[Canadian Press Despatch]
 SOUTH PARIS, Me., Dec. 10.—Cecil P. Lavell, the Columbian professor who disappeared from home three weeks ago and was seen in Hamilton, Ont., on Nov. 24th, is thought to be in the neighborhood, and the authorities are awaiting the arrival of relatives from Canada to help in locating him. The man was thought to be the missing person who was first seen here Wednesday noon, although he may have been in the city before. It was his actions that attracted the attention of a woman clerk in a grocery store where the man purchased securities and cheese. She looked over carefully, and became once curious and interested in some friends about it, and eventually reached the ears of the authorities. The police had a circular full description and the photograph of Professor Lavell, and as the clerk who had sold him the securities saw it she said she was sure it was the man who had visited her store. A number of other

 NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The mother of Charles Becker, former lieutenant who is in the House for the murder of Rosenthal, the gambler, is this city ignorant of the real prevents her son coming to see was learned this morning. Becker self only knows that his mother and has not been told that he is momentarily expected. The exception to the rule that convicted men shall never leave the House, was that of Albert T. Becker, who as his own lawyer, was ordered to appear in the courts of New York and Brooklyn. Mr. Becker's family were told, he made inquiries that it would be possible to have the condemnation taken to see his mother.

 Woman School Superintendent Chicago Forced Give Up Job.

[Canadian Press Despatch]
 CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—No student of the politics of recent years in this city has caused so much comment as the forced retirement of Flag Young, as superintendent of schools, according to political circles, and the subject is bound to assume importance in the aldermanic elections next spring. Barrett O'Hara, lieutenant-nor of Illinois, has suggested that the action of the school board club women say the mass called for to-morrow night a large attendance. Mrs. Young, was engaged the night and again to-day callers who came singly or in groups to voice their indignation has accepted a position as editor of The Chicago Tribune. Barrett O'Hara, lieutenant-nor of Illinois, had been elected and she saw how she would be reinstated.
