

Fernhill Mortuary Chapel Dedicated

The new mortuary chapel and receiving tomb recently built at Fernhill were yesterday afternoon formally dedicated with fitting solemnity and appropriate ceremonies in the presence of between 60 and 70 persons. Among the number were several prominent members of the local clergy. Before the services the chapel was visited by those present and the methods for regulating the various appliances were explained.

His Honor Judge Forbes, president of the Fernhill Cemetery Co., opened the dedication proceedings in a brief address. He gave a short description of the building and said that the directors had erected it, recognizing the long felt need of a chapel for services in the winter, and also the need of a place to receive the bodies during the same season, taking into account as well the expenditure involved in keeping the avenues clear of snow.

The building had been carefully supervised, and no better is to be found in Canada. While the cost had been about $4,000, it was regarded as a judicious expenditure.

Rev. Wellington Camp then read from the Bible scriptural references to burials after which Judge Forbes announced that Ven. Archdeacon Raymond had prepared an address for the occasion but as he was obliged to leave the city he asked Rev. Gordon Dickie to read the address.

Rev. Mr. Dickie first offered a dedicatory prayer, after which he read the address. In the course of the address Rev. Mr. Raymond gave a description of the different modes of disposing of the dead in vague since early times.

He paid a tribute to the beauty of Fernhill and congratulated the directors on completing the work. He deprecated the extravagance of modern funerals and advocated that bodies should be allowed to return to dust instead of being inclosed in metal caskets.

The address contained much useful information and was of a very interesting character.

Rev. Mr. Dickie commended the forethought of the directors. The services hereafter held in the chapel will spare the feelings of the mourners while the bodies are in the earth. He hoped that a patent truck would be procured for lowering the casket into the grave and advocated that the earth should be thrown into the grave, as a part of the service.

He closed with a prayer. The benediction by Canon Hoyt brought the ceremonies to a close.

The new building, which compares most favorably with any in Canada, is a handsome brick one, and represents the most modern ideas in buildings of this kind. The exterior is attractive, the approach being bordered by ornamental flower beds further enhancing the attractive appearance.

The interior of the mortuary chapel at once impresses one with the thoroughness with which the details have been thought out and executed. The floor is of concrete, the ceiling is arched. The decoration of the chapel is most effective. The most minute details in furnishing the chapel have been carried out, the hanging lamp, handsome marble reading table, Bible, raised platform for the officiating clergyman, the folding church rack, all were in readiness when the dedicatory service took place.

The receiving tomb has also been made as modern as possible. The best sanitary methods have been followed, the latest ideas in ventilation, the electric arrangement, rubber curtains, ventilators, air spaces in the walls, and the different spaces allotted for different causes of death combine to make the whole sanitary scheme as perfect as possible. The tomb is painted white, the pillars are of hard pine, and the whole appearance is one of neatness and cleanliness.

The intention of the directors of Fernhill is to proceed further with the furnishing of the chapel. They also purpose to commence using the tomb immediately. During the winter months, the avenues will not, as in past years, be kept closed, thus curtailing a great expenditure.

Several of the directors presented articles for the furnishing of the chapel, including a handsome hanging lamp, two palms, vase, 2 Jardiniers, a purple velvet table cover, handiwork, kneeling cushions, fire guard, andrions, prayer book, Bible and hymn book, while M. N. Powers gave a silver casket for the receiving tomb.

The directors are composed of the following: His Honor Judge Forbes, president; L. Col. E. T. Sturdee, vice-president; James Christie, M. D., Peter Campbell, G. S. Fisher, W. H. Barnaby, John K. Schofield, F. H. Hamilton, J. A. Lively, R. W. W. Prink, E. L. Risling.

The concluding words of the secretary's report read: "The board and citizens in general have all felt deeply the fact that Mr. Hall, our efficient secretary, found it necessary to make a leave of absence, and can only trust that in the near future she will be able to take up her duties again."

GRACE OSBORNE ROBERTSON, Assistant Secretary.
Encouraging Reports.
The financial report showed the treasury in a healthy state. Although two contributions received the previous year were not forthcoming last year, the contribution list was larger.

Following the reception of the reports, Dr. G. G. Melvin was heard relative to the part sanitation plays in the work of relieving the needy of the city.

Dr. Melvin said that it is of paramount importance that the people be impressed with the necessity of making sanitary conditions.

A steady enforcement of the sanitary laws of the city and province, and if these are not sufficient and extensive, amendments to these will procure the desired results.

W. F. Hatheway, M. P. P., was then called upon by the president, and addressed the meeting.

After referring to the encouraging report of work accomplished during the year, Mr. Hatheway said that to the great want of thrift, of economy, may be attributed the great portion of the poverty found in the city.

Beware of Blood-Poison

Zam-Buk is a Sure Cure.

Mr. Jas. Dayer, of 788 Ellice Avenue, Winnipeg, says:—"A few months since I was cured of a poisoned finger through the timely use of Zam-Buk. I cut a deep gash across the knuckle on the first finger of my right hand in opening an oyster can, and suffered at the time with the soreness and pain, but had no idea it would become a serious wound. However, in about two days I was greatly alarmed, as my whole hand and arm to the elbow became suddenly inflamed, and the finger was much discolored, showing signs of blood-poisoning. The pain was dreadful and I was forced to leave off my work and go home."

The wound on the knuckle had been poisoning by dust and dirt getting into it. I then decided to start the Zam-Buk treatment, and having first bathed the cut, I applied the healing balm. It soothed the pain almost instantly, and by next day there was a great improvement. In a week's time, through perseverance with this wonderful preparation, a complete cure was brought about."

Zam-Buk is just as good for eczema, ulcers, scalp sores, abscesses, piles, ringworm, boils, varicose ulcers, running sores, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. It draws all poisonous foulness from a wound or sore and then heals. Use it, too, for cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries. Zam-Buk Soap should be used in conjunction to the balm for washing wounds and sore places. Excellent too for use in bath.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. tablet. Post free upon receipt of price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

ARTHUR KING DEAD

AFTER BRUIF ILLNESS

The members of the Typographical union and hundreds of the citizens of this city were shocked to hear yesterday afternoon that Arthur King, of Princess street, had died after a very brief illness. Arthur King had been ill only about two weeks with a general breakdown. His death was caused from a break of a blood vessel in the brain. He was a man of exceptional character, and had been in the employ of the Daily Telegraph since 1871. Many years back Mr. King handled the shipping part of the paper in a satisfactory manner.

With his employers and the union men with whom he worked, Mr. King was most popular and as a workman he ranked high. He had a great liking for flowers and his spare time was devoted to the growing of plants. Year after year he planted that he performed for different citizens was of a most creditable kind.

The fact that Arthur King was dead was learned by his intimate friends with great sorrow, as he was not thought to be really seriously ill.

Arthur King was looked upon by his brother members of the union and the hundreds of other friends in the city as a man with a kind heart and most generous disposition.

Besides a wife, he leaves eight children: Arthur E. of Toronto; Fred G., of the post office department; Harry W., of Oak Hill; Percy O., of Emerson and Fisher; Gordon, at school; Mrs. E. McDonald, of Toronto; Miss Nellie, of Toronto, and Miss Gladys, living at home.

Deceased leaves four brothers and one sister at Windsor, N. S., Charles, James, William and Harry and Mrs. Russell.

Mr. King came to St. John in 1871 and went to work in the Telegraph, where he has been working ever since, until taken ill. For many years Mr. King set up new and was one of the most popular men in the union.

His death will be regretted by his fellow workmen as well as hundreds of citizens. It is probable that the funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon.

Couldn't Get Strong

Seemed to Have Lost All Ambition, Was Pale and Anaemic

Made Wonderful Recovery When Dr. Hamilton's Pills Were Used.

"I was never actually sick," writes Mrs. La Pierre, wife of a well known resident of Lapelville, "yet I never could get strong like other women. I was well enough, but somehow blood rich and red I could never make. When I married I took a great pride in my housekeeping, but it kept me tired all the time. Mrs. Lechance, my neighbor, looked well—she told me her health had been made by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I only thought of pills as a physic, but now I know that Dr. Hamilton's Pills are more, for they quickened my stomach, liver and bowels—made me stouter and stronger, gave me such color in my cheeks as I never had before. They do good to parts in ways I need not mention in this letter, but I sincerely believe Dr. Hamilton's Pills should be used at regular intervals by every woman who is not strong."

No medicine invigorates a woman like Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c per box, all dealers or the Catarthous Co., Kingston, Canada.
