LOST IN THE WOODS

Aged Man of Torbrook Lost in the Woods.—
Searching Party Find Him after Three Days and Three Nights Exposure to Hunger and Cold

The report comes from Middleton of the loss and recovery of an aged citizen of Torbrook, Samuel Bartheaux, aged seventy-five, who was lost in the woods from Wednesday at noon until Saturday afternoon. He was very weak when found by the searching party but was seated by a stream of water and was slaking his thirst by drinking from his hat. The story is as follows:—

Wednesday last Mr. Bartheaux with his wife and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ward visited the home of Martin Uhlman. After dinner Mr. Uhlman and Mr. Bartheaux went to the barn, and that was the last seen of the latter. It was supposed that Bartheaux had gone to his wood-lot near by, and not returning towards night an alarm was raised. Little could be done on account of the approach of night.

The next morning searching parties were organized, also on Friday when it is estimated that over five hundred men were scouring the woods. Both days were without result. On Saturday morning tracks were noticed about five miles from where Mr. Bartheaux was found, and from their character were thought to be those of a person making very short and feeble steps. Following up this clue the searching party came upon the lost man in the condition described. He saluted them with "Hi boys!" While some of the party went on ahead for medical assistance Mr. Bartheaux was carried out of the woods on the shoulders of his tired but rejoicing friends and was received a royal reception at the home of John Thompson, Bloomington, where he was given restoratives and food and put to bed. At last accounts he was making satisfactory recovery, after his sixty-five hour fast and exposure.

Lime-Sulphur Plant at Kentville

A busy scene presented itself at the Niagara Spray Co. plant in Kentville last week. The work of installing the machinery for the manufacturing of a concentrated Lime Sulphur spray having been completed the steam was turned on and the works set in motion. Judging from the appearance about the plant the Niagara Spray Co. have by expenditure of a lot of money provided for the wants of the fruit growers of the valley, by being in a position to give them a Lime Sulphur spray at a big reduction on last spring's prices. It is only by manufacturing on a large scale that any concern can bring prices down to the lowest minimum rate.

Mr. F. A. Fraser, who installed this plant having completed his work here for the time being, left for New York State where he understands he is to build another plant for the Niagara Spray Co. of that place, after which Mr. Fraser will return to Nova Scotia to make the material for the Company here.

While looking over this new equipment last Wednesday we were much impressed with the outlay made, more particularly in the large tanks erected to run a business of this sort. There are six tanks all told, some of them holding seven thousand gallons each. A large steam boiler carrying one hundred and twenty-five pounds pressure, with engine, an Otis Fenon elevator of Toronto to carry the crude Sulphur and Lime to the third story, preparatory to mixing. Steam pipes, pulleys and shafting all through the building with a Dynamo from the General Electric Co. of Toronto to supply their own electricity. A railway siding to the works will take six cars at a time for either unloading the crude material or sending out the manufactured Lime Sulphur solution. We were informed by Mr. Fraser that Mr. J. I. Gates of this town has contracted to make two thousand forty-gallon barrels to ship the out-put over the valley.

Our only wish to the Niagara Spray Co. is that they may sell all they are preparing to make, and that the Nova Scotia apple crop next year will make up for this season's deficit, and that the fruit may be free from that so dreaded fungus which has meant so many thousands of dollars loss to the fruit growers in the past.—Acadian Orchardist.

Sons of Temperance District Division

Annapolis County District Division met in regular session in Olive Branch Division Hall on Thursday, Oct. 6th, at 3 p.m. There were present, representatives from Clarence, Round Hill, Bridgetown, Belleisle, Granville Centre and Hampton. It was a matter of deep regret that L. W. Elliott, a valued worker at such meetings, was absent, through the loss of his home by fire, and a resolution of sympathy was passed and ordered to be forwarded to brother Elliott. Reports from various sections indicated a lack of interest in the lodge room, in some cases, through the summer months. It was gratifying to know that brother Warren was at present receiving several dormant Divisions in the western end of the county.

A public meeting was held in Warren's Hall in the evening when a good programme was submitted. But the small attendance at this gathering manifested clearly, a deplorable indifference to the cause of temperance in the town.

Obituary.

MRS. THOMAS H. FOSTER

After a lingering illness, borne with Christian patience and fortitude, Elizabeth A. wife of Thomas H. Foster of Bridgetown, passed away at her home here on Saturday night, October 8th.

Mrs. Foster was born at Hampton and was married at the early age of seventeen. She was the mother of eleven children, of whom now only three survive. Joseph I. Foster and Jas. F. Foster of Bridgetown and Mrs. T. W. Templeman of Hampton. On May last Mr. and Mrs. Foster celebrated their "Golden Wedding" anniversary but the illness of Mrs. Foster prevented carrying out their plans. Two sisters, Mrs. Staples of Lynn and Mrs. David Foster of Hampton, and two brothers, Hanley and Jesse Foster of Lynn also survive.

The funeral took place on Tuesday morning. A few friends gathered at the home where prayers were said by Rev. N. A. McNeill, pastor of the Baptist Church, and a hymn "Abide with Me" was sung by the choir. A beautiful wreath was laid upon the casket by the Women's Aid Society as a token of regard for their sister member, also a floral piece with the word "Mother" from her children.

The casket was then conveyed to Hampton, accompanied by friends and relatives, and was met on arrival at Hampton by members of the Sons of Temperance in a body which preceded the hearse to the church. Here a large concourse of people were assembled to pay their last tribute of respect and esteem. The funeral service was conducted by Pastor McNeill of Bridgetown church, the pastorate of the Hampton church being now vacant, and he delivered a most impressive address from Rev. XIV. 13. At the conclusion of the service, the remains were interred in the family lot in the Hampton cemetery.

Much sympathy is expressed for the bereaved husband in the loss of his life-long companion, and for the children and relatives in the sad loss they have sustained.

HATTIE LEBLANC'S TRIAL

A Boston despatch says:—State Detective Edward Byrnes, who arrived here Tuesday from Arichat, N. S., the former home of Hattie LeBlanc, the seventeen-year-old girl charged with the murder of Clarence Glover, a Waltham landradyman, said he found nothing in Cape Breton which could be used against her at the trial. Capt. Peter King and several others of Arichat arrived to testify as to Hattie's good character in that town. The date of the trial has not been fixed, however, and it may not be held before January. At the trial over Glover's will, Mrs. Glover, also a former resident of Arichat, charged that King and Hattie had conducted themselves improperly there. King says the charge is baseless.

No Bill Found in the Pride Case

Mr. Justice Meagher Sent Grand Jurors Back, But They Reported No Change.

(Halifax Chronicle Oct. 8th.)

The Grand Jury in the Supreme Criminal Court yesterday found No Bill in the manslaughter case of the King vs. Pride.

The finding of the case caused some surprise.

After a half-minute's pause, Judge Meagher said: "Are you really serious, gentlemen, about that finding? I confess my amazement. I do wish you to go back and reconsider it. No case can be more serious. The responsibility of your finding, gentlemen, is with you; thank God, not with me. I'm afraid you tried the case. It's absolutely frightful, as it was one of the clearest and strongest cases that ever went before a Grand Jury. People better get to the country quick, as it is not safe to live in the City. I was never more serious in my life as to what I said to the Grand Jury. You had better go back and consider the case."

A quarter of an hour later, the Grand Jury returned to the Court, and when asked by the clerk whether they had any further presentations to make, the foreman handed up the papers in the Pride case, reiterating their finding of "No Bill."

When this was announced the Judge remarked, "You needn't remain any longer this term." Later he said in open Court that "the finding of the Grand Jury is not going to end the case by any means. If in any way that woman can be put on bail to appear before the Grand Jury next term it shall be done."

CURRY—WEATHERSPOON

The Methodist Church at Granville Ferry on the twenty-first ult. was the scene of a very pretty social event when Miss Lena, daughter of W. H. Weather spoon of the Ferry became the bride of Joseph Curry of Windsor, N. S. There was a number of spectators present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mr. Davis, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Mr. Whitman and Rev. Mr. Raymond of Annapolis. After the ceremony and collation served at the home of the bride, the happy couple took the train for a wedding tour. The town and Ferry were decorated with flags in honor of the event.

VICTORIA, THE BEAUTIFUL

Ideal Climate and Temperature as Residential Site,—Fruit Lands of British Columbia Booming; Good Agricultural and Mining Possibilities.

From Agassiz, which is seventy miles from Vancouver, we completed our journey toward the coast with our canyons or passes. Our first stop was at Harrison Mills, a small mill town built at union of the Fraser and Harrison river, which drains Harrison Lake and carries off the surplus of nature's remedies from the Hot Springs.

From here, too, connection is made with the Chilliwack Valley, another district that is being particularly boomed, just now for fruit raising and butter making and other things, with a town by same name as a most desirable locality to settle in if one wishes to retire or live happy in an ideal climate and in the midst of beautiful scenery and mountains. This valley is situated on the lower Fraser river and contains 55,000 acres.

The Board of Trade of the district, —by the way, every place out here seems to have one of these important business organizations, and they seem very much alive and seized with the one great desire of bettering their condition by advertising and letting the world know readily what it could only find out very slowly of its own accord.

The Chilliwack Board gave us ample literature regarding the possibilities of this section and even the local Methodist minister had been impressed by his loyalty and desire for good citizens to issue, for the benefit of delegates to the General Conference, a circular letter calling our attention to their famous valley, prefacing his story with the remark that he had no land to sell, neither was he in the real estate business, but did it simply to remind us that Chilliwack has inducements to offer, according to their way of thinking, which few places in Canada can offer.

Cleared land here is worth from $200 to $500 per acre and uncleared on the mountain foot hills about half that amount. This valley exported 500,000 lbs of butter last year and it sold for thirty cents per pound on the average.

A Chilliwack farmer that I met at the Harrison Hot Springs, told me he had recently sold his farm for $18,000. He had gone there twenty-five years ago, direct from Ireland, and taken up two hundred acres of free lands, cleared them and was now sitting on the hotel piazza "smoking his pipe of clay" and drinking nature's hot salts for "rheumatism."

The British Columbia apple crop is marketed almost wholly in boxes and is estimated by pounds or tons, not barrels as with us. Their crop in 1909 would be less than 100,000 barrels when converted to our measure but it looks as if they got as much for them as we get from our crop of four times that quantity. I saw poor red astrachans selling in Calgary at $2.25 per box of less than one bushel or retailing for three pounds for twenty-five cents.

This year's crop I learned was already sold and that prices vary but little from year to year. In conversation with a wholesale fruit dealer in Calgary I was told that they got from $5.00 to 5.50 per barrel for all their apples last spring. It will be remembered that at that time ours were bringing one dollar or less in England or given away and wasted if our refrigerator cars could be converted into frost proof ones in the cold weather, as they are proof from heat in the summer. It would be worth while for our Fruit Growers' Association to try this Canadian market in a season, that was as unfortunate for the apple crop as last year was.

The three provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta with a population of a million and more are wholly without fruit and with their wheat crop always as good as cash can afford to pay for them. These provinces are bound to grow even faster than British Columbia apple trees and will continue to be a good market for this western fruit and in this respect the fruit fields of the west have an advantage over us, so far at least.

The fruit lands here at present seem to be in the hands of land syndicates and real estate agents and speculators, who are booming them everywhere. I saw lines of fruit and great patches of mixed fruit orchards that looked very tempting, as far east as Winnipeg and at Edmonton and Calgary displayed in shop windows where lots were offered for sale. These lands without trees were offered for $400 per acre and the buyer was given the privilege of using the irrigation canal in the bargain.

I met an Indiana lumber dealer, who had just been west and purchased forty acres at these figures and was arranging to put trees out next spring. I invited him to come to Nova Scotia and for one thousand dollars an acre we would sell him an orchard in full bearing with bigger trees than he would likely ever see in British Columbia, and where irrigation was always turned on and provided for by nature. But he was too enthusiastic over these fertile little valleys and protected areas to be enticed elsewhere.

To return again to our route—below Harrison Mills our track follows the Fraser river valley and we pass some dyked lands. The dyke has been built to prevent the river overflowing in the spring freshets and not on account of tides.

The land seems very fertile, the oat fields now cut and the grain stock seems an immense crop. An Ontario M. P. in our car tells me he
