

THE SONGS OF OLD
The songs of old are a dear old
Lies in the old familiar words
Once sung by these we loved so well
In other days, in happier mood
Visions of hope long passed away
Come of the heart's love and cold
And memory asks, where, where are they
Who sweetly sang the songs of old?

Where are they? On some foreign land
Beneath the mountain yew-tree's gloom
Others, within the boundless deep
Have early found an ocean tomb
Dim are the eyes that brightly shone
The once warm heart has still and cold
And hushed for ever, forever gone
The voice that sang the songs of old.

Where are they? On some foreign land
For many a weary day they roam
Wherever they travel stranger's land
From friends and home and home
Do they not long to join once more
The joyous dance, the social throng
And mingle, as in days of yore
Their voices in the songs of old?

Fondly the heart seems to linger
Amid the ruins of the past—
Tracing with fancy's fairy finger
Visions too beautiful to last—
Bringing to memory's eye again
The long lost friends, the cherished ones;
Waking the past with old and strain
Scene well remembered scenes again.

Here is a fifty year old Jean d'Esprit that is quite as good as new. A rich old gentleman, of the name of Gault, married a girl not out of her teens. After the wedding, he wrote the following couplet, to inform a friend of the happy event:

You see, my dear doctor,
Though eighty years old,
I fall in love with old Gault!

To which the doctor replied:
A girl of nineteen
May love Gault it is true,
But believe me, dear sir,
It is gold without a price!

What is meant by the definition of the words? asked a friend of a female pupil. "When it runs up into the quick of the nail," was the ready reply.

Mrs. Partridge is in New York. She went up from Boston as soon as she learned by telegraph that gold was falling rapidly in Wall street, but after several unsuccessful attempts to get into the shower, is going back a disappointed woman.

Not unlike this was the retort of the young lady to an aged lover whose name was Page. He found one of the dancer's gloves and returned it with these lines:

If from your glove you take the letter G
Then glove is love, which I devote to thee.

She answered:
If from your name you take the letter P
Then Page is love, and that won't do for me.

THE COPY OF THE ORIGINAL. A daguerotype just lately took the portrait of a lady in such an admirable manner that her husband preferred it to the original.

DR. GREEN'S Vegetable Tolu Syrup.
THIS OLD, time tried, standard remedy still maintains its popularity. When all others have proved inefficient, the Syrup alone continues to give satisfaction.

USE IT FOR

COUGHS, COLDS, CATHARRH, ASTHMA, CROUP, INOPIENT CONSUMPTION, and all diseases of the THROAT, CHEST, AND LUNGS.

TWENTY YEARS AGO this Syrup first made its appearance; and even then its primitive and imperfect state produced such extraordinary results that it became, at once a general favorite. Many have made it their ally.

For as more than half the diseases "to which flesh is heir" originates from colds, so this may be considered a general preventive of all diseases, by removing the principal cause.

ADULTS
SHOULD ALWAYS KEEP THIS FAMILY PHYSICIAN at hand; and by its timely use save hundreds of dollars that would otherwise be swallowed up in discharging doctor's fees.

I do hereby certify that I have analyzed Dr. Ward's Dead Shot Worm Candy, and to the public I would say that they contain nothing that is in the least injurious to the youngest infant. They are entirely vegetable, and possess these truly antelmintic qualities which above all others are preferable as exterminators of the common Tape Worm.
