

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK IS VERY GOOD

Present indications in regard to the local football situation are that St. John will see the game played here for all that is in it. The present season finds this city peculiarly well supplied with first class material for a winning team.

A meeting of the Harriers Club was held last evening in the Y. M. C. A. in the interest of football and a large number of prospective aspirants and football enthusiasts were on hand.

While football has in past years met with little encouragement in this city, it is to be hoped that the sporting public will be to boom the game this season.

As a majority of the players are occupied during the day and find it difficult to get away for outdoor practice regular "gym" practice is being taken in the Y. M. C. A.

ARMY AVIATOR WILL CARRY U. S. MAIL BY AEROPLANE.

LIEUTENANT PAUL BECK, U.S.A.

Arrangements have been completed for carrying United States mail by aeroplane twice daily from the international aviation meet, to be held September 23 to October 1, at Nassau Boulevard, Long Island.

Captain Paul Beck, of the United States army, is the aviator who will carry the first special delivery mail sack that has ever been transported through the air in this country.

The players and qualifying scores were: W. G. Ritchie, Moncton, 162; D. H. Murray, Halifax, 181; W. A. Henry, Halifax, 185; H. Wiley, Halifax, 184; W. H. Semple, Truro, 188; Rev. Mr. Johnson, Halifax, 195; H. N. Stetson, S. John, 196; E. W. McCready, S. John, 200; M. A. Hulton, MacCann, 201; James Edwards, Moncton, 201; M. Dickie, Truro, 205; H. G. McCann, Glace Bay, 204; C. W. Robinson, Moncton, 205; R. Simpson, Moncton, 205; Captain D. Murray, Truro, 207; Dr. Langelle, Truro, 207.

MONCTON MAN WAS THE STAR AT GOLF MEET

Special to The Standard. Truro, Sept. 26.—The third annual meeting of the men's maritime golf championship opened this morning with a large entry list.

The feature of the day's play was the work of W. G. Ritchie, of Moncton, who covered the four rounds in 162.

Can Sam Langford, by any possible manner, wrest world's heavyweight championship from Jack Johnson? This is the perplexing question that is worrying the fighting fraternity on both continents.

OFFENDS TOKIO DIPLOMATS.

DAVID STARR JORDAN

Considerable indignation has been excited in the Diplomatic Corps in Tokyo by what is termed "intemperate and offensive" language by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford University, in his latest address at Karuzawa when referring to the Kaiser and the Tsar.

Could have done at Queens if the race had made it necessary. "Then, there is that extraordinary runner, A. Haro. Here indeed is a man who could be improved by coaching; he has no style and very little real judgment, yet he got close to 4:24 in the London championship, and is not far short of a two minute half mile. From the ranks of the 4:10 to 4:15 handicap milers, too, we might find a champion while M. E. Daly, the Irishman, is really worthy of more than passing notice, as are J. Wharmouth and W. Cottrill, the latter another who should be taken in hand seriously.

Scott a Runner. "At great distances, W. Scott has been the runner of the year up to ten miles, but I think F. N. Hibbins and H. D. Baldwin are men of equal capacity if they could be brought to the post thoroughly fit. A. J. Treble is really a champion in the making, while I have an idea that there are great possibilities about a man who has not shown the improvement I expected—S. F. Ayres. For the Marathon distance H. Green and E. W. Lloyd are perhaps the finds of the year down south, with C. J. Bryant in the north, but I fancy there are among the cross country men others who could be made at any rate equal to good.

While the final selection may be a matter of difficulty and also of delicacy, I do not see any reason why the nomination of men for places in the team should not be made a matter of interest to every athletic worker. Handicappers, local officers and sports officials generally should be asked to nominate any athlete of particular merit for a place in the preliminary trials. Then opportunity should be taken to find out the athlete's ability and if necessary improve his methods of practice and training so that when the trials come round we shall not have the runner countryman overshadowed by the well trained townsman. Some means must be found for placing them more nearly on the level before the final selection takes place. It is proposed on these lines or on any similar plan we may have something like a team for Stockholm. And, great believer though I am in international athletics, I would say rather have no team at all than a team of raw, untrained recruits, foredoomed to defeat by the well trained hosts against whom they have to contend."

CONNIE MACK AGAIN LANDS FIRST IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Philadelphia Athletics Repeated Last Year's Stunt and Finished in First Place -- Earn Right to Defend Title of World's Champions.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 26.—The American league championship was decided here today when Philadelphia defeated Detroit by the score of 11 to 5. It was the fourth time that a local team piloted by Connie Mack has won the pennant in this organization, and it was the first time that Philadelphia has won the title in successive seasons. By repeating this year the Philadelphia Athletics earned the right to defend the title of world's champions which it won last year in a series with the Chicago National league club.

ing to land on the body. Can Johnson's cleverness, ducking and chopping keep the miniature punching machine away from that centre of attack? That is a question, Langford, built as he is, with all his massive strength stored within a small space, could assimilate terrible punishment before he would stop tearing after that vital part of Johnson's frame. Very seldom does Langford attack the face and head until the strength and steam of an opponent has faded under bruising wallops. Johnson has been leading a life of dissipation since crowned at Reno. Langford is a family man of clean habits.

LARNED OUT OF AMERICAN TENNIS TEAM

New York, Sept. 26.—Owing to important business connections with his father's estate, W. A. Larned, one of the members of the United States tennis team, selected to compete for the Davis international trophy, announced today that it would be impossible for him to make the trip to Australia to play in the International match.

DO YOU BELCH GAS?

This is a disagreeable result of food fermentation that Nerviline stops at once. Take ten drops of Nerviline in sweetened water. The stomach is warmed and soothed, digestive troubles corrected, the rising of gas ceases and you are well. When such a simple remedy does so much it's foolish to go without it. For indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and sick headache you'll find nothing half so efficient as Polson's Nerviline. Get a 25c bottle from your dealer today.

BERMUDIANS WANT A GAME.

The Bermudian cricketers in the city who have been most successful during the past season, are anxious for another game with the St. John cricket team before the season closes, and a game will probably be arranged this week.

ENGLAND HAS GOOD MEN FOR NEXT OLYMPIC GAMES

Britons on Edge and Determined to Beat Out Americans—Some Good Men Now Training.

London, Sept. 26.—The report has reached England that America has already begun preparation for the mustering of next year's team for Stockholm, and it has had the effect of putting the Britons on edge. They have begun to figure on the available material, and it is evident that they depending somewhat on Scotland and Ireland to help out. In summing up about the candidates an English expert says:

"The Midlands have frequently gained commendation for their earnestness in developing athletics. With all their policy some may not agree, but few will deny that their principle is very sound. From that district now comes the first definite move toward gathering together next year's Olympic team. They have appointed a sub-committee to confer with the north and south on the matter. Add Ireland and Scotland, and you will have the full quota necessary to deal with the question of preparation. The sooner a definite move is made the better, there are so many things to be done before we can flatter ourselves that we have a team in making that no time should be lost.

"During the season now past we have discovered quite a host of men now worthy of wearing the United Kingdom colors in next year's games at Stockholm. Early in the season many besides the writer held rather pessimistic views as to the possibilities of developments this season. Both the Festival of Empire contests and the A. A. champions were somewhat disappointing, but we have had time to reconsider the position since the end of June, and in view of later happenings there is every reason to cheer up. The victory of the combined universities over Harvard and Yale was very pleasing in that it showed what might be done by entirely professional coaching—for, as I have been reminded, C. N. Jackson coached the Oxford men several of whom showed improvement to quite the same extent as the light blues—but coaching by responsible and thoroughly experienced advisers, who imbued the team with some of their own spirit, and sent it out to win.

Good Sprinters. "We have on the sprinting side at least a couple of brilliant men this season who hitherto were not regarded as quite first class. They are D. McMillan and D. H. Jacobs. Neither has as yet been fully developed, for McMillan did not have as much training as he really needed for the international contest, while Jacobs has not yet been trained in anything like the manner of say a varsity blue. Outside of this pair there is S. J. Duller, who has got on to a back mark very nicely, and is a runner of great style could still be improved a good many yards. W. A. Stewart is claimed by Australia, so we need not reckon him, but I fancy that his old opponent, R. G. Rice, might be made into something like a champion by proper coaching. H. C. Wells is another much improved man this year. McVey, the Irishman, can scarcely be left out. J. J. Barker, of Nottingham, is a runner of great possibilities. No need to speak of Vic D'Arcy, who was last season's find. I have heard nothing this season of J. Henley, who has Devon crack, whom I regarded as likely to beat all comers at 120 yards, but hope he may be found for next year. Beyond all these there are quite a number of promising men hovering about the half second of whom something might be made. Who is going to make the effort?

"Going on to quarter and half milers we have beside one or two of those already mentioned some good quarter men coming along. Corporal Usher, for instance, has beaten many of the cracks this year. The Brighton man, E. J. Henley, might be made a realer at both distances, while the quarter, F. E. Adams has shown well this year. The Irishman, J. Donning, must be decidedly useful, while G. H. Gray, of the Safford Harriers, is another good man both at quarter and half mile. As we know, can burdle more than a little bit. The Cambridge flier, F. G. Black, again is quite a great quarter man, and D. McMillan can get the distance, but to my mind he should be considered firstly for the two sprints.

Some Good Halfers. "Then among the half men we have a real class man in J. T. Scouter, who has run the best series of half miles we have seen for many a day, but was apparently worked a bit too hard at the finish. J. M. Hill has certainly not lost any of his reputation this year, though I have a hankering after seeing this fine strapping Irishman at quite another game, viz. sleepchasing, for which he just the build were he taught to stride the hurdles and he can stay ten miles. D. F. McNeil has been our best miler this year and has gone on from good to better, so that it would not be almost unkind to suggest that he might not beat 4:20. In fact, I believe he might go near record in a favorable race. He, however, is an old hand, although his improvement this season makes it necessary to refer to him. W. C. Moore is one of the developments of 1911. The Oxford cross country man can run a real good race if coached a little and with more experience of scratch racing he may get down to something a deal better than the 4:23, which he
