

MORE WORRY FOR VANZANT LETTER STOLEN FROM DESK

Should Have Been Handed Into Commission—Further Conflict of Evidence.

Commissioner Judd intimated yesterday that the Vanzant enquiry was practically over, though he might in the course of two or three weeks sit for a day to hear argument. Yesterday counsel were not ready to go on, and it was suggested that the argument be submitted in writing. Mr. Baird and Mr. Higgins were willing, but Mr. Hearn, for Guard Connolly, made a strong protest.

The charges of improper conduct made by Edith Elton against the governor were emphatically denied by him. He had gone to the house, but it was to get more information concerning the conspiracy to accomplish his dismissal from the jail. He admitted giving the girl $3 for the information. She had written to him, holding him up for a man of $10. The letter, he alleged, had been stolen from his desk during his recent illness. He admitted having the letter in his possession after the investigation commenced, although he had been ordered to produce all letters and papers.

The governor testified that he had conducted sales for prisoners at the instance of the detective department, but had never made a cent out of this business. He had allowed the matron to take a female prisoner downtown, because the prisoner was able to furnish cash bail and just wanted to go to the bank for it. The money was immediately forwarded to the crown attorney. Witness denied all charges of improper conduct. He had never been at the Elton house until he went in response to a letter from her telling that Brown and Morrison wished her to sign an affidavit concerning him. He replied, asking the girl to meet him at his lawyer's office, but she did not turn up. He gave her $3 for her trouble in giving him a declaration. The charges of misconduct with others, he termed absolutely false.

Guard Harris, he said, was lazy, and had to be reprimanded, hence his hostile story. Vanzant admitted that he had let a prisoner go because he handed over a town-ticket as security for paying his fine. The commissioner wanted to know if there was a rule for this. The governor explained that it was the custom, and that there was no rule against it.

In reference to the disappearance of the letter, witness opined that Guards Harris and Addy were dishonest. He had reported them to the sheriff, but no action had been taken. He admitted having failed to report to the inspector as the rules require.

Mrs. Vanzant stated that her husband had shown this letter from Edith Elton to her, and that she had cautioned him to put it away safely, and at the same time remarked that it looked like a trap. The contents of the letter, as far as she could remember, asked for a loan of $10, and also said that Brown and someone else were after her (Elton) to lay charges against the governor.

Steward McMillan and Guard Harris stated in rebuttal that the stories that they had told were true, and that the evidence of the governor and the witness for the defence was incorrect.

Mr. Hearn wanted to put in some photos showing different views of the office at the jail.

"There is nothing in it," said the commissioner, "you are just trying to waste time."

The counsel hesitated for a minute, and then said that he wanted to call evidence put in as it might be required later.

Guard Addy swore that in no shape or form whatever, directly or indirectly, did he have anything to do with the letter that was received by Connolly, threatening his "hart's blood."

BRIAND SUBSERVIENT.

Socialists Not Pleased But Press as a Whole Welcome Settlement.

Paris, Feb. 14.—M. Briand, the minister of education, is silent relative to the negotiations between Mgr. Amelot, the coadjutor Archbishop of Paris, and the prefect of the Seine, M. De Seives on the subject of the modified contract for the lease of the churches.

Some of the advanced socialist organs are manifesting irritation at M. Briand's "subservient" attitude, but as a whole the press of all shades of opinion is expressing the heartiest satisfaction at the prospect of an end to the religious dispute.

The Petit Parisien claims to have authority to state that if the Vatican authorities do not sanction the result of the present effort to effect conciliation, the government will not do anything further in that direction.

The Brooks Hudson Silver Mining Company, Limited, affords to conservative mining men and others an investment equalled by few—surpassed by none.

Authorized capital only $500,000.00, divided into 500,000 shares, par value $1.00, each fully paid and non-assessable. The properties of the Brooks Hudson Silver Mining Company, Limited, consist of 23 claims of 40 acres each, located in the township of Hudson, on every one of which valuable discoveries have been made. Other properties have been added since incorporation, till at time of writing the Co. have an area of over 1000 acres of good mineral lands.

Some preliminary work has been done and a few assays obtained, showing very favorable returns in gold, silver, copper, cobalt and zinc.

EXPERT'S REPORT.—Mr. Jacob M. Eggert, M.E., who submitted a report after examination, says: One thing is quite certain, that your Co. has a large number of veins rich in copper ores of various kinds, and so large that no dead work need be done and so rich that it will not come below 6%. Another thing seems to be certain also, that on several of your claims silver in paying quantities will be found. The claims are admirably situated as far as transportation is concerned, and all are near to already existing good roads and all have plenty of timber for mining and building purposes. I feel certain that what you have will prove to be mining claims of no mean rank, and claims worthy of confidence.

Subscriptions for a small block of 50,000 shares only are being received at 75c. per share. Stock will be advanced to $1.00 per share as soon as this lot has been sold. DONT DELAY—send in your orders NOW; stock is going rapidly; why wait for stock to advance to double the price.

Contracts for building two camps have already been given, which will be completed in about two weeks. Work on No. 1 shaft, on lot 5, is being commenced on Wednesday of this week. Five other shafts will be put down with all possible despatch as soon as camps are completed.

Congregational churches in Bond-street Church, showing that the jubilee movement of last year had cleared every church in the district of debt except that since that movement all the churches had largely increased their contributions toward home and foreign mission work.

Rev. W. T. Gunn, lately appointed pastor at large in charge of Congregational mission work in the Northwest, in an address on "The Congregational Outlook," said that $10,000 had recently been subscribed toward extending missions in Manitoba and the Northwest by Canadian philanthropists. Mr. Gunn will have direct supervision over this work, his salary having been guaranteed by F. C. Muner of Granby, Que.

Rev. J. W. Pedley spoke regarding church unity. He favored a confederation of all the religious forces as the one need toward expanding Canada.

In the evening, Rev. John Schofield gave a scholarly talk on "Truths That Need Emphasis," which he crystallized as "the reality of the spiritual life," and "a certainty of retribution." Rev. Wm.

Spurgeon preached a powerful Gospel sermon from the text, "If I be lifted up, I will draw all men." Mr. Spurgeon will preach in Bond-street Church again this evening.

Ottawa to Get "Cold Justice" y
Ottawa, Feb. 14.—An Ottawa civic deputation to-day asked that the government, while receiving rentals from its recently acquired property on Sussex-street, should not avoid city taxes.

The city this year loses $100,000, the tenants declining to pay on the ground that government property is exempt.

Mr. Fielding admitted that there is something in the contention, but went on to say that the Ottawa City Council, and the citizens generally, complained entirely too much of their treatment by the government. He said it seemed to be regarded as a crime to put up a new building lest taxation would be lost.
