Object.—The China Inland Mission was formed under a deep sense of China's pressing need, and with an earnest desire, constrained by the love of CHRIST and the hope of His coming, to obey His command to preach the Gospel to every creature. Its aim is, by the help of GOD, to bring the Chinese to a saving knowledge of the love of GOD in CHRIST, by means of itinerant and localised work throughout the whole of the interior of China.

Character.—The Mission is Evangelical, and embraces members of all the leading denominations of Christians.

Methods.—Methods somewhat unusual and peculiar were adopted for working the newly proposed organisation. It was determined:—

1. That duly qualified candidates for missionary labour should be accepted without restriction as to denomination, provided there was soundness in the faith in all fundamental truths.
2. That all who went out as Missionaries should go in dependence upon GOD for temporal supplies, with the clear understanding that the Mission did not guarantee any income whatever; and knowing that, as the Mission would not go into debt, it could only minister to those connected with it as the funds sent in from time to time might allow.

Support.—The Mission is supported entirely by the free-will offerings of the LORD'S people. The needs of the work are laid before GOD in prayer, no personal solicitations or collections being authorised. No more is expended than is thus received, going into debt being considered inconsistent with the principle of entire dependence upon GOD.

Progress.—1032 stations and out-stations have been opened and occupied either by Missionaries or native labourers. Since 1865 21,648 converts have been baptized; and there are now (1906) 14,078 communicants in fellowship.

Donations and Correspondence to be addressed to the Secretary at any of above addresses.
