Complaints against the existing school system of Upper Canada are not confined to Catholics, as the following extract from a communication to the Hamilton Spectator will suffice to show :-

Sir, Dr. Hurlburt, at the recent Convention, was right when he said that he " considered it but justice that Roman Catholics should have separate schools."

[I have little in common with the Roman Catholic, though I cordially agree with him in the belief that Education should have religion for its basis. It is no business of mine to school him into what I conceive to be a sound scriptural creed, and to tell him that if he fails to espouse my views, his hopes for the future are dependent for their existence on an insecure foundation.

Enough for me to believe that he is a conscientious man; and that agreeably to the word of God, as he understands it, he is desirous to train up his children in the way they should go.

And I will add that, in the rigid performance of his duty, he is characterised by less pomp and pretence than are the patrons and leaders of cump meetings, tea meetings, and love feasts. Yes, verily; in the one case you have dignity, decorum, and apparently becoming solemnity; in the other you have upstart conversions, questionable experiences, unearthly howlings, and outrageous exhibitions, doing violence to human nature, and calling for the interposition of the civil magistrate.

For the aggrandisement of this latter class of would-be pious religionists, the Common Schools, as at present constituted, serve a good purpose.

The youth of Canada repair to the school in quest of bread, and they must be content with a stone; and thus they grow up utter strangers to the doctrines of "pure and undefiled religion," and become an easy prey to the nostrums of the unvarnished quack, or the maniacal ravings and writhings of a Methodist camp preacher.

To better this mournful state of things, let religion have its legitimate place in our Common Schools;— let the granting of third class certificates cease and determine for ever; let separate shoots be erected and put into operation, quam primum, wherever they are needed and wanted; let Catholic and Protestant enter into an honorable rivalry whereby the best interests of the rising generation may be most effi-ciently promoted; and then, but not till then, may Canada aspire after the possession of that righteousness which alone exalteth a nation.

SCHURBAN.

Anornen Viorisi.-On Thursday an inquest was held by Dr. Mackintosh, which elicited some of the strongest traits of human depravity, and brought to light a very touching scene. A woman of the name of Stuart, married, only about twenty-two years of age, and the mother of as bright a little boy of two and a half years as one could well imagine, was found dead in her own bed on the afternoon of the previous day, from a fit brought on, as evidence went to show, by habitual drunkenness. On being expostulated with by a neighbor, only a day or two before, this woman said it was of no use as "she would drink while she lived." She had received some money from her husband the day before her death; had been seen in bed, intoxicated, but not very drunk, and when the door was forced open the next day, she was found dead, with the poor little child, whose cries had attracted the neighbors, at her head vainly endeavoring to arouse his now inanimate mother .- Hamilton Speciator.

A family in Milwaukee it is stated to have lately evinced unmistakeable signs of hydrophobia caused by using the milk of a cow which had been bitten by a mad dog.

Balloist Pictorial of 24th July says:—Realizing the true sense of responsibility attaching to the Editor of and Publisher, of a widely circulated journal, we should deem it little less than a crime to recommend any medical compound the real virtue of which we could not conscientiously indorss. Messrs. Seth W. Fowle & Co.,—Gentlemen:—Two years ago, a sudden and violent attack upon my Lungs confined me to my bed for several weeks, and when I recovered, I was so much oppressed by difficulty in breathing, that I was often unable to sleep or rest upon a bed by night. The suffering was extreme, and judging from the inefficacy of the remedies used, I supposed the disease incurable. Being persuaded to try a bottle of Wistar's Bulsam of Wild Cherry, without confidence in its efficacy, I found the difficulty almost entirely removed before one bottle was used up. Sympathy with my fellow sufferers induces me to make this public statement, and recommend the article to others similarly afflicted.

SYSTEM.

EVERY great movement is usually the result of systematic action. The sudden and impulsive offorts of men will sometimes carry out the object in view, but seldom are such results to be recognised by a permanency of character. The laws were es-tablished on and are administered by system; cities are built, counties marked out, roads formed, farms cropped and harvests saved, all by certain processes or systems. Remove system for one week or one day and mark the result; but you cannot, for it is the very life of society. Without order and system the various grades of society would commingle into one confused mass; the worse dregs would be stirred up, and those wild passions let loose would spread terror and disorder everywhere. System governs the army and the civil codes without which no nation could stand; it is the lever by which individuals and nations rise to their proper positions; it controls the steam and directs the ressel's course; it built the pyramids midst a deluge of sand; it makes signals under the wide Atlantic; and that prodigious structure which lies across the great St. Lawrence, resting on its mighty piers, enveloped in sheets of iron, bolted, and locked perhaps till the end of time, is one of the greatest triumphs of system associated with genius and art, of which this age can boast. System is as essential in commerce as it is in engineering, architecture, or navi-

OSICAST STEEL CHURCH BELLS ... "OUR MUSICAL FRIEND."

THE Subscribers having been appointed AGENTS for CANADA, for the sale of CAST STEEL CHURCH and FACTORY BELLS, are now prepared to execute Orders for them to any extent that may be required.

These Bells are made by Messrs. NAYLOR, VICK-ERS & CO., of Sheffield, England. They have a purc, melodious sound, peculiar to steel, owing to the elas ticity of the metal the sound penetrates to a great distance.

Cast Steel Bells are much lighter than those made of ordinary bell-metal of the same size, and are consequently more easily rung; and owing to the density and also to to the well-known strength of the material, it is almost impossible to break them with ordinary usage.

These bells have been successfully introduced in some of the largest cities and towns in the United States and Canada, for Fire Alarms, Churches, Factories, &c.,; and being sold much cheaper than Composition Bells, this fact in connection with their lightness, strength and sweetness of tone, cannot fail to commend them to public favor.

in quality and power of tone, with greater facility for placing and ringing them, from their diminished weight and a very material saving in price. CHIMES CAST TO ORDER WITH GREAT ACCURACY.
