkoff, who is a fine looking man 35 years of ace, lead a very luxurious life in Brussels. He had subsequently to his swindling operations gone to America and become a naturalized American. This he thought sufficient to protect him from arrest for his former backshidings, but his arrest proves the contexpy. The case has produced an immense sensation in Brussels. with letters of introduction to Prince De
