Although, since the arrival of the Steamer Royal William, there have been arrivals at New York of the regular packet sailing ship within the time usually occupied by them in their trips, yet the European dates brought by the latter have all been anticipated by the superior celerity of steam navigation. The news consecutive to that which we now possess would be brought by the Great WESTERN which is most probably already preparing for her voyage homeward from New York.

The situation of the Custom House at White. head Island has long been a matter of complaint as a place of entry fer Grand Manan, welfare therefore happy to find that His Excellency the Lieut. Governor has been pleased to appoint Mr. Cochrane Craig, sub-Collector of H. M. Customs at Grand Manan, and that the Custom House is to be kept at PERFUMERY are several people in town to-day offering them for the purchase of small articles.
