

DYSPEPSIA MADE HIM MISERABLE

Suffered Agony Until
"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Him

Hundreds of people gladly testify to the wonderful curative powers of the famous fruit medicine, "Fruit-a-lives". To those now suffering with indigestion, dyspepsia or other stomach troubles, this letter of Mr. Stirling, the well known real estate operator of Western Ontario, shows the way to a speedy and certain cure.

Glencoe, Ont., Aug. 15th, 1911.

"Fruit-a-lives" were so beneficial to me when I suffered with distressing dyspepsia, that I wish to inform you of their satisfactory results.

Although I have, in past, suffered acutely with dyspepsia, I am now in perfect health. "Fruit-a-lives" accomplished the desired result.

C. STIRLING.

"Fruit-a-lives" will cure every case of indigestion, dyspepsia, Sour Stomach, Bloating, Pain After Eating, Biliousness and Constipation.

"Fruit-a-lives" is the only remedy in the world made of fruit juices and valuable tonics.

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN THE PARK HOTEL

Perth, April 17.—Through the purchase of the Central Hotel here, by Mason Johnston, two important changes will be made tomorrow in the management of well known hostelry. Hotel Perth, which has been so favorably known to travelling men for the past two years under Mr. Johnston's management, reverts to Howard P. Gibson, owner and former proprietor. Mr. Johnston, it is expected, will thoroughly renovate and enlarge the Central Hotel to a considerable extent as soon as the ground thaws.

The marriage of Beverly H. Chapman, a young farmer of Port Fairfield, Me., son of Joseph Chapman, retired sea captain, now of Cambridge, Queens county, to Miss Ina Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Page, also of Port Fairfield, was solemnized in the parlor of Hotel Perth, last night, Rev. G. B. MacDonald officiating. The groom spent a few months in St. John attending business college.

The ice is running out in the river opposite here today.

YES—WINDSOR TABLE SALT is the best TABLE SALT.

"No Ma'am, there's nothing in it but salt—just pure, clean, wholesome salt—and all salt."

"Everybody around here uses Windsor Salt, and I don't believe this store could sell any other kind of Table Salt."

"No Ma'am, we wouldn't want to handle any other salt—we like to sell Windsor Salt because we know it will please our customers."

First Photographs from Great Rebel Victory in Mexico

Rebel Leaders Who Whipped
The Pride of Madero's Army

Behind the Firing Line in the Fierce Battle of the Cottonwoods

Here are Generals Jose Campa and Abram Salazar, the two Mexican rebel leaders under Orozco, who whipped the pride of Madero's army and by so doing caused Gen. Salazar, the Mexican Minister of War, to commit suicide on the field. Campa is on the left.

Homer A. Scott, who took this photograph, was lying behind the trench with the Mexican revolutionists in the "Battle of the Cottonwoods" near Jimenez, between Chihuahua and Torreon on March 26. This photograph was taken at the height of the firing. A group of revolutionists carrying wounded companion to safety, risking their necks to do it. The Federals were routed after eight hours' hard fighting.

THE PURPLE WIDOW A LAUGHING SHOW

Fun, Fast and Furious, Enjoyed by Large Audience at the Opera House Last Evening.

A large audience attended the performance of The Purple Widow, in the Opera House last evening, and laughed until they were tired at the funniest of two very good comedians. As a musical satire on bequeathed husbands, as the production is termed, it is not a great success, as there is very little music in it, and what there is, is not of the best. As a vehicle for uproarious fun pure and clean, it is not always subtle, it is literally a howling success. There is no plot and the whole production is staged in one scene. It is merely a vehicle to introduce Billy Carlton and Lud Berkeley, two of the funniest men who have been seen on the local stage for a long time. When they are not on the stage the performance falls very flat, but as this does not occur for more than a minute or two during the whole evening, it does not suffer from that cause.

Without a doubt Carlton is the best Dutch comedian of the slapstick variety seen here for a long time. He has the dialect and a broad humorous way of expression which is very funny. Lud Berkeley, the other comedian, is a good actor, and plays the part of an alleged lunatic with a penchant for forgetting his identity, and who walks about the stage with all the grace and ease of a badly rusted automaton. He had a hard part to sustain, but he did it well and in his dry way proved an excellent foil for the riotous Dutchman.

Joseph Smith, who plays a small part in the piece, is possessed of a sweet and powerful tenor voice of good range. His solos were features of the evening. There is a small chorus, but they dance and march very well and possess the rarest attribute of chorus ladies—youth. Altogether, an evening can be made very amusing with the fun provided by The Purple Widow. A praiseworthy feature of the show, is that while it may not class with the best of the larger and more pretentious organizations, which have been seen here, it is free from all vulgarity.

WESTFIELD NEWS.

Westfield Death, April 18.—Miss Nellie King, of Westfield, has been a recent visitor here.

T. H. Bullock, of St. John, was in Westfield, returned home on Wednesday, after having spent the winter in Boston.

Dr. Day spent Sunday at his residence here.

Miss Marion Mahum, of Hilldale, spent the week-end at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Smith.

Miss Jessie Gilliland has returned to Brookville, having spent a week at her home here.

Rev. A. B. Murray, being away, there was no service in St. James church on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Magee were here one day this week from the city.

Murray Jarvis spent the week-end here.

Under the direction of the Westfield Adult Bible Class, a pleasant entertainment was held in the Westfield hall on Wednesday evening. After the programme, which was well rendered, a basket social was held. A large and appreciative audience were present. E. R. Murray was chairman and the following is a copy of the programme:

Chorus—"Blue Bells of Scotland."

By the Class.

God Save the King.

Fifteen Wagon Loads of Dead-Like This--Buried in a Single Trench

It's no comic opera revolution in Mexico, as this grim picture shows. The photographer with the rebel troops snapped this wagon load of dead Federal soldiers as they were being carted to a trench for burial. Fifteen wagon loads like this were dumped in one trench—part of the Federal loss in the battle at Corralitos, Mexico, Sunday, March 24. This battle was part of the three-day engagement which greatly advanced the rebel cause.

Homey, Yet Admired and Envid; Her Secret

The convention crowd in the lobby made a path for her, cast admiring side glances, then with longing eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Punchbowl in Detroit. The incident was recalled when I chanced to sit across table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? She wasn't handsome. She was lacking in form and feature. Yet she did seem marvelously fascinating. Her complexion must be the secret. Really, I've never held its equal. Venturing to pick up acquaintance, I learned the reason.

"I know I'm not built for beauty," she confided, "but I've tried to make the most of my charm. I've learned that men abhor make-up and artificiality. I have cosmetics; there are just two things I never use and they are no more natural loveliness and youthful appearance."

"When my complexion begins to age I get an ounce of mercurized wax at the drug store, apply it night and day, and cream and wash it off in the morning. This gradually takes off the outer skin; then I have a brand new complexion, magnificently beautiful, as you see."

WRINKLES never bother me. At their reception I bathe my face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered alum in a quart of water. I wash with it, then I have a brand new complexion, magnificently beautiful, as you see."

DURNAN AND WRAY.

The Boston Globe of last Tuesday says:

"There is every likelihood that a race will be arranged between Eddie Durnan of Toronto, champion sculler of America, and James Wray, coach of the Harvard University Boat Club."

A letter was received at the Globe today from Durnan, stating the conditions under which he is ready to meet Wray. Durnan says he will not take part in any three-cornered race for the championship, as suggested by Wray's backers, but is ready to make a match race in best boats, the same to be rowed on Toronto Bay a week or so after he meets Haines of this city.

Durnan stipulates that the stakes shall be $1,000 a side. As he will be in condition for the Haines race, he would like to have the event come close together. He adds that he has been challenged by Jack Hackett of Haines River for a return match, but will give Wray the preference. He is willing to have the conditions for the race with Wray exactly the same as those governing the Haines match.

"When the contents of Durnan's letter was read to Wray yesterday, he said he was ready to row July 24 at Toronto. This is two weeks later than the date of the Durnan-Haines match. He said he would require that time to get in condition, as his coaching season lasts until well along in June. The conditions governing the Durnan-Haines match, he said, were quite satisfactory. This decision was forwarded to Durnan yesterday by the Globe and in a few days the articles will be drawn and forwarded for Wray's signature and returned for Durnan's and then the match will be on in earnest."

Several years ago these men were on the point of being matched and both posted forfeits with the Globe, Haines match, he said, were quite satisfactory. The possibility of going on with the contest as originally planned. The elenching of this match is bound to result in a third match in

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. For two years I suffered. The doctors said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mount St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.

Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three long months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed."

"Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well woman."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.

Women who suffer from female ills should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of the most successful remedies the world has ever known, before submitting to a surgical operation.

ARNST THE CHAMPION.

Richard Arnst, world's champion sculler, who is on the way to England to fill his engagement with Ernest Barry, is due to arrive in Tilbury next Saturday. He will go direct to London, where the articles will be signed and the money posted for the forthcoming race with Wray in August.

TIGER CREW GETS READY.

Princeton, April 24.—Princeton University is getting ready for the triennial race on the Charles River to be rowed May 22 against Harvard and Cornell. The varsity is being put over many miles every day. A new racing shell has been delivered by a New York builder, which is expected to be faster than the old one. The crew is now rowing in midseason form. The following men have seats: Curtis, Payne, Lawrence, North, Briggs, Rauch, Higgins and Conington.
