

De Beau and Miss Gibson, about women they were severally interested in. Portions of a letter from Miss Murray to the mission bands, written to Miss Boa, were read by her. One part was exceedingly touching, where she spoke of rising early to pray Sunday mornings, so that her life, actions, looks and words might tell for Jesus, as that was the only means she had as yet of speaking to the benighted people; how children came weighted with jewels to the mission school, New Year's day, to receive gifts and prizes, which consisted of books, hymn-books, cloth for jackets, dolls (from the Toronto mission bands), fruit and sweets.

After a verse of another hymn Mrs. Greenly read an interesting paper entitled "Flashes of Light from India."

Misses Clarke and Barker told of the Indian Mission at St. Peter's reserve, where Mr. Davis is missionary. Here, on the 11th of January last, the first Indian Baptist church was organized with a membership of thirty-one.

Mrs. Simpson and Miss Scott contributed a duet, which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Pridlestone spoke of a plan adopted in the Grace Church Circle which had proved successful, viz., the selection of names alphabetically to contribute towards the programme. For instance at the first meeting, all the ladies whose name began with the letter "A" took part, second meeting "B," and so on.

Mrs. Therrien represented the French interests, and gave a most enjoyable paper on the "Encouraging Features of the Day," mentioning Papineau's conversion, the establishment of a new French paper, quickening of spiritual life in the churches, and closing with good news from Sorel, St. Eli, and Maskinonge.

The meeting was brought to a close, by singing a verse of "Blest be the tie that binds" and prayer by Mrs. Claxton.
