THE NEW PITCHERS OF LAST SEASON

Plump the single-barrelled question at any manager of intelligence...

And backward will come the managerial response—"Gimme the pitchers."

That's the direction in which every manager is sending his energies now...

When the eight clubs housed by Ben Johnson started the season they were well supplied with pitchers...

Joe over his success to his sturdy left arm, the tuition supplied by Nick Allen...

The other Joe of the capital, Engel, by name, is a right-hander, and a corker...

He has started a winning streak because Griffith taught him how to pitch...

Griff taught him a lot about control, and finally the teachings of the Old Fox filtered through...

And he is galloping fast into the ranks of the brightest and best of the season's kid outfit...

Two of the best pitchers uncovered this season, The Bengal club is a right-hander...

George Dues, who was found in Omaha, and has since been in one bright spot in the hurling corps...

Dues' specialty is his superb control and nerve under fire, and his absolute part of the opposition...

He was in Worcester, Mass., with Jesse Burkett, his work there was brilliant...
