tery. Friends and acquaintances

He little thought when leaving home That he would ne'er return; But now he lies in a lonely grave, And we are left to mourn.

His cheery way, his smiling face,
Are a pleasure to recall; There is enothing left to answer

But his photo on the wall. In God's safe keeping now you lie. Oft we think of you, dear Earl, And our hearts are filled with pain: Oh, this earth would be a heaven,
Could we but hear your voice again,
b—Lonely Mother and Sisters.

Not dead to those who loved him, Not lost, but gone before; He lives with us in memory still, And will forever more.

For memory is the only thing that grief can call its own;
What peaceful hours we once enjoyed, how sweet their memory still,
But they can leave an aching void this world can never fill.
So sad, yet so true, I cannot tell why.
The best are the first to be called

WINSLADE — In loving remembrance of Wallace and William Winslade, who died one year ago today, Octo-ber 24, 1918.

Forget them, no. we never will, As time rolls on we love them still, —Father, Mother, Sisters and Brother WINSLADE-In loving memory of Wal-

When at times they see us smile; But they little know the sorrow That the smile hides all the while. That the smile hides all the while. Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life has fled; There in heaven with joy to greet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed.
