board of education, and I consider the board the more important of the two. The council only looks after the wants and progress of the city, while the board of education attends to the wel-fare of the rising generation," he said. Physical perfection in our children, Dr. Noble contended, was his ideal. To bring this about two things especially were necessary-pure air and freedom from contagious disease. Dr. Noble al-so spoke in favor of the Bioor-street viaduct.

Ald. O'Neill objected to Mr. Risk's inference that there was a civic over-draft of $75,000 this year. JOHN O'NEIL, 184 Wilton-ayenue, nanufacturer, by James Greer and W. Calgey.

"I have interested myself largely in furthering the project of extending Parliament-street to meet the propos-ed Bloor-street viaduct," said the alderman. "A layman should not be at the head of the medical in-spection of our schools," said he. That should be entrusted to a fully qualified physicia, whether lady or sentleman. To figure out why there are six aldermanic nofinations in the Second Ward would be somewhat of a problem. At the nomination meeting held last night in Winchester-street school there wasn't the slightest trace of any discord between the gentlemen seeking office, and from the complimentary

Four will contest for aldermanic hon-ors in the fourth ward, and three for the board of education. David W. Clark presided as returning officer. Only twice were speakers interrupted and the Poet Sabine maintained a dignified silence thruout. The interruptions came from a young man who didn't like Candidate Levee's attitude towards non-public school supporters, and from a promi-nent military officer, who objected to Trustee Smith's boasted curtailment of military drill to 30 minutes a week.

Trustee Smith's boasted curtailment of military drill to 30 minutes a week. Commeford, Weston, Levee and Smith were loudest cheered. Mr. Commeford first thanked the electors for nearly electing him last year. He repudiated insinuations that had been circulated that he was back-ment seemed bent on inconveniencing the public. He took it that they were endeavoring to force expropriation on the public; but this would be ill-ad-vised.

We didn't this would be ill-ad-vised.
W. H. Smith said he had attended every meeting of the board of educa-tion and every meeting of the property committee, of which he was chairman during the past year, during which seven new schools had been erected and 190 rooms added to the accommo-dation. He was now after a central commercial night school and commer-cial night classes in surrounding points. George R. Sweeny, as a new alder-manic candidate, criticized Ald Mc-Murrich's suggestion of "putting up with the street railway inconvenience." We didn't have to; we could get a gov-enment commission that would fix the-up. He had the novel suggestion of overcoming the restrictions on smokers by introducing "double deckers" with a smokers' compartment on the top.
R. D. Fairbairn was in favor of a central night school and medical in-spection. There were probably 5 per cent. of Toronto children who ahould be taken out of the general night class-es and specifically educated.
Ald. Weston craved re-election be-rause he had served his apprenticeship and was now in a position to give abundant results. He had never missed a meeting of the council nor of the works committee, which had spent $4.-200,000 in the past three months, which should bring the electors to the real-zation that they could not be too care-fie in selecting their representatives. Five thousand drains had been laid down during the year. He had been heify instrumental in getting the 7 per cent. knocked off the cost. It would be his endeavor to get the thing down to actual cost. W. H. Smith said he had attende to actual cost. The meeting was then addressed by Mayor Geary and Controller Church, who were enthusiastically cheered.
