Lord Mountstephen and Sir William Van Horne Said to Have Been Estranged.

THE ADVENT OF MR. SHAUGHNESSY

May Renew the Friendship Between the Canadian Pacific and Great Northern,

Montreal, June 28.—(Special.)—Perhaps he world never heard that Sir William Horne broke with Lord Mountstephen some time ago, and that there has been a decided coolness between the first and the second presidents of the Canadian Pacific decided coolness between the first and the second presidents of the Canadian Pacific Railway for a good many months past. This, it appears, has had a good deal to do with the strained relations that have existed between the Canadian Pacific and the Great Northern for some time, as it is well known that Lord Mountstephen has stuck to Jim Hill for a good many years closer than a brother. It was, in fact, in connection with a deal in which Mr. Hill and Lord Mountstephen were interested that the noble Canadian Lord made the handsome sum of moaey which he turned over to his relatives a little while since. It appears, however, that the advent of Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy to the presidency of the C.P.R. will change all this, and that the former cordial relations between the Great Northern and the C.P.R. may be resumed. It is is said, in fact, that Lords Mountstephen looks with the greatest pleasure at the change in question, and that he wished the new president godspeed during the latter has been dead to constituting their inspection. Hain fell at intervals, and the wind was well that ends well!

A comrade replied: "Lieut. Biddy Mc. Gaw."

Lieut. McGaw was really conspicuous.

In the Afternoon.

In the Afternoon the 14th Brigade went out on parade, but a terrific windstorm clouds like snow, and followed by a deluge of rain that soaked the men to the skin. Col. Vidal, Brigader, took compassion upon them and ordered them to their tents, and the drill for the day was done by 2.30 p.m.

The Major-General began the inspection of the 15th Brigade, Col. Buchan's charge, at 2 p.m. The men had been out but half an hour when the storm campe. The Major-General

They had been up the Niagara River-road, firing off blank cartridge, and were returning to grub. When they neared their tents, a few drops of rain fell, and the horses were galloped for beares.

Tell, and the horses were garbyec home.

The 15th Brigade spent the morning down on the lake shore, near Fort Mississauga, preparing for the afternoon's inspection. About 11.20 a.m. they marched up town and to the camp, while the whole town turned out to do them honor. One spectator shouted out as the 42nd Battalion went by:

The General addressed the commanding officers at 4 p.m., and expressed himself as highly delighted with the carriage of the men of all battalions of this brigade.

The time was too short for an attack on Fort George, so the men were denied the pleasure of cheering while capturing an unguarded citadel.

The massed buglers and drummers will, at a signal, move across the arena, counter march and return to their place, playing a bugle march.

The bands for this number will form a semi-circle around the conductor and be narched back to their places on completion of the piece. The march for this will with the City Tressurer and it took thousands of dollars away. The circus used thousands of gallons of water, and got it at a less rate than manufacturers have to pay. All that was charged for water was $7. The tents were pitched outside the city limits, and the city could not collect the license fee, according to the bylaw. Some of the tax payers would like the aldermen to look into the bylaws of Toronto and Ottawa. In Toronto the shows that go outside the city limits to exhibit are charged the full license fee—$300—for their water, and in Ottawa no show can make a street parade until the license fee ls paid.

In the head offices of the Canada Life Insurance Company have been notified that the offices will be removed to Toronto in September, and that if they wish to remain in the employ of the company they will have to go to the Queen City in that month. The wages of the staff have been increased, the increases ranging from $100 to $1000 a year. It is needless to say the clerks will go with the offices.

On the command "By the centre, quick march" from the conductor, the massed bands will advance to the torch opposite ench band, countermarch and return to their places, playing the Government march for quarter column and continuing to play after halting for a short time.

God Save the Queen will be commenced by three rolls on the drums, all the drummers being massed for the purpose along the front of the bands. When the music commences the drums will roll without ceasing throughout the plece.
