The heavy snowfalls of last year caused the roof of our shed to fall in. This has been repaired, and all our available funds, the proceeds of last year's social and the concert which followed, as well as the balances from former socials, have been used to pay the accounts, and still leaves us somewhat in debt; we thought it best not to fall back upon the Mission Fund of Crescent Street Church, which has always supplied our necessities when we made application for aid, and we depend upon whatever balance may result from the present meeting, or from such other efforts of a like nature which our young people may set on foot during the winter months, to clear off all our indebtedness and give us a new start for the year now happily commenced.

The lessons of the past year have been the International series, and have proved deeply interesting.

Our School and its friends enjoyed a very pleasant sail down the river to Isle Gros Bois, and the weather being nearly all that could be desired, boating and other amusements filled up the time very agreeably.
