ONLY SEVEN.

[A Pastoral Story, after Wordsworth.]

I never'll see a simple child,
That lightly dresses its head,
Should utter groans so very wild,
And look so pale as dead.

Adopting a parental look,
The dame answered, with a frown,
"I've got a son like that,
And he's a poor man's son."

"I thought it would have cost me more,
To have a child like that,
But I'm glad you have one,
For he's a good man's son."

"And are you sure you took no more,
My little maid?" quoth she,
"Oh, please sit, mother, and be sure,
But they were in a plea!"

"I'm glad you've had seven,"
"Of course you've had seven,"
"I had more than seven,"
"I had more than seven!"

I wonder hugely what she meant,
"You'll never go to heaven!"
"But all in vain, each child I try,
The little maid makes reply."

"I don't look more than seven!"
"I don't look more than seven!"
"I don't look more than seven!"
"I don't look more than seven!"

POSTSCRIPT.
To borrow Wordsworth's name was wrong,
Or slightly misapplied,
As I'll confess to you,
Lines after Anne's maid.

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Look out for the comet. Thereby hangs a tale.

It is said that those Iowa grasshoppers which at Paris green and snail at hot water.

A boot black's father says he never enjoys himself more than when he sees the "son a shoo."

Fossil oyster beds have been discovered above the snow line on the Rocky Mountains.

A Father in Wisconsin offered his son five dollars to take a dose of castor oil, and then got a counterfeit bill off the boy.

The Rochester Chronicle offers three cents per pound for postpaid contributions, and writers are not limited as to subjects.

A Philadelphia gentleman advertises a soap that is destined to wipe out the national debt. There is probably some "eye" about it.

Samuel Giddings of Springfield, O., is the father of 23 children. It is to be hoped that with all his Gettings he got understanding.

A Western woman shot her husband's horse rather than have it sold. She took it in her lap nearly all day.

It is reported that Underwood, the condemned murderer, has been given the choice of several modes of death, and he elects to become a charioter at the New York Hippodrome.

They bathe less at Newport than at any other seaside resort in the United States. Why? Because it isn't fashionable, and the majority of ladies there don't appear to advantage in bathing costume!

A wedding in Agawan, Mass., was presented a few nights ago by the unexpected appearance of a lady who had a prior claim upon the groom's affections. Some women are so intrinsic.

Circumstances alter cases. For instance, when a Virginian arose in church and said, "Here's a hundred dollar bill for the old hound behind the pulpit!" no one thought of putting him out.

A Virginia City (Nev.) lawyer has this notice placarded on the door of his office: "All book peddlers and canvassers who enter herein will be ruthlessly slaughtered and destroyed."

We find the following item in an Illinois paper: "Mr. John Jones who has been in retirement for a few weeks, after having been buried for three days, came out smilingly to the altar again yesterday, having begun on a new religion."

A Brooklyn young woman, who abandoned her old husband, says: "He was too soft. I couldn't be hugging and kissing him all the while—it isn't my disposition. I couldn't bear to be obliged to sit on his lap and cuddle him every time I wanted a kiss."

A dog-slayer, at Vicksburg, Miss., the other day fired at a dog and killed a hog some little distance from it. He will have to pay damages for not aiming at the hog, as he had done so the dog would doubtless have been the victim.

Coroner Bacon of Buffalo saved a lady from drowning on Friday last. Her beauty and cries for help overcame the prospect of a fee. It is to be hoped that the lady's friends will see that the Coroner does not lose by his self-sacrificing heroism.

The Denver News man says that O'Connell couldn't hold a candle to the Comet, for the brazen Moor unfolded a "plain, unvarnished tale" of only three sticks, or so, whereas the comet can go him 8,000,000 miles better, and without varnish, too.

"The Cousins doesn't dress like her brothers of the bar," says the Chicago Tribune, by way of commencing an item. That's undoubtedly true; she dresses by putting on her clothes over her head, while they don't, and what's more, they can't. But what business is it of the Tribune's, anyhow?

The Troy Times says: "Recently, at a church fair on Ida Hill, a large and frosted cake was offered to the parishioner who should guess nearest to the correct weight, at 10 cents a guess. The pastor urged a young lawyer to invest a dime. The practitioner replied: 'I'll play you a game of euchre to see who gets the cake, but I don't understand the other game.'"

Fall River seems to be the only large manufacturing town in New England where manufacturers are making much money. Lowell has not yet recovered from the panic, and while large sales have been made by corporations the margin of profit is small. Woolen interests in the vicinity of Providence are a standstill, some of the manufacturers being scarcely able to hold their heads above water. The prospects are that the starvation wages paid to operatives will be even more reduced if the mills are to be kept running.

What a thing fame is!

This is the way in which one of our French contemporaries, the Messager, describes that little duclet at Bunker's Hill: "On the 17th of June 1776, the American volunteers, commanded by Gen. Artemus Ward, attacked and thoroughly beat the British troops near Charlestown, in Massachusetts."

The various Government bureaus at Washington are generally supposed to be a machine which prints all letters instead of writing them, and which can print, it is claimed, faster than a person can write.

A clerk in the Post Office Department has written fifty-two words per minute with this machine.

Give us the peripatetic circus manager for sensational novelties in advertising. His latest exploits of promiscuity has been to announce that up in Wisconsin, his mammoth, golden, Semiramitish band wagon ran over and killed "Black Eagle, the last chief of the once powerful Iroquois tribe."

It is related of Sir James Simpson, the celebrated English physician, that the Duchess of Buccleuch drove up to his door and sent her footman to tell him that she wanted without. "Tell the Duchess," he replied, "that Dr. Simpson is engaged with a washer woman."

Simpson says he never had the ability to manage a small church. Small churches are like canoes that speed unless you walk just so, while a big church is like a great steamboat that allows you to walk here or there without throwing it off an even keel.

An enterprising superintendent of one of the Sunday schools at St. Albans, Vt., was engaged one Sunday in ascertaining the scholars, rapping the usual form by beginning at the end of the catechism. After asking what were the prerequisites of the holy communion and confirmation, and receiving satisfactory replies, he asked, "And now, boys, tell me what must precede baptism?" Whereupon a lively robin shouted out, "A baby, sir."
