PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

KINGS CO., P. E. I.
LOVER MONTAGUE, May 22.—Since my last writing we are having very fine weather. This week is very hot. Mostly everybody has started plowing. Very little grain has been sown yet. Grass is hardly coming owing to the lateness of the season. We have had no rain yet, and it is very much needed. Fodder is very scarce and stock are being shorn to get the grass for too soon. Hay is up to $2 a ton, and is very hard to get. Little pigs are nearly as hard in price as hogs. The price of eggs is keeping up well. The potatoes, 45¢ a bush. The Government has men on the road giving demonstrations in spraying of fruit trees. Egg circles are established all over the island now thanks to Mr. Benson's good management. Butter is very scarce. 25¢ to 26¢ a lb.

QUEBEC.

RICHMOND CO., QUE.
DANVILLE, May 22.—Notwithstanding the cold weather the first part of the month, seedling has gone on quite rapidly. The ground is in good condition. We have very warm weather this last week and the grass is coming on fine. Stock are in good condition, although many farmers were short of hay. Good products are still bringing good prices. Butter, 25¢; eggs, 20¢; M. D. B.

HASTINGS CO., ONT.
CHAPMAN, May 23.—Spring seedling is completed and farmers are busy preparing their land for corn and potatoes. We have had very little rain since seedling began, and the land has in most cases been sown in good condition. Pastures are fairly good and the milk yield is increasing daily. Potatoes are very scarce just now and sell for $3.50 a bag. Hogs have dropped to 8¢—H. B. T. PETERBORO CO., ONT.

LAKEFIELD, May 23.—Next to doing a thing yourself the best way to learn is to see it done. The beekeepers in this vicinity are going to learn a lot about bees by seeing a demonstration at the house of Mr. F. R. White, of this village, on June 9th at 1:30 p.m. sharp. A qualified apiary instructor is to be sent by the Ontario Department of Agriculture to show us how to examine hives for disease and will actually put a hive through the cure. I hope that all beekeepers who use this department will be with us at Mr. White's house.

ONTARIO CO., ONT.
UTICA, May 23.—Seldom have we had a spring so altogether favorable to seedling. The ground has been dry and easily sown. We have had a little more rain than usual with several showers of rain. We have been discussing the Mokone and tree recently, and, like me, they count an outrage. I wonder if all the farmers in Canada could get $45,000,000 if they wanted it. There was a great snow when we got $10,000,000 spread over 10 years.—L.

WATERLOO CO., ONT.
ELMIRA, May 23.—Seedling is all done in good shape. Late grain is coming out. Small wheat is about a 50 per cent crop; considerable reserves to barley and peas, also some grass plowed up and seed is holding out well. Cattle sell at good prices. Hogs are nearly all shipped to good prices for good young pigs high, does to good.—A. J. R.

ELGIN CO., ONT.
TALBOTVILLE, May 23.—This is the weather that makes the farmers rush to get their plowing finished. We see the teams in all directions carrying over for seed and plowing. We are plowing and extending for the corn and potatoes. What is very prospect for a good fruit crop. If the blight is a correct sign, there is shooting up in a satisfactory manner, and a good crop is assured. Prices are good and everything is going all right.—J. K. O.

MIDDLESEX CO., ONT.
ILBERTON, May 23.—Seedling is pretty well finished and the farmers are busy getting their corn ground ready. We had a big rain at the end of last week. Apple buds are just coming out. The weather is very hot, but crops are as ripe as looking well.—W. F.

BRISTOL CO., ONT.
HARROW, May 23.—Many farmers in our district have started planting corn and others have finished. While there is an urge now to get to plowing, there is an urge as plentiful as in former years, but farmers have been making good progress in the past few days of rain. The weather is very hot, but crops are as ripe as looking well.—W. F.
