CANADIAN PACIFIC ANNUAL IS TODAY

Question to Be Considered is Increase of Capital Stock.

In Montreal the Canadian Pacific Railay Company will hold its thirty-third meeting today. The main point interest at this meeting will be the stock of the company.

At the present time this is fixed at 60.000,000, but it is understood that an addition to this figure of $75,000,000 will be asked. Thus the capital stock would be brought to $335,000,000.

It would then be equal to the amount for which the sanction of the government is already attained. Even the this addition is autholized today, the same will not be issued without the authority of the shareholders.

An increased amount of business was transacted on the Standard Exchange yesterday morning. The floor presented a more animated scene than has been the case of late. It appears as the the public is commencing to take an interest in the market. Timiskaming sold at 8½. Dome Extension was active; it sold at 5 in four different parcels, The number of shares to exchange was 1900. Bailey for a small lot brought 5½. Hollinger was fairly busy; the opening figure was 17.90. After selling again at the price, a drop of 2½ points transpired. Beaver brought 21 for 1000 shares.

Start Restricted Business

Some light has been cast upon the subject of a possible opening of the Toronto Stock Exchange. A meeting of the members was held yesterday It begins to look as the business of a restricted nature would be conducted. These restrictions would make it only possible to deal in interlisted stocks. Minimum prices would be fixed. There would be no public market, such as before the closing, but an avenue would be provided whereby a certain amount of business could be done.

It appears to be the intention

It appears to be the intention to conduct business along these lines as soon as the necessary regulations can be formed and passed.

London Takes Action Regarding Sale of Securities -New York Pleased.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Business in Throg-norton street in American securities is lead owing to the decision of the ex-change committee to fix the minimum cash price at an equivalent to the New York closing prices of July 30. Dealing in time bargains and options are pro-nibited.

at panic prices.

While many of the quotations are now below the parity of July 30, it is understood that Pennsylvania, Reading, Denver and Rio Grandes, and Wabash are slightly above these prices, and therefore it is assumed that business will quickly revive. It is difficult to ascertain what the exact equivalent of the American prices of July 30 are, as American exchange on that date was nominal. The feature of yesterday's dealings was a strong demand for Russian and Japanese bonds.

New York Pleased.

New York Pleased.

New York Pleased.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—New York Stock Exchange governors, bankers, and the financial community generally have received with enthusiasm the news from the London Stock Exchange that it would not permit transactions in American securities at prices below the English equivalent of the American price at the closing July 30.

Financial opinion interpreted this action as a long step toward the reopening of the exchange within a reasonable time, a step that could be taken, it was said, without co-operation with London. It meant, according to authorities, that the great London market, which is the best index of European sentiment on American securities, will not press a flood of liquidation on this market.

This expression of the growing confidence abroad in American as well as British securities served to bear out the cables that international bankers here have been receiving. Some of the biggest international bankers have been informed by their English and French partners and correspondents that financial sentiment in their countries is steadily improving. It was said that French holders of American securities are not pressing them at all for sale.

English holders, it is said, are not in the least anxious to sell Americans, and will do so only to the extent of meeting pressing demands for cash.
