

METEORIC STONES ARE NOW known to descend periodically on certain zones of the earth. Almost all of these meteoroids contain iron, and most of them contain a proportion of the metal known to commerce as "Nickel." This metal, separated from its ores, and alloyed with more ductile metals, produces the celebrated article known as

NICKELITE SILVER.

Spoons and forks made of this metal have almost all the properties of silver, being hard, white, and tasteless, yet they can be sold for less than one-tenth of the price. All articles made of this metal are stamped "R. W. & Co., Nickelite," and are highly warranted. No others are genuine. For Hotels, Restaurants, and private families they are unequalled. To be had of all dealers.
