CURRENT TRADE CONDITIONS.

ONTARIO. The close of the year finds Ontario lumber in a strong position. Notwithstanding the activity in manufacturing, millmen have been able to dispose of a very large percentage of their cut and are carrying light stocks in their yards. Box lumber, mill culls and dead culls in pine have passed out of manufacturers' hands almost entirely, and it would be difficult to find a large block of any of these grades. The upply of dressing and better, which has sold more slowly during the fall months, is somewhat larger but not above an average stock. An Ollawa valley manufacturer reports that he has sold all his lumber and anticipates higher prices during the coming year. Conditions in the hardwood trade are equally favorable. Earlier in the scason it was feared that there might be a large stock of hardwood logs taken out, but later reports show that a conservative policy is being pursued. We look for hardwood prices to continue firm and perhaps advance during the coming spring unless unusually favorable weather should encourage increased logging operations.

The present demand is confined largely to the lower grades of pine lumber and to such hardwoods as are required by implement, furniture, and other consuming factories. There is very little doing in shingles and lath, and prices, if anything, are inclined to be a little casier.

QUEBEC AND NEW BRUNSWICK.

Prices of spruce lumber keep firm, not because of the demand, which is only moderate, but owing to the light supply. It is said that some manufacturers are
