THE SITUATION.

Field Marshal Haig announces that the Germans are in retreat over a wide front north and south of La Bassee Canal. The British are pushing after them and are taking many prisoners. THE HIGH COST OF NEWS PRINT. During the course of an article on the above subject the Ottawa Journal the price of $69 which the paper controller has now fixed, is an advance of no less than 72 per cent.

This advance looks like a gross injustice if the controller's action is tested by the principle on which the Government appointed him, namely to require sale of newsprint by the Government appointed him, namely to require sale of newsprint by the Canadian mils to Canadian newspapers at merely a fair profit to the mills. The Canadian mits, taken as a whole, are selling 89 per cent. of their product in the United States or figure. The Canadian newspaper re-quirement concerns only 11 per cent. elsewhere abroad, at a profitable or producer must be protected from quirement concerns only 11 per cent. sume him were he not protected. quirement concerns only 11 per cent. sume him were not contends that these of their output. As regards cost of their output. As regards cost of controllers are not controlling. That manufacture, the enquiry which has manufacture. of their output. As regards cost of manufacture, the enquiry which has been leid before the paper controller are not controllers are not controllers. That he are not approaching the problems in the broad and impartial manner made imperative by these of the controller's reinal to allow full enquiry, and his violation of undertakings given to the Canadian Press Association—has shown that while some Canadian mills seem to be manufacturing at a high cost, probably near the controller's figure, most are manufacturing at a lover cost. All can sell at a profit abroad all the paper they make except where they are required by the controller's remaining all the paper where they are required by the controller's remaining all the paper they make except where they are required by the controller's remaining to continue the prior supply to Canadian newspapers; and in the latter case, they are protected by a "differential" arrangement between the mills, established under Goyernment behind him with home set a prorata compensation from the mills which must sell newsprint at home set a pro rata compensation from the mills which export all or most of their manufactures.

Thus the paper controller's problem was simplified by two notable conditions: 1, He had to deal with only 11 per cent. of the output of Canadian mills. 2, The price of that 11 per cent. sold in this country was protected by compensation (if necessary) from the profit of the 89 per lease of the public way large and the canadian publisher can and do by $1 per cent. of the output of Canadian mills. 2, The price of that 11 per cent. of the output of Canadian mills. 2, The price of that 11 per cent. sold in this country was protected by compensation (if necessary) from the profit of the 89 per lease of the public way large and the canadian publisher can and to the country was protected by compensation (if necessary) from the profit of the 89 per lease of the public way large and the canadian accountry manufacturers to built the conditions: 1, He had to deal with only 1

The report of the paper controller's auditor shows that up to this spring the Laurentide company's cost of manufacture was $42 per ion. The paper controller's award of $69 per ton gives 60 per cent. profit on that. We do not imagine that the Government's action in instituting an inquiry into the necessary cost of manufacture of paper in Camada contemplated taking the worst-managed and most unsuccessful paper mills in Canada as a proper basis of cost; and even if the paper controller decided to that, he might at least have conducted a thorough inquiry—mined to put up a half a billion dol

Ottawa, Oct. 2.—Canada may follow the lead of American States which have issued orders against the use of anthractic coal before December 1.
