ANOTHER PACIFIC RAILWAY.
The success of the Canadian Pacific being assured, and with its stock at par, it is not surprising to learn that a rival Pacific line is being contemplated. Another way is a strong and not distant possibility. As a matter of fact a second Pacific line is virtually under way, and the most difficult and expensive portion of the work is either finished or provided for. The Crow's Nest Railway, with its existing and proposed extensions to the coast and the Ontario & Rainy River form, together, much the larger half of a transcontinental line. Considering the enormous subsidies granted by the Dominion and Local Governments towards these lines, their control should have been vested in the Government. This could have been secured by the various Governments interested holding stock in every dollar advanced by them. Such a plan would not have prevented the C.P.R. from operating the Crow's Nest Railway, as it is doing at present, nor would it interfere with the successful operation of the Ontario & Rainy River Road. By purchasing this policy of demanding stock proportionate to the amount of the bonuses and by keeping the stock dry and honest the Government would have done no injustice to any railway corporation, while the rights of the people in the important matter of transportation would have been made secure for all time. If the Liberal Government had taken advantage of the opportunity that was presented to them on coming into power a second and independent transcontinental railway would now be under way and nearing completion. But this is now an old story. Events are transpiring so rapidly in Canada these days that not much time is possible for post-mortem disquisitions.

A third Pacific Railway project is now before the public. This line takes a northern course, crossing the mountains via the Whitehead Pass. Messrs. Mackenzie and Hall, who have been successful in securing the Ontario & Rainy River Road, are now extending their project to the coast and the Ontario & Rainy River form, together, much the larger half of a transcontinental line. Considering the enormous subsidies granted by the Dominion and Local Governments towards these lines, their control should have been vested in the Government. This could have been secured by the various Governments interested holding stock in every dollar advanced by them. Such a plan would not have prevented the C.P.R. from operating the Crow's Nest Railway, as it is doing at present, nor would it interfere with the successful operation of the Ontario & Rainy River Road. By purchasing this policy of demanding stock proportionate to the amount of the bonuses and by keeping the stock dry and honest the Government would have done no injustice to any railway corporation, while the rights of the people in the important matter of transportation would have been made secure for all time. If the Liberal Government had taken advantage of the opportunity that was presented to them on coming into power a second and independent transcontinental railway would now be under way and nearing completion. But this is now an old story. Events are transpiring so rapidly in Canada these days that not much time is possible for post-mortem disquisitions.

As is charged with felonies. This decision is held responsible for the assault made by one of the inmates of the cells the other night upon a fellow inmate. The assailant had been arrested for drunkenness, and as it was not legal to search him he was allowed to keep in his possession a knife with which the assault was made. In our opinion the proper remedy for this state of things is not the searching of prisoners, but providing them with decent quarters. Every man is supposed to be innocent until he is proved guilty. While under arrest and up to the time of his trial every one should be treated with reasonable consideration. It is not right that an individual charged with some minor offence and perhaps not guilty of it should be thrown into a cell with human riff-raff of all kinds around him. Suppose we do deprive the inmate and the vicious of their weapons, they still have tongues in their heads and teeth in their mouths. With these they can insult their fellow-inmates and chew of their enmities, with which considerable personal damage may be inflicted. There is said to be an extensive system of inland navigation in this district, as exists anywhere on this continent, not excepting the St. Lawrence River. If such is the case a large part of this district would be at the mercy of the water. With these inland waterways, and the proposed railway, in addition to these great agricultural resources the new route would have a large mineral territory. Fort Simpson is mentioned as the terminus of the road. This is a considerable distance north of Vancouver, and it ought to have a difficulty in commanding the trade of the country to the north, including the Yukon and Atlin Lake districts. Prima facie there appears to be a good case in favor of the new line, and we are not surprised that capitalists are ready to take it up. When this new scheme comes before Parliament it is to be hoped the Government of the day, whether it be Liberal or Conservative, will weigh policy rather than will be shaped on different lines to the one now in force.

IT MAY BE YOUR TURN NEXT!
It makes one ill think of the number of fatal accidents. Somehow each of us thinks that he is exempt and that it is someone else who is shadowed by a sudden call. If, however, more of us thought that it was we ourselves who were in danger more care would be taken in the way we travel on the streets and risk our lives in boating and bathing. No matter how good a swimmer a man may be, he is liable to be seized with cramps at any time, and the best swimmer in the world, therefore, takes his life in his hands when he enters the water unaccompanied and places himself beyond succor. It is all most idle to moralize on things of this kind and to try and preach the idea of carelessness. Nevertheless, it is a sermon that ought to be preached to young people and to all persons who are on pleasure bent. We are all so impetuous and we are all in such a hurry to enjoy ourselves that we seem to lose our ordinary balance; and if only we each one of us had some kind of an attachment that would whisper in our ear, "Have a care; have a care!" a great many lives would be saved that are now thoughtlessly lost. Pending such an invention, we have no other advice to offer than the idea we started out with, namely, that if each one thought that he was to be the next victim instead of fondly imagining that it is to be someone else, there would be fewer wrecks to family and to friendship ties.

SEARCHING PRISONERS.
Strong objection is being taken to a decision of the court depriving the police of the right to search prisoners, except such as are charged with felonies.

Sudden Deaths on the Increase.
People apparently well and happy to-day to-morrow are stricken down, and in ninety-nine cases out of every hundred the heart is the cause. The king of heart disease is within reach of all, and if there are symptoms of heart disorder it should be used with delay, for a few minutes, and cures most chronic cases.

Toronto Rod and Gun Club.
A very enjoyable afternoon was spent Saturday at Woodbine Park by a large number of members of the Toronto Rod and Gun Club. The pleasant features which characterized this outing were the record scores, the splendid individual shooting, especially by the new members. At the regular monthly meeting, which will be held in the club room this evening, nominations of officers for the ensuing year will take place. It is therefore imperative that every member should attend.

Island Amateur Aquatics.
The annual meeting of the Island Amateur Aquatic Association were held at the Centennial Hotel, on Saturday afternoon. The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the year, and to discuss the number of fatal accidents. Somehow each of us thinks that he is exempt and that it is someone else who is shadowed by a sudden call. If, however, more of us thought that it was we ourselves who were in danger more care would be taken in the way we travel on the streets and risk our lives in boating and bathing. No matter how good a swimmer a man may be, he is liable to be seized with cramps at any time, and the best swimmer in the world, therefore, takes his life in his hands when he enters the water unaccompanied and places himself beyond succor. It is all most idle to moralize on things of this kind and to try and preach the idea of carelessness. Nevertheless, it is a sermon that ought to be preached to young people and to all persons who are on pleasure bent. We are all so impetuous and we are all in such a hurry to enjoy ourselves that we seem to lose our ordinary balance; and if only we each one of us had some kind of an attachment that would whisper in our ear, "Have a care; have a care!" a great many lives would be saved that are now thoughtlessly lost. Pending such an invention, we have no other advice to offer than the idea we started out with, namely, that if each one thought that he was to be the next victim instead of fondly imagining that it is to be someone else, there would be fewer wrecks to family and to friendship ties.

At the Traps.
The regular Saturday afternoon bluecock shoot was held at the Toronto Sporting Goods Company's grounds. The weather was favorable for shooting, and there was a good turnout of marksmen. After the club shoot at the Woodbine, several members of the Rod and Gun Club came over and participated in the open matches. The scores: Sweep 1 (15 birds)—Dineen 11, Bell 5, McNeil 5, McNeil 5, Bright 5, Moore 5, Dineen 5.

A Sudden Death.
Dr. Garratt of Bay-street was hurriedly called to 10 Toronto-street on Saturday evening to attend Thomas Needles, who was dying. The patient was very low, and despite medical aid he died. Coroner Young was notified and issued a warrant for an inquest. After looking into the case he decided that an inquiry was unnecessary.

Did He Take the Bait?
P. C. Verney arrested Frederick Hinson yesterday morning on a warrant charging him with the theft of a bicycle. The prisoner was a patient at the General Hospital, but is now convalescent.

GUESSING AT SHOE VALUES

In what way do you know the value of a shoe? Every wide awake man, whatever his profession or trade, knows the value of his particular goods.

A stockbroker doesn't offer hundred dollar shares for $50.00 when they are worth $100.00, nor does a banker offer one pound sterling for $2.00 when it is worth $4.85.

A "Slater Shoe," when stamped by the makers $5.00, is worth precisely $5.00 at the time it is offered—if it were not worth that it would not bear such price stamp.

Shoes sometimes depreciate in value, be they "Slater Shoes" or other makes. Perhaps they've been a little too long on the shelves, or are slightly out-of-date as to style or color.

But with a "Slater Shoe" the moment depreciation sets in they are discounted by the factory, and the stamp on the sole changed without parade or "cheap sale" tactics.

If they should be depreciated "Slater $5.00 Shoes" they then cease to be "Slater $5.00 Shoes" and become "Slater $3.50 Shoes," being stamped with the makers' trade mark and price accordingly.

They are not represented as $5.00 shoes for $3.50, when only worth actually, when sold, $3.50.

But in the case of a "Slater $3.50 shoe" the brand is cancelled off the shoe and it is sold to ordinary shoe dealers.

Such cancellation means that we will have no more to do with them, will no longer recognize or guarantee them as "Slater Shoes."

The manufacturers want to get rid of them and to sell them to the highest retail shoe bidder. He can do what he pleases with them, but they never see the inside of a "Slater Shoe Store" again.

A "Slater Shoe" must be worth the price stamped on the sole or it would kill the makers' brand.

If it be stamped $5.00, then it is guaranteed by the makers that there is $5.00 worth of shoe in it at the time it is sold, be it August or October.

Every "Slater Shoe" is Goodyear welted, and they are made in twelve foot-fitting shapes, six widths, all sizes and half sizes, guaranteeable leathers and fashionable colors.

Clarets! Clarets! Clarets!

The steady increasing demand for pure wines is due not alone to the pleasure derived from their use as wholesome stimulants but is based upon the merit of their valuable hygienic properties and therapeutic uses, being fully recognized by the medical profession as possessing the valuable qualities of aiding digestion and strengthening the muscular system.

The Canadian consumer has now the advantage of getting his wines direct from the grower. We recommend the following brands:

Bon Bourgeois, pure table wine, three years old..... $3.50 per doz. quarts
St. Julien, supple and delicate, five years old..... 3.50 "
Montferand, heavy, robust, ruby in color..... 4.50 "
Medoc, a selected vintage..... 4.50 "
Chateau Brule, special vintage, and first growth (dinner wine)..... 5.00 "
Chateau Pontet Canet..... 7.00 "
Nos Caves (our cellars)..... 6.00 "

$1.00 extra, per case, containing 2 dozen pint bottles. The above are guaranteed to be imported direct from the vineyards of France. They are sold purely on their merits, and not on their label.

As we have many imitators, we caution the consumer to see that the name, "La Cuvée des vins de Bordeaux," appears on every label, and the name "Bordeaux Claret Company" burnt on every cork. Both names are stamped on every capsule.

We supply the above wines to the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, and the C.P.R. and G.T.R. system, as well as to all first-class restaurants throughout Canada.

Ask your wine merchant or grocer for them.
