KING GUSTAVE UNDER TREE
Sweden's Monarch Suddenly Stricken With Appendicitis and Operated Upon.

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 7.—King Augustus was operated on to-night for appendicitis, and it was officially stated that the operation was a success. The king had been suffering from continual internal pains since early Sunday evening, but it was not until this evening that the physicians diagnosed the case as an acute appendicitis, requiring an immediate operation. The physicians first diagnosed the king's illness as catarrh of the stomach, and the matter was taken with great little seriousness by the royal family members of the royal family attended a concert this evening. At ten o'clock they were all summoned to return to the palace, where they were apprised of the intention to operate.

Crown Prince Gustave was proclaimed king of Sweden, Dec. 8, 1907, following the death of King Oscar. He has proved an exceedingly popular monarch, and recently has taken an active part in studying the conditions of the workingmen. Last December he disguised himself as a stevedore and spent most of one day carrying sacks of coal from a lighter. Later he said that he intended to mix with all classes of laborers so that he might ascertain their opinions and wishes. King Gustave, the queen and other members of the royal family contributed liberally to a fund for the purpose of providing loans to the workingmen.

INTERNATIONAL WATERWAYS
Could American Vessels Use Our Georgian Bay Canal?

OTTAWA, Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Answering C. O. Magrath, who asked whether the United States, under the proposed waterways treaty, would have the absolute right to the use of the Georgian Bay Canal if constructed, and would Canada have a similar right to the use of the waterways connecting Lake Michigan with the Gulf of Mexico via the Chicago drainage canal, the minister of justice this afternoon said the proposed waterways treaty would not seem to have any effect on the use of either waterway. It might be that the provisions of the treaty of Washington in 1857 might have application to one or both.

N.Y. Stocks Crash To Lower Levels

Not Since Last Summer Have Prices Tumbled So Far—Due to Enormous Liquidation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—This was another day of extreme and almost unexplained weakness on the New York Stock Exchange. Stocks tumbled steadily throughout the session under the pressure of enormous liquidation, accentuated lack of support. Despite the absence of any specific rumors of a disquieting nature, quotations broke thru the low records of last week, establishing new low levels, not for the year alone, but for the period dating as far back as the boom of last summer.

Altho not the centre of decline, steel common dropped to 75 3/8, a loss of 4 5/8 points from the closing price of Saturday, and more than 15 points from the quotations of a month back. The selling of copper shares was tremendous. American smelted iron common dropped to 77 1/4 from 82 at the close of Saturday; Amalgamated Copper declined 6 1/8 points to 71 5/8; Anaconda fell 3 1/4 points to 46; Utah Copper, down 4 points to 44 1/2. Reading fell an even 5 points; Union Pacific dropped 4 1/4; Southern Pacific 4 5/8, while losses thruout the active speculative list ranged from 2 to 6 points.

A seat on the exchange was sold this morning for $32,000, a decline of $9000 from the price paid for a seat two weeks ago.

DEATH OF JACK FROST

Tragic Fatalities in the United States Due to the Sudden Cold Spell.

The cold wave seems to have spent itself during yesterday. In Toronto, the temperature ranged from 10 below zero very early in the day, to 26 above, and while Quebec had the below zero touch pretty generally, Ontario had relief. In the west, it was quite temperate.

New York reports the coldest day of the year, the thermometer at daybreak registering 2 above zero, with a searching northwest wind. Before noon, however, it began to moderate appreciably. Great suffering was reported among the poor and several deaths from freezing in the suburbs.

PREPARE FOR COLD WEATHER.
Do you remember how chilly it was on Sunday last? That was a day when the fortunate owner of a fur-lined overcoat got in a pleasant day. He "had it" on the thinny clad community. And after all a fur-lined coat does not cost very much and one lasts for years. The price of furs is steadily going up, so that to buy to-day is to invest your money at a good interest. The Dineen Company have in the big sale some splendid fur and fur-lined coats which are being offered at a greatly reduced price. There is a popular line of very high-class coats at fifty dollars each.

H. A. RICHARDSON S. GENERAL MANAGER

Appointed by Directorate of Bank of Nova Scotia to Succeed H. C. McLeod — Financial Circles Pleased.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the Bank of Nova Scotia directors, held here to-day, H. A. Richardson, for some years manager of the Toronto branch, was appointed general manager of that institution.

Present to-day were: J. Y. Payzant, president; R. L. Borden, M.P.; Hector McInnes, H. L. McLeod, ex-general manager, and J. W. Allison.

Harry A. Richardson, the newly-appointed general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, has had an unbroken connection with that institution for nearly 30 years. Commencing his career in Liverpool, N.S., under Manager J. B. Forsgan, he was appointed president of the First National Bank of Chicago, after a year's service Mr. Richardson was transferred to the Halifax branch. After spending some years in the Garrison City, he was appointed accountant at Charlottetown, P.E.I., and three years later was transferred to Montreal.

In 1891 he was made manager of the Sussex branch, going from there to Yarmouth, where, after serving five years, he returned to Charlottetown. In 1900 he left to take charge of the Toronto branch. In the opinion of many Toronto commercial and financial men, no better appointment could have been made. Mr. Richardson is of a retiring disposition, but extremely frank in his relations with those with whom he comes in touch with him in his professional capacity. A prominent Toronto financier and one of Mr. Richardson's close acquaintances said to "The World": "You will find Mr. Richardson a student with his interests concentrated on banking matters. The retiring general manager, H. C. McLeod, has set an example which Mr. Richardson will not be slow to follow, and his record in the past is a guarantee that the affairs of one of Canada's leading banks are left in capable hands."

BIG MONTREALERS HERE
To Oppose Project to Develop Power at the Long Sault.

MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—(Special.)—Several Montrealers left here to-night for Toronto before the national Ontario waterways convention, in opposition to the proposed project largely supported by American capital, for the development of power at the Long Sault Rapids. The Montreal Board of Trade, Montreal Shipping Federation, Dominion Marine Association and Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co. John Kennedy, the well-known harbor engineer, will represent the harbor board, and Eugene Lafleur, K.C., and Ontario respectively. Mr. Robert C. Smith, K.C., will appear for the board of trade and Richelieu and Smith are among the ablest corporation lawyers in Canada, and their engagement has aroused considerable comment. By this move on the part of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co.

The impression is growing here that the power company is fearful of competition from the Long Sault development, that it has been guilty of work for a considerable time arousing opposition, and that it engineered the selection of Messrs. Lafleur and Smith. If this is true, they certainly have picked the best brains of the Montreal bar.
