Y. W. C. A. MEETING.

One hundred and fifty entertained at Travellers' Aid in one month. The report of the actual work done by the Travellers' Aid as part of Y. W. C. A. work made the monthly meeting of the directors a very interesting one. It was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the transient home, which has been established and which has already proved of great use.

Mrs. J. A. McAvity presided and there was a large attendance. Mrs. Alfred Morrissey acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. Crutshaw. For the house committee Mrs. R. A. Corbett read a report sent in by Miss L. Parks telling of the donations required for the home, the improvements made and the way in which certain plans have been carried out. The Housemother has assisted in every way to make the home easy and comfortable for the many guests who have sheltered there, and that the house has been filled has shown, as nothing else could, the necessity for such a place for women and children travelling alone.

Miss Hoyt, who is such a valued worker, gave her own report: No. trains met, 243; boats, 6; helped at station 118; taken to Y. W. C. A. 160; to trains, 65; taken to immigration office, 37; taken to hotels, 4; taken to boats, 28.

Miss Hoyt also told of assistance given at the Home and cited several ways in which the association have been glad to be of use.

Mrs. Lawrence, who was unable to be present, sent a report telling of the need for Miss Hoyt to have her well earned holiday and how it could be arranged.

Mrs. Colby Smith was appointed to arrange about card giving, the address of the Travellers' Aid, which she is to put in stations between here and Halifax.

The treasurer's report given by Mrs. McAvity was as follows:—Receipts $500.10; expenditures, $397.51; balance on hand, $102.59.

Mrs. T. Somerville was unanimously elected treasurer.

Mrs. P. R. Warren gave a splendid report on the membership and told of 78 paid members up to date. She handed in a system of cards and in other ways presented a most business like report. She was heartily thanked by those present for the deep interest she has taken and the splendid work she has done on this committee.

A plan of campaign for the fall was outlined and will probably be adopted later.

Letters were read from a secretary in Toronto and from others interested in the Y. W. C. A. Several money donations were thankfully received, including a cheque from the Playgroup association.

The silent read an article describing a pledge of the Patriotic League to the American Y. W. C. A., which answers to the league of honor pledge.

The following ladies were appointed to act on a league of honor committee: Mrs. Alfred Morrissey, Mrs. Ross, Mrs. W. C. Good, Mrs. H. Colby Smith, Mrs. J. R. Vanwart, Mrs. David Hutchinson.

(The sign showing the Travellers' Aid rooms will be put up immediately.)

SHOWING POTATO.
Proud Producer: "What do you think of that for a new potato?"
Friend: "It's not a new potato. You've shown it to me three times already."—Punch.Cocconut Oil Fine
For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Just plain multicolored coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair comes quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get multicolored coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

"A Wife by Proxy."

Mabel Taliaferro (if you call it Taliaferro, as I believe it is really called, people don't know whom you are talking about) arrives at the house of the man whose wife she becomes, just to oblige him, in a very Peg o' My Heart way with a parrot in a cage instead of a dog on a string. This Metro picture is rather different from the ones we have seen lately and contains ideas of the man who has to marry before a certain date. In this case the man tried the housekeeper first as a possible wife, but she was so homely he decided he really could not marry her, so he calls on Jerry (Mabel Taliaferro) the little Irish waif whom he has befriended. She, like most of her nation, is a devoted friend and will do anything she can for the man who has been kind to her; also she has native sense and shrewdness and soon finds out that shallowness, to put it mildly, of the blonde person. It struck me that the vampire must have had to pick and choose her conversation carefully or she would surely have been shocked and disgusted such a fastidious person as the hero of this play, but perhaps she put her slang and coarseness away with her cigarette.

As was the feature there was a world tour showing the place about which the well known poem was written "If I Were a Casanova." (I'm doubtful about the spelling and I don't believe very many can correct me either); also a Pathe British Gazette, which is always so simply splendid.

The moving picture machine operators and theatrical stage employees of Halifax have secured a charter in the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees of U. S. and Canada. The number of this local is 497, and the charter gives them jurisdiction over all operators and stage employees in the maritime provinces.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are:—P. P. Mettler, president; Tom S. Daley, vice-president; H. J. Ward, financial secretary; A. A. MacDonald, corresponding secretary; Strand Theatre, Halifax; W. B. Fox, recording secretary; A. Flynn, J. O'Brien, E. Harrington, trustees; M. Lannigan, sergeant-at-arms.

Mr. Daley, the vice-president, is a former St. John boy, having been operator at the Gem Theatre for a number of years.

LYRIC.

"The Lonesome Chap."

House Peters. "Nuff said. Here's the story: Stuart Kirkwood, a wealthy young miner, built for himself a big home in the hills in preparation for his marriage to Peggy Carter, the daughter of a neighbor. Peggy meets George Rothwell, a mining promoter, and, on the eve of her wedding, flees with him. At the station they meet Rothwell's wife, Peggy starts to return home, pursued by Rothwell. Rothwell is thrown over a cliff and in attempting to save him they both lose their lives. At the same time, in attempting to rescue imprisoned miners, Victor D'Armand, a miner, is injured and before he dies Stuart Kirkwood promises to look after his daughter, Renee. Stuart sends the child to school and she returns as her eighteenth birthday approaches and Stuart is deeply in love with her.

While at school Renee meets George Rothwell, Jr., son of the man who had wrecked Stuart's happiness. Rothwell falls in love with Renee and when he is invited to Stuart's home he proposes to Renee. This is overheard by "Doc" Nelson, Stuart's partner, who tells the boy how his father had come into Stuart's life. The young chap starts to leave the house when Stuart stops him, telling him that if Renee really loves him, he can have her.

Feeling that the second love of his life is lost, Stuart prepares to leave for a long trip, when he comes upon Renee, sobbing her heart out over the fact, and it is not until Stuart takes her into his arms that he realizes Renee has loved him always.

So, Good Bye.

This is the first appearance as co-stars of Louis Huff and House Peters, both of whom are immensely popular. The rest of this production, placed high in the beautiful Sierras.

War Trade Has Greatly Increased
Likely to be Very Prosperous and Steel Products—M
the-War Foreign Trade
Steel Industries

The war trade in the iron and steel industry is small and large iron and steel plants combined in 1916 was for steel shipbuilding program will keep shells and other fighting material.

In the postal census taken in for the previous year was worth $34,000,000 was in war trade, not was generally supposed to be in war would, however, show a much larger did the figures of this last postal census.

There were 849 iron and steel their total capital was around $19 numbered about 50,000, and the the value of the output was $119, years, but figures which have been compared with 1910 the iron and taken in 1916 showed as follows:

No. of places	Capital.
1910.....824	$123,561,3
1915.....849	194,178,4

Canada's largest iron and steel the Maritime Provinces. Heretofore of the Dominion has been in the province and Quebec. There are now quick provinces, and the shipbuilding boom increase the industries in that province Nova Scotia Steel and Coal, two established in the Maritime Province.

The iron and steel industries include tool factories, and numerous other are made of iron or steel or both other products come under iron and Canada's iron and steel exports twelve months ended March, 1917, than $12,000,000. Of the 1916 export and nearly $5,000,000 to the United States.

The iron and steel imports in including dutiable and free products valued at $75,000,000, and for the year is thus increasing her iron and steel increasing her exports. Most of the Canada after the war will be iron and steel manufactures than e with the cessation of such war order importation of iron and steel products will turn their attention toward a bigger share of the foreign trade.

Canada's foreign trade in iron and have been. Since the war it has been with France. Many of the iron and steel classifications have automobile parts, sewing machines, a large number of the Canadian including the markets of the other Russia and of South America. An Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company a good share of the Russian orders. in the Russian language, and had considerable money in cultivating the Russia.

Several of the Canadian steel supplies which cannot be filled until keep the plants busy for several years shipbuilding boom will prove another output, and will, doubtless, result both in the east and the west.

There have been large exports of France. The exports of steel products have greatly increased since 1914 substantially increased, and in the to Canada in iron and steel products in such products is the United States have doubled and trebled in many in From a trade balance standpoint, Canada never made a better showing than a.

Just how long the war will last as the larger steel companies of Canada which will keep their plants busy months the profits from war orders have been making careful preparation the long run is the most profitable.

Thus while the steel plants of Canada as required, they will be found ready ordinary peace trade, which, with Belgium, as well as the increased demand likely to keep them busy for many years.

Not while Canada's iron and steel of $120,000,000 will it be possible to steel plants. The iron and steel industry of activity which will exceed all previous.
