and also the one by "White Ribboner" stirred my feelings so deeply that I just laid down my paper and came right in to my desk for pen, ink and paper. Think I am a consistent, patriotic Canadian—rather I know I am, yet I will not sign any card to eat brown bread or any other kind, nor do without beef or bacon, so long as our Governments or sincere desire to see our soft turn from her evil way.

Who is with me? Shall we as mothers allow our boys to be food for cannon alone? We give them gladly for our nation but not to be sacrificed on the altar of the liquor traffic and the lords of our lands. Who stands with us against this policy being pursued in our Governments? Oh, for some leaders and we could form a procession that will show our Governments that the mothers of our land will have to be reckoned with. Let us take the God of Gideon and his three hundred and let us arise and say: "We will not have this liquor traffic to reign over us."

Dear Cynthia—Will you please answer a few questions for me?

1. How old does a girl have to be before she can go out and work without her parents' consent?

2. Can they bring her back home again?

3. What will keep patent leather shoes from cracking?

4. What do you think of my scribbling?

Yours and oblige
Ans.—After her 18th birthday a girl cannot be compelled to remain at home I am always sorry, though, to hear of a girl going against the wishes of her parents in such matters. There are parents who make mistakes, but on the whole they know what is best for their girls.

Well, if you would kindly do as I have requested I would be very, very thankful. ONTARIO N. S. HELPER.
Ans.—How good it is that we have those "little inside voices" to spur us on, at times! You are to be congratulated though, it seems to me, for berrypicking in the hot sun must require plenty of stick-to-it-ive-ness and courage. The name of a nice, nice "lonely" has been sent you.

Dear Miss Grey,—Received your letter and the sailor's address for which I thank you. I am going to send him a parcel and am writing. Will let you know when I hear from him.

I see where "Cable" wishes a crochet pattern. I am inclosing one which my mother made. Hope she likes it.

I am going to try "Cable's" method for washing white silk waists. I have one which is a little yellow but did not know how to make it white. Yes, "Molly O's" school year was a successful one. She is still in Windsor.

Do you know how to take electric oil stains out of cotton sheets?

Thanking you once again, I remain, Oil On Sheets.

Ans.—Your design for "Cable" is very pretty, I think. It will be sent on with others received for her. Unfortunately,
I am not able to help you find a remover for the eclectric oil, unless asking if any Pageite knows how is any aid. Have always heard that stains from this oil were practically impossible to remove, but I'd love to have somebody correct this impression. Glad of the good progress of "Molly O."

Dear Miss Grey, — I was so delighted with the good news on page 10 of The Morning Advertiser, August 22nd, that I can hardly write. Just to think that these petitions are being largely signed. these petitions are being largely signed. Perhaps you will remember me writing before to your page on this subject. I am so glad to hear that Mrs. Boomer has undertaken this work for I know she will never let up on it till she has seen it through. Let everyone get busy and find a petition to sign and extern seen it through. Let everyone get busy and find a petition to sign and get our brave remnant of first contingent boys home again. Yours, NADINE.

Ans.—Yes, Nadine, I well recollect your first letter, and no doubt it helped largely to spread the interest in the movement. For the benefit of out-of-town readers who wish to circulate petitions in their own district a copy of the petition worded by Mrs. Boomer, president of the London Local Council of Women, and placed for signature in The Advertiser business office, is herewith appended. Anyone securing signatures in his or her locality might do well to forward them to Mrs. Boomer, A large number of names sent under auspices, one might say, of a

Dear Miss Grey,—As I have been reading your paper I thought I would write you a few lines. Would you please tell me a way to get rid of freekles? 2. To clean your face of pimples? Yours truly, FARM GIRL. Ans.—If your face freekles easily and you are much exposed to the sun's rays, it is little use applying creams, lotions and the like, for they are apt to soften the skin and render it more susceptible than ever when next exposed.
