

4. How did he show his loving mind?
By dying on the cross.
5. How did he show his peaceable mind?
By patiently bearing cruel treatment.
6. How has he been exalted?
He has been given a name above every name.
7. What does true lowliness do?
Lifts up and exalts.
8. What shall every tongue yet confess?
That Christ is Lord of all.

IF YOU LOVE ME.

"If you love me," Jesus said,
 "You must show it;"
 If you really love the Saviour,
 You will know it;
 If you love your little brother,
 Your dear father, or your mother,
 You don't have to ask another
 If it's so,
 For you know
 That your hearts are bound together.

Little Pearl is always as happy as can be when she gets her mother to sit with her and look over the pictures in the old family photograph album. There are pictures in it of both her grandpapa and her two grandmamas, of papa and mamma, and seven uncles and aunts, besides five sisters and brothers, and I couldn't tell you how many cousins, so you see little Pearl has lots of relations.

There is also a picture in the album of her great-grandmother taken seventy years ago, when the old lady was just a little girl of ten. It is a funny old-fashioned picture and interests Pearl very much, for she cannot understand how the dear old lady who lives at auntie's and wears the snowy white caps and uses a cane, could ever have been a little girl and played with the skipping-rope which she holds in the picture.
