SEATS ALLOTTED IN PARLIAMENT

Foster is Borden's Right-hand Man, With Monk Next in Honors.

Ottawa, Nov. 12—The new arrangement of seats in the house of commons, consequent on the result of the elections, transfers the Conservatives to the right instead of the left of the speaker and has been settled by the whips of the two parties.

Premier Borden, of course, exchanges places with Sir Wilfrid Laurier and will continue to keep as his deskmate the Hon. George E. Foster, who takes the Hon. William Paterson's old seat on the premier's right.

The Hon. F. D. Monk, minister of public works and the leader of the Nationalist wing in the new government, takes precedence over the other ministers by being given the seat in the front row, on the premier's left, formerly occupied by Finance Minister Fielding. To his left and as his deskmate is the Hon. W. T. White, the new finance minister. Next to Hon. Mr. White is the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, with Deputy Speaker Blondin as his deskmate.

To the left of Mr. Foster on the front row, on the government benches, are the Hon. Robert Rogers and the Hon. Frank Cochrane. The rest of the government row is composed of the Hon. John Haggart, Houghton Lennox, W. F. MacLean, P. E. Lamarche and F. R. Lawlor.

Andrew Broder, who was a front rank man on the Conservative side in the last parliament and who was at the last minute turned down for the portfolio, is now relegated to the second row. In the second row of the cabinet ministers the Hon. C. J. Doherty takes the seat of the last minister of justice, Sir Alan Aylesworth, directly behind Mr. Borden, having as his deskmate the Hon. J. D. Reid, who occupies the Hon. Mr. Graham's old seat.

The Hon. Martin Burrell and the Hon. T. W. Crothers and the Hon. J. D. Hazen and the Hon. Sam Hughes are deskmates in the second row.

In the third row directly behind the premier are the Hon. Dr. Roche and the Hon. Mr. Nantel with the ministers without portfolios, the Honorables Mr. Kemp and Perley, on their right.

On the Liberal side of the house the seat next to Sir Wilfrid is left for the present unoccupied, presumably being left either for the Hon. W. S. Fielding or the Hon. George P. Graham, who will probably re-enter the house after Christmas.

On Sir Wilfrid's left, in the seat formerly occupied by Dr. Sproule, the new speaker, is the Hon. Dr. Pugsley, who has as his deskmate the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux.

The other front bench occupants are Hon. Frank Oliver, the Hon. Dr. Beland, Hon. Jacques Bureau, the Hon. Charles Murphy, Hon. Charles Marcil, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, E. M. MacDonald and Robert Bickerdike and the Hon. W. A. Charlton.

Directly behind Sir Wilfrid are F. F. Pardee, with Hugh Guthrie as his deskmate. Near them in the second row are F. B. Carvell, Hon. A. K. McLean, W. F. German and A. H. Clarke.

HIS JUSTIFICATION.

"The trouble with you, Dobby," said Wilkins, "is that you bother too much over little things. It has become a habit with you."

"Well, it would become a habit with you, too, if you had a pair of three-months-old twins in the house," retorted Dobby.—Harper's Weekly.

SAYS WOMEN CAN KEEP A SECRET

English Clergyman Thinks They Are Close Mouthed as Men

ESTABLISHES AN ORDER

Rev. Dr. Cobb Has Founded the Honorable Fraternity of Ancient Masonry to Which He Admits Women—He Maintains That the Term "Brotherhood" is a Contradiction if it Does Not Include Sisters.

London, Oct. 21—There is nothing in masonry, says the Rev. Dr. Cobb, founder of the Honorable Fraternity of Ancient Masonry, that forbids the inclusion of women, and he adds that they are quite as capable of preserving the secrets of the society as the men. So women are admitted to his fraternity—and the rest of the masonic world is laughing.

Dr. Cobb is the vicar of St. Ethelburga's, a tiny, picturesque, ancient church in the heart of the old city of London, and it was here I found him.

"I belonged to the Grand Lodge of England for many years," he said, "but I saw that few people took it seriously. Though, of course, they keep up a large number of charitable institutions, they do little else but eat dinners. Originally masonry was a religious movement, which insisted that spiritual life was the most important. In the process of time, the spiritual side of masonry has been lost to sight, and it has become too materialistic. Some years ago I was attracted to a form of masonry practised by Anine Besant, and becoming interested in it, I joined. But I found her too autocratic altogether. All members were bound in obedience to her, and this seemed inconsistent with the spirit of masonry as I understand it. So I left her society and some time after I and a few friends—we were five in all—decided to found a lodge of our own. Now we number 150.

"The aim of our fraternity and the aim of the church are identical. I take it that aim is to deepen the spiritual life. This being so, there is no argument that can be brought forward to uphold the exclusion of women. The term 'brotherhood' is a contradiction if it does not include them. There are a large number of unattached masons who, like myself, take no part in lodge activities owing to the failure of English masonry to satisfy their spiritual needs. Our order should meet their requirements, and in addition it enables the mason to bring his wife and daughter into his masonic life.

"What does the Grand Lodge of England say to your innovation?"

"Of course, they have called us to book severely about it. But I maintain that I have done nothing to violate the ancient traditions of masonry. According to the rules, I took an oath to reveal the secrets of masonry to none but masons, and this I have kept. The members are duly initiated and all the proper ceremonies are reverently carried out. The objection raised by the Grand Lodge of England that no one is at liberty to establish a lodge without its consent is an old one. It is the plea that whatever is right and that all attempt at reform is wrong. Such objections have been raised through all ages, dating from the time when the Pharisees objected to the preaching of Christ in Palestine.

"Furthermore, the feminist movement cannot be ignored. Looking back on the events of the last few years it can be seen how disastrous has been the absence of a policy as regards this movement, and the result has been a course of events of which no nation can be proud. Such a position is not one that masonry can afford to risk. To exclude woman as a sex is to court early disaster, so let us be beforehand and welcome her gladly."

"And you find that women keep the great secret perfectly?"

"Perfectly," replied Dr. Cobb. "The secrets of masonry cannot be told."

the association and the Medical Society was heard on behalf of this project and on the motion of Councillor Frink the council decided to place in next year's estimates an appropriation for this purpose.

The council had no information, however, as to the probable cost and the amount of money required and there was no definite information as to how and by whom the institution should be conducted. Until this information is received the council can go no further. If the association wishes the money to be available next year they will have to move promptly as the estimates for the year will soon be made up.

Smithtown Entertainment and Pie Social.

Smithtown, Nov. 9—An entertainment and pie social that was universally pronounced a success was held in Lower Smithtown hall Wednesday evening, Nov. 8. The entertainment opened with an instrumental solo by Miss Henderson, and followed by vocal duets by Miss Appleby and Mr. Alden; solo by Roy Bonnie; readings from Hatty Henderson and J. Clarence Henderson; recitation from Miss Annie Beyea, and violin and piano duet by Miss Smith and Mr. Yeomans.

After the entertainment followed the selling of the pies and baskets, all being artistically decorated. Home-made candy was readily disposed of. There was a bean guessing contest; the prize, a beautiful cake, was won by John Leslie.

N. Bonnie performed the duty of chairman and auctioneer, and was very happy to announce at the close that $42 clear of expenses had been realized. This amount will be spent for the building of a shed at the Baptist church, Smithtown.

SUING BANK.

J. C. Mackintosh, J. E. Wood, A. F. Mackintosh and H. H. Smith are bringing suit in the supreme court of New Brunswick against the Bank of New Brunswick, claiming $38,107 on a check, etc., and the writ has been issued accordingly. This is in connection with some transactions of the Charlotte street branch.

W. Malcolm Mackay is bringing suit in the same court against Furness, Withy & Co., Ltd., for $1,000, alleging negligence.

CAUGHT MAN WHO ESCAPED FROM NEWCASTLE JAIL

Campbellton Policemen Eat Tinned Rabbit and Are Now Under the Doctor's Care.

Campbellton, N. B., Nov. 10—A clever arrest was made this evening by Officer Savoie, of the I. C. R. police, when he apprehended Isaac Vouteour, who was wanted in Newcastle on a charge of breaking jail. He was awaiting trial at Newcastle on a charge of creating a disturbance on a train, and broke out of jail about a month ago and has since been in the woods. Vouteour belongs to Campbellton and is a truckman. He was escorted back to Newcastle tonight in the custody of Officer Savoie.

Campbellton ran a narrow chance of losing part of her police force. Officer Harris, who takes his meals at a small lunch wagon, took ill after partaking of tinned rabbit on Wednesday evening, and is still confined to his room. The proprietor of the wagon himself took ill last night and tonight Officer Brown was attacked with the same symptoms. In the latter cases the illness was slight.

Of Interest to Women

Borax is one of the best exterminators for ants. Pantry shelves and cracks should be sprinkled well with it.

If the clothes stick to a wound do not try to pull them off, but moisten with warm olive oil.

If the floors of a closet are wiped with gasoline or benzine after being scrubbed it helps to keep off insects.

If curtains hang near the gas, sew small lead weights in the seams. This will keep them from blowing into the flame.

Corn and tomatoes are excellent canned together. Cook together and seal. This makes a tempting dish for winter.

The addition of a teaspoonful of paraffin to every gallon of water used for boiling clothes will help to remove stains.

Fly specks and dirt on mirror surfaces may be rubbed off with a cream made of whiting and alcohol.

If a pair of kid gloves tried for the first time seem too small warm them and they will easily slip over the hands.

After greasing pans for small cakes, dust with flour thickly, shaking out all that is loose. It will prevent sticking.

To keep jellies from moulding, keep a box or bunches of thyme where the jellies are stored, which should be in a dark place.

Most modern brassware is lacquered and needs only to be wiped off with a damp cloth. Work quickly and do not let the surface get wet.

A little muriatic acid added to the rinsing water after a blue or white fire rug is scrubbed with soap and water will help to restore the color.

A perforated rubber mat is almost an essential when the drain board of the sink is of porcelain. It saves many an ugly chip on the fine china.

The small jars in which candy sometimes comes should be saved for picnic use and lunches, as they are excellent for carrying salad and sauces.

Do not wash colored fabrics in the same water with white ones. This especially holds good if one happens to have table linen with colored borders.

If one has baked beans left and does not wish to use them warmed over, try making them into a salad or soup. They are excellent either way.

Peaches and cream is a traditional favorite, but not many know that a dish fully as good is ripe pears and cream. The pears should be very cold.

It is a good plan to place pieces of cotton flannel between plates when they are piled in the china closet. It reduces the danger of breakage and prevents rattling.

To run rods through the sash curtains put a thimble on the end of the rod, or the fingers of an old glove, and the rod will slip through without tearing the fabric.

For falling hair try massaging the scalp nightly with a lotion made of three drams of pure glycerine, four ounces of lime water and half an ounce of tincture of cantharides.

A clean cloth dipped in hot water, then in a saucer of bran, will speedily clean white paint without scratching it in the least. The soft bran acts like soap on the dirt.

Little white spots on the nails are generally caused by the use of a hard instrument in pushing the cuticle back from the nail. An orangewood stick should be used instead.

A sweet for winter use is a marmalade made of equal parts of quince and apple. The combination is decidedly tasty and not so rich a compote as when quince alone is used.

To clean gilt, try touching it up a little at a time with a camel's hair brush dipped in alcohol. Do not let it dry, but rub off with a flannel, which should be changed frequently.

Before washing ebony brushes smear a little good vaseline over the backs. This prevents the ammonia or soda water in which they are washed from injuring the ebony. The vaseline should afterward be carefully rubbed off and the backs polished with dry cloths.

MISSING MONTREAL GIRL FOUND DEAD IN QUARRY POND

Mother Says She Consulted a Medium About Her Child and She Told Her Where to Find Body.

Montreal, Nov. 12—The body of sixteen-year-old Marie Louise Marion, who disappeared from her home on Sanguinet street three weeks ago, was found yesterday in forty-two feet of water in a quarry in the north end of the city on the banks of which the girl's clothes had been found.

The quarry was dragged at the time of the girl's disappearance without result but recently her mother came to police headquarters begging that another attempt be made as she was sure her girl was there and did not believe that the clothes were placed there to cover an elopement.

When asked why she was so positive she told a strange story of going to a spiritualistic medium who threw a young girl into a trance. The young girl was then asked questions after some of the missing girl's clothes had been placed in her hand and talking in her trance she said she saw the missing girl walking with two men along a road. She then said she saw her body lying in deep water but the water was not the river and described the position of the body and the missing girl. The description tallied with the position in which the body was found and the mother states that until she lost her daughter she was in no way acquainted with the supposed medium. An autopsy will be held.

WELL-KNOWN PEDDLAR FOUND DEAD ON ROAD IN CARLETON COUNTY

Fredericton, Nov. 10—Thomas Kelly, an aged peddler known all over this section of the province as "Kelly, the Peddler," was found dead on a road near Holmesville, Carleton county, a few days ago.

Kelly was found lying across the road with his pack close by. The coroner, Dr. M. E. Cummings, on being notified, pronounced that death was due to exposure. From the direction which the unfortunate man was taking it is thought altogether likely that he was making for his son's home in Johnville to spend the winter when death overtook him.

The old man was upright and honorable in all his dealings and came to this country from Ireland when a small boy. As to his age there is some doubt, but it is known that while in St. Marys last summer he confided to some of the residents there that he was then about to celebrate his 100th birthday.

BONAR LAW HAS RELATIVES IN HALIFAX

Halifax, Nov. 12—(Special)—John Kidson, of Halifax, is a cousin of Andrew Bonar Law, the new leader of the British Unionist party. Mr. Kidson is a farmer on the outskirts of the city and is a prosperous milk dealer. His place is a well known point for visitors, called the Rocking Stone. This is an immense boulder ten or twelve feet square, resting on a ledge so that it can be swayed by one's shoulder or by a wooden lever at the bottom.

Mr. Kidson's father was a brother of Bonar Law's mother. When a boy Law spent some time with his uncle at the Rocking Stone. A sister of Bonar Law's mother was the wife of the late Rev. Principal MacKenzie, for many years head of the Presbyterian College in Halifax. Mrs. MacKenzie was a strong minded woman, very decided in her opinions, and somewhat eccentric.

Bonar Law's grandfather on the maternal side was a captain in the mercantile marine and his son settled in Halifax at the Rocking Stone, where the family have remained ever since.

NOVA SCOTIA MAN FATALLY SHOOTS HIMSELF IN WOODS

Searching Party Found Henry Hardy Too Late to Save Him—Had Bled to Death.

Halifax, Nov. 12—(Special)—Henry Hardy, of Gabarus, aged 23, was the victim of a shooting accident, self-inflicted, near Forchu. The young man went hunting and the gun accidentally went off, the bullet penetrating his foot. He lay on the ground from 3 o'clock until 10 p. m. when he was found by a searching party. He died shortly after being found, as a result of loss of blood. He was lying in a pool of blood which ran from his wounded foot. He lived long enough to tell the party who found him that he had accidentally shot himself in the foot.

MONTREAL HERO SAVED THREE LIVES

Joseph Welland Carried Two Children from Burning Room and Then Jumped With Another Into a Tarpaulin; Both Injured.

Montreal, Nov. 12—The heroism of a young man, Joseph Welland, and the ability of two Dominion Transport Company employes to change a tarpaulin into a life saving net, were responsible for the saving of three lives today when fire broke out in a boarding house at 81 St. Hubert street.

The fire started on the second floor and a Mrs. Bailey and two children, on the third story, were too terrified to attempt to escape down the stairs. Welland dashed through the smoke and flame and brought the two children down, calling to the mother to follow. She was overcome with terror, however.

Welland then drenched his clothes with water and made another trip upstairs. He reached the woman's room, but their escape was cut off by fire. Going to the window he called to two men to stretch their tarpaulin as a net and he and Mrs. Bailey jumped into it. The tarpaulin partly broke their fall. Mrs. Bailey received spinal injuries, while Welland dislocated his hip.

POTATOES HIGHER ACROSS MAINE LINE

Southampton, N. B., Nov. 9—After a touch of winter here, the ploughing had about stopped, but a warm rain came and the weather is now almost like June. The potato crop has been very large this year, and of good quality. At Woodstock potatoes are bringing $1.60 for a 180 lb. barrel, while at Presque Isle, last week, the price was $1.90 for a 165 lb. barrel.

The Southampton Railway is well under way and it is expected that trains will be running as far as Pinder's by Christmas and that the line from Millville to Hakshaw will be completed by spring.

A fire that is supposed to have been of incendiary origin consumed three barns, the property of Joseph Oldhouse, on Thanksgiving Day. The loss was about $2,000, with insurance amounting to $200.

Dr. Coffin, of Hawkshaw, has removed to Bathurst. He was very popular and will be greatly missed.

Harry Grant and John Rockwell have returned from Saskatchewan and will spend the winter here. They expect to return in the spring and begin farming.
