MISS PAULINE JOHNSON.

The falling asleep of Miss Pauline Johnson will be regretted by Canadians generally, but especially by residents of this city and county to the hearts of many of whom she was very dear.

Residing at Chiefswood on the Grand River, and later for many years in Brantford, she was long a familiar figure, and her literary success was a source of legitimate pride to many of us.

She was not one of Canada's greatest singers, but she wrote much that was tuneful and graceful and far beyond the ordinary.

Perhaps this is the best example of her work when in the strongest mood.

The Corn Husker.

"Haid by the Indian lodges, where the bush breaks in a clearing, through ill-fashioned fields,

She comes to labor, when the first still hush of autumn follows large and recent yields.

Age in her fingers, hunger in her face— Her shoulders stooped with weight of work and years,

But rich in tawny coloring of her face, She comes afield to strip the purple ears.

And all her thoughts are with the days gone by.

Ere night's injustice banished from their lands

Like the dead husks that rustle through her hands."

Then Miss Johnson at her best was camp or on a canoeing trip. All the sense love of nature bequeathed by her Mohawk ancestry was then to the fore and served to still further accelerate her always wild and blithesome mind.

This was her final message:

Good-Bye.

"Sounds of the seas grow fainter, Sands of the sands have sped, The sweep of gales, The far white sails, Adrift, spent and dead.

Sounds of the days of summer, Mourning and die away, The distant hives, The long low tides, The night shuts out the day.

THE SPEECH OF A GERMAN CANADIAN

One of the most interesting speeches delivered in the debate was that delivered by Mr. Weichel, member for Waterloo, who defeated Hon. George King. As a member of German descent and representing a constituency largely settled by people of German descent, his utterances attracted unusual attention. Canadian unity in the Borden proposition was shown by the speech of Mr. Weichel, for although he paid a tribute to the greatness and grandeur of the German Empire he was very clear that he was enthusiastically behind any plan which would strengthen the ties between Canada and the Motherland. He gave his hearty support to the plan for a stronger navy. It was one of the most striking speeches of the debate and it is seldom a young member gets as good a hearing as Mr. Weichel.

"We have the assurance," said Mr. Weichel, "that a permanent naval force will be submitted to the people of Canada. In the meantime let us be true to our professions of loyalty. Let us do something to regain our respect. Our sister colonies have no right to shame by doing their share. We should big and prosperous Canada behind. We are proud of our history. Proud of our history and proud of our Empire. Envious eyes are watching our progress in developing our natural resources. Our future is with that of the Mother Country. She has watched over us, she has guided us and now when we are becoming a nation it will be to our best interests to stick closely to the Union Jack. She has confided in us, and to prove it she sends freely of her money to develop our resources. We owe a great deal to England. Although of German origin and proud of my ancestry, I am prouder still that I am a Canadian and a British subject."

And again in closing, Mr. Weichel amid cheers, said:

"A great deal has been heard and said about autonomy and rights, and far too little about duties and responsibilities. In my opinion the principle of local autonomy has for all time been accepted and no serious man questions it any longer. Canada is either a part of the Empire, or it is not. We cannot any longer, with respect, stand by and allow Great Britain to shoulder the whole burden."

"The supreme interest of the British race is the peace of the world. We would hail with delight an announcement that the nations had decided to propose disarmament. But as long as nations will persist in arming to the teeth, just so long must the great British nation be in the race, ready at all times to assert her rights and to maintain at all hazards the integrity and stability of the Empire."

Canada's destiny lies with that of the Empire. Our success and prosperity will be assured if we share with her weal or for woe. I hope to be spared to see this a great nation, taking her part in trying to secure a better understanding between the Christian nations of the world.

"Canada has a destiny and it is to be a glorious one linked together with the other parts of the Empire in one insoluble tie that will make for the peace and for the prosperity of the world."

THE SUN LIFE ASSURANCE CO SUBMITS A REPORT.

The report of the Directors of the Sun Life Assurance Co., for 1912, is a record of all round increases.

New policies how an increase over the previous year of $4,776,284.55.

Assurances in force at the close of the year show an increase of $18,166,347.00. Income for the year shows an increase of $1,775,746.08.

The assets of the company show an increase for the year of $5,704,730.51.

These increases justify the statement made by the Directors in their annual report, in which they say:

"The company now occupies the premier position among Canadian Life Assurance offices; and not only is the new business transacted much greater than that of any other Canadian Company, but it is we believe greater also than that of any other company incorporated in the British Empire which does not issue industrial policies."

The proud position occupied by the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, is a matter of gratification not only to the management, the policyholders and the shareholders of the company, but to all Canadians who take a pride in the development and success of purely Canadian institutions.

Mr. F. Hendry is the successful Brantford agent.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Many a good Grit is secretly ashamed of that obstruction game at Ottawa.

Up to date the Liberal blocking brigade at the Capital has cost the country some $60,000. But what the hang do they care about a little thing like that?

Some means will have to be devised to stop the Grit gab artists. All has been said that can be said on the navy question and it is only the part of business and of common sense to put a check upon the flow.

Days do come and days do go but Dr. Clark of Red Deer flows on forever.

One woman has been elected to sit on the London County Council in connection with 117 other members. She'll have at least one consolation; no other member of the fair sex can sit at one of the desks with a more attractive dress than her own.

Wanton obstruction is not patriotism and never will be.

A glass of milk taken from a Montreal restaurant was analyzed and shown to possess 7,668,000,000 bacteria. Small wonder that the pesky fluid comes so high.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

And Deservedly

Toronto News.—If any child in any well-conducted home in the land were to exhibit one-half as much cross-grained, petulant, lank-headed obstinacy as the official Liberal party in Ottawa, he would be soundly warned.

No Conflict of Interest.

Toronto Telegram.—Again and again in the Parliamentary history of the British Isles the representatives of the old country people voted the money of the British taxpayers to create property in forts and dockyards and canals in Canada.

Once in the parliamentary history of this country the representatives of the Canadian people are being called upon to vote the money of the Canadian taxpayers to create property in Dreadnoughts.

Forts, dockyards and canals built with the money of the British taxpayers were handed over to the control of a Parliament in which the British taxpayers had no representation.

Was Britain's autonomy impaired, was Britain's parliament degraded, or Britain's liberties endangered by such a transfer?

Not at all.

When forts, dockyards and canals built with the money of the British taxpayers served Canada's purposes these properties served Britain's purposes.

When Dreadnoughts built with the money of the Canadian taxpayers serve Britain's purposes these properties serve Canada's purposes.

There is no possible conflict of interest between the ideals of Canadian nationality and the demands of British unity.

Friedmann and the Doctors

Toronto Star.—Dr. Friedmann came from Germany to New York professing to bear with him the fruits of a discovery for the cure of consumption. He came avowedly to demonstrate the efficacy of his cure and place it at the disposal of physicians for the benefit of the hosts of persons on this continent who are to-day marked for death by the white plague.

On arrival he found his path besieged by victims of the disease. They thronged the street where it was supposed his office would be, although he was not opening an office. Then they came in crowds to the hotel where he was stopping. But his progress was barred in another way. The medical profession interposed. The hospitals declined to act with Dr. Friedmann in making tests on patients "inasmuch as Dr. Friedmann has no license to practice in New York State."

No license to practice!

Although the white plague goes on practicing without license, let, or very much hindrance.

It was so preposterous that such a reason as that should be given for refusing countenance to a German physician, who professed to bear a remedy for the worst of human ills, the next day the medical authorities of the hospitals hastily changed their position and offered accommodation for making tests on patients.

Closure is coming.

Let Laurier Finish His Talk.

On with the talk, let jaw be unconfined.

Obstruction will have reason to beware the idea of March.

Closure will knock the Ottawa obstructionists into the middle of next week.

Obstruction will shortly begin to suffer from an impediment in its progress.

Let W. F. Maclean, M.P., in favor of the Borden contribution or of a general election?

Obstructionists at Ottawa usually talk English, occasionally French, but rarely talk sense.

No, the antics of party interests are not generally recognized as the struggles of patriotic principle. Laurier Opposition please copy.

Sir Charles Tupper, now nearly 92 years of age, contemplates an early trip to England. He will sail from St. John on May and by the Empress of Ireland. It is expected that he will spend at least the greater part of the summer in the Old Country.

Sir Charles, who crossed the ocean within a year on the sad mission caused by the death of Lady Tupper will be 92 years of age on July and next, being born in Amherst, N.S., in 1821. He had made his home in England at The Mount, Bexley Heath, in Kent, for some time prior to his wife's death.

Canadians, irrespective of politics, will wish the grand old man bon voyage.

A Simple and Cheap Medicine.—A simple, cheap and effective medicine is something to be desired. There is no medicine so effective a regulator of the digestive system as Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. They are simple, they are cheap, they can be got anywhere, and their beneficial action will prove their recommendation. They are the medicine of the poor man and those who wish to escape doctor's bills will do well in giving them a trial.

Forty years in use, 20 years the standard, preserved and recommended by physicians. For Women's Ailments. Dr. Martel's Female Pills, at your druggist.

7% SAFE INVESTMENT

The National Securities Corporation, Limited, now offer to the public their 7% Profit Sharing Bonds, which mature in five years, with interest payable half-yearly on the 1st of June and the 1st of December.

The National Securities Corporation Limited, acts as a holding company for several large and profitable manufacturing plants that have been built up by members of the Corporation in the past quarter of a century. The proceeds of these bonds are to be used in still further developing these plants—in acquiring another long established manufacturing plant which has shown large profits for years—and in purchasing well located timber lands. The Corporation now has a large limit under option containing 1,000,000,000 feet of virgin timber. This latter should largely increase in value in the next few years.

All profits beyond bond interest and stock dividends are to be divided equally between the Bondholders and the Shareholders, and whatever profits are thus divided will be in excess of the 7% annual interest of the Bond.

These Bonds are amply secured by investments of the Corporation in these manufacturing plants, and in the value of lands, timber and mills which it controls, and will be further secured by the acquisition of other plants and timber lands.

The Bonds are offered to the public in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and may be purchased either outright or by means of the periodical payment plan. In the latter case, an initial payment of 10% of the face value of the Bond will be required. Bondholders may withdraw all or part of their investments, with interest at any time after one year on sixty days notice.

Payments should be made to the National Securities Corporation, Limited, either by cheque or money-order.
