Can Thus Give Immigrants Special Rates to Offset Other Canadian Advantages.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, June 4.—Postmaster-General smith of the Commonwealth says: "The Smith of the Commonwealth says: "The Canadian emigration boom awakened STR. as to the needs of doing something to push Australia. Australia can offer as satisfactory prospects to the emigrant from Great Britain as Canada. Canada is nearer, but it must be remembered the railways of Canada are in private hands, while the railways of Australia are in the hands of the state, The result of this is that when the emigrant arrives in Canada the cost of asit to destination in the interior to the idividual or country is greater than if he had gone to Australia, where special facilities are afforded immi-grants on railways. These things ought be known, and preparations are being made with a view to placing the facts before intending emigrants."
