

The Star Life Assurance Company of London.

CAPITAL, £100,000, Sterling.

NINETY PER CENT of the Profits divided among the Policy holders, entitled to participate. The Bonus declared in 1848, amounted to 62 per cent on premiums paid in three years, and it is expected those in 1853, will at least equal the former. The class of persons hitherto insured in the "Star" being generally of the most regular living, the average of deaths has been much under what was allowed for. The assured have liberty to pass and repass from this Province to Europe at all seasons of the year in first class vessels, free of extra charge. The rates are as low as in any other respectable Company in England; the general regulations and conditions formed upon principles of equity and liberality so as to encourage assurance among all classes of the community.

Annual rates for assurance of £100 for life, payable at death of the assured:

AGE	WITH PROFITS.	WITHOUT PROFITS.
20	£1 17 4	£1 15 1
25	2 2 7	2 0 1
30	2 8 9	2 5 10
35	2 15 11	2 12 6
40	3 4 11	3 1 0
50	4 10 6	4 5 2
60	7 4 9	6 14 11

The attention of the Public and particularly of Wesleyans is requested to the above highly favorable conditions, privileges and rates, and as a life Policy can only be obtained when in the enjoyment of health, life being uncertain, delays are dangerous, no time therefore so favorable as the present. Prospectuses and all necessary blanks, with Medical Fees, furnished gratis, by the Agent at Halifax.
