LOCAL DEATH ROLL

MRS. MARTHA J. BISHOP

The death occurred at Paradise, Annapolis County, on Wednesday, of Mrs. Martha Jane, widow of the late Wm. H. Bishop, in the ninety-fifth year of her age. The deceased was born in Freedom, N.H., and with her husband, moved to Paradise more than seventy years ago. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Furgin and was the last survivor of a large family, her father passing away at the age of ninety-three years and her mother at ninety-three. Mrs. Bishop in her early days was a school teacher and she, throughout her entire lifetime, took a deep interest in educational and public events. She had been a constant reader of the Halifax Chronicle from its inception to within a few days of her death, having also been a regular subscriber of the Mayflower, of Halifax and all publications edited by the late Joseph Howe. Being the leading resident of the community in which she resided, she had always commanded the highest respect of a large circle of acquaintances. She was noted for her charitable disposition and her life had been an example that all would do well to follow. She belonged to no church, but was a supporter of the Baptist denomination, there being only one church in Paradise, N.S. She was the mother of nine children, eight of whom survive her, Mrs. Emma A. Ricker, Somerville, Mass.; Horace G. Bishop, Bridgetown; Mrs. Albert F. Jones, of Pasadena, Cal.; Mrs. Minnie L. Ricketson, of Paradise; Mrs. Florence Fitz, of Winthrop, Mass.; Coun. Fred W. Bishop, of Paradise, president of the United Fruit Companies, Ltd., with whom she resided; Mrs. H. H. Plummer, Berkeley, Cal., and Mrs. C. J. Lineham, Seattle, Wash. Her husband predeceased her eight years ago. She is also survived by twenty-one grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren. The funeral took place Friday afternoon and was very largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Smith, pastor of the Paradise Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. J. H. Halcom, of Yarmouth. Dying these years, however, he sailed to practically every part of the world and in every way was most successful. After quitting the sea, Captain Lewis, with his brother, the late Coun. N. B. Lewis, established the firm of Lewis & Co., at Salmon River, Digby County, where they carried on a general mercantile business in connection with an extensive shipbuilding yard. There they built several large ships of the finest type which, by their superior construction and beautiful lines, the firm's name was known throughout the maritime world.

CAPTAIN HENRY LEWIS

The death of the oldest of Yarmouth's master mariners took place Tuesday noon, when Captain Henry Lewis died at his home on Argyle street, in the 82nd year of his age. The deceased was a son of the late William Henry Lewis. At twenty-one he was master of the brig Micmac and for over twenty years following that he was master of many of the best ships sailing from the port of Yarmouth. His last command was when he retired from that vessel he remained ashore. During these years, however, he sailed to practically every part of the world and in every way was most successful. After quitting the sea, Captain Lewis, with his brother, the late Coun. N. B. Lewis, established the firm of Lewis & Co., at Salmon River, Digby County, where they carried on a general mercantile business in connection with an extensive shipbuilding yard. There they built several large ships of the finest type which, by their superior construction and beautiful lines, the firm's name was known throughout the maritime world.

ROBERT N. MAGEE

The death occurred suddenly at his home in West Roxbury, Mass., of Robert N. Magee, at the age of seventy-five years. Deceased left the home of his birth in Greenwood, Kings County, at the age of nineteen, to seek opportunities in the United States. Filling several places with credit, gaining the esteem of those by whom he was employed, and finally entering business for himself, which he carried on for many years, he had among his associates many who were prominent men in the financial life of Boston. He was regarded as a man of sterling character, honest and upright in his dealings with all whom he came in contact, and was highly respected. For the past twenty-five years he made his home with his sister, Mrs. E. D. Sanborn, of West Roxbury, Mass., where he was loved for his loving nature and which endeared him to many of his neighbors. The home is sad in the loss that has come to them. He leaves to mourn, three sisters and three brothers: Mr. Henry Magee, of Auburn, N.S.;

MRS. LOIS ALMA ERNST

There passed away on November 29th, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Croise, of Cherryfield, Annapolis County, Lois A. wife of the late Freeman Ernst, aged 24 years. She leaves a little son, two years old, a father and mother, two sisters and three brothers to mourn the loss of her who will be sadly missed in the home and community. Mrs. Ernst was a member of the Lutheran Church and was actively associated with its interests, being organist for some time and teacher in the Sunday School. The Rev. Mr. Dressell conducted the services, assisted by Rev. G. C. Durke. The remains were laid beside her husband in the Baptist cemetery at Dalhousie East.

MRS. SARAH BURNS

The death took place in Newton, Mass., on Sunday, December 4th, of Sarah Ann, widow of Michael Burns, of Clementsport, Annapolis County, and the remains arrived by the Prince Arthur Tuesday morning and were forwarded to that place. Mrs. Burns was one hundred years, one month and twenty-four days of age and had Messrs. Charles W. and Thomas J. Masee, of Greenwood, N.S.; Mrs. D. B. Armstrong, of Torbrook, N.S.; Mrs. E. Sanborn (with whom he resided) and Mrs. John W. Small, of Greenwood, N.S. He was laid to rest in Forest Hill cemetery, West Roxbury, Mass.

BELLEVUE-KINNEY

A pretty, but quiet wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hicks, Bridgetown, Wednesday, December 7th, when their sister, Josephine Latelle, daughter of Mrs. Mary L. Kinney, was united in marriage to Mr. George U. Bellevue, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Waterville, N.S. The bride was given away by her brother-in-law, while her little nephews, Henry Davis and Watson Allan Hicks, performed the duties of page and ring bearer. The room was prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The bridal party stood under an arch of green asparagus with white chrysanthemums. The bride looked charming in a white broadcloth suit with black picture hat. Her going away costume was of brown broad cloth with hat to match. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Freestone, assisted by Rev. W. H. Langille. The wedding march was played by Mrs. J. H. Freestone. Among the out of town guests were Miss Jane Kinney, of San Francisco, cousin of the bride, and G. W. C. Kinney, of Calgary, brother of the bride.

MRS. ADELIA NICHOLS

At Kentville, on Friday morning, December 2nd, Adelia, widow of the late George I. Nichols, passed from this life to join the loved ones who have gone before. The death took place after a long and painful illness, Wednesday night at his home in Aylesford of Joseph Cahill, aged sixty-seven years. Mr. Cahill was a man who was held in high esteem by every one who knew him, and his death is a distinct loss to the community he lived in. He was a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist Church. His first wife was a Miss McKenzie, of P. E. Island, and his second, who survives him, was a widow Wells and daughter of the late Joshua Morris, of Harbottle. FROM THE JUNGLE
Redmac Has Arrived to the Heal the Sick

Those who are sufferers, now have a chance to be made well. Dyspeptics, Rheumatics, and any one ailing will have a chance to regain their health. To have Dyspepsia is to be miserable, untold agony after eating or trying to eat, your lot may be different since the introduction of Redmac. Weak nerves, irritable, and out of sorts, run down, pain in the back, melancholy, shortness of breath, bad memory; all the result of starvation of the blood and nerves. Redmac is here, and you may put yourself on the road to recovery and that very quickly. If you are hardly able to look after your work, if your appetite is bad, your stomach out of order, if your back hurts you, if you have headaches, then you will be grateful to Redmac for ever coming your way.

Mrs. Falton of Montreal, writes: I have been an awful sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years. I would almost die after eating the pain in the pit of my stomach was so bad. Redmac was recommended to me by a friend. I tried one bottle and the relief I got was wonderful. I have taken six bottles altogether, and I think it is the most wonderful medicine that was ever made. I can eat anything now, and am in perfect health. If you are suffering from any of the above, so to your druggist right away and get a bottle of Redmac. It is purely vegetable, made from herbs and roots, gathered from foreign countries. The benefit you will receive will surprise you.

A REDUCED DEATH RATE

(Issued by the Department of the Public Health, Nova Scotia.)

For eleven years our death rate showed no tendency to decline, but now we have returns for a twelfth year (1920), and they show the lowest death rate of any year but one since we began collecting vital statistics. Rates fluctuate considerably from year to year, and it is better to compare five year periods rather than single years. For our first five year period, the death rate averaged 14.9; for the second five year period, 15.8 (this would have been about 15.2 had it not been for the Halifax Disaster. Then came 1919, the influenza year, when the rate was 17.8. Last year the rate fell to 14.0.

In our first statistical year our death rate was almost the same as that of Ontario. Since that time the Ontario rate has declined almost steadily, and is now ten per cent. less than it was in that first year. Our rate, on the contrary, was increasing until 1920 came.

A reduction of ten per cent in our death rate means a saving of nearly a thousand lives a year. We can easily do better by giving proper attention to public health measures. Now that we have made a beginning, let us keep it up.

ROMANCE OF A CANADIAN APPLE

This is a true story of the famous Canadian apple, the Mackintosh Red, grown all over Canada and the United States. It is related by P. J. Carey, Dominion Fruit Branch Demonstrator of Ottawa, who is in charge of the Federal Exhibit at the Imperial Fruit Show.

Years ago John Mackintosh, a sturdy Scottish settler, was walking round the homestead he had made for himself on the northern shores of the St. Lawrence River. Every stick and stone of the building was his, and laid with his own hands. As he was looking at his barn with a feeling of pride he observed a small sapling growing out of the ground. It was a nice sapling, straight and healthy looking, and thereafter for three or four years Mr. Mackintosh treated it carefully.

In time the sapling grew into a tree and blossomed and he watched

ORIGIN OF NAME NOVA SCOTIA

(Truro News)

Even before Champlain had founded Quebec, a group of adventurous Huguenots from France had, in 1604, made a little settlement on an island in the mouth of the St. Croix River. As more shiploads of colonists came to settle in New France, the lands along the Atlantic Ocean, developed a flourishing civilization. All the territory now occupied by New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and part of the State of Maine bore the name of "Acadie."

In the struggle between the French and the British for possession of Canada, "Acadie" was a constant storm centre. At a period when the British were in command of the land bordering on the Atlantic, Sir William Alexander, afterwards Earl of Stirling, in 1621, obtained from the King a grant of the whole of "Acadie." As the new owner was a patriotic Scot, he made it known that thereafter the land should be known as Nova Scotia or "New Scotland."

The year 1713 saw the end of "Acadie" as a French country; and the name of Nova Scotia was permanently given to all the territory now occupied by the Maritime Provinces. It was not for many years later that Nova Scotia came to mean only that province which now bears this name and that New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island became separate entities.
