Awful Toll Paid by Armenians of Sivas.

Their Leader, Murad, Tells of Turkish Atrocities.

London Cable.—Murad of Sivas, Armenian leader, of the province of Sivas, Asia Minor, in an interview just received here from Tiflis, gives an account of the treatment by the Turks of the Armenian population in Asia Minor in which are many new details, Murad who is a well-known warrior, fought his way out of Sivas, reaching Tiflis in December. His story, which is made public by Viscount Bryce, who vouches for the re-liability of the source, is in substance as follows: Out of 160.000 Armenian's inhabiting the province of Sivas there remained when Murad left only some 10,000, who had been spared either as useful artisans or because they were old The remaining people, Murad declar old ed, were either massacred directly or deportea to the area between the Euphrates River and northern Meso the potamia.

For disarming the Armenians the Turks, according to Murad, employed various methods of torture. In Khour. akhon, he decl.res, one man was ac-tually shod like a horse; and another killed by putting a red-hot iron crown on his head. At Habesh 3,800 Aron his head. At Habesh 3,800 Ar-menians were put to the poleax or stoned, he asserts. At Herag the men were killed and the young women carried away, while 600 children were detained by the Vall, Murad adds, possibly to be converted to Islam. Many young women went mad, and others committed suicide. One incident, according to the nar-rator, greatly embittered the relations between the Armenians and the

between the Armenians and the Turks. Seventeen hundred Russian prisoners of war captured by the Tur's were brought to Sivas in a de-plorable condition. The Russian sol-diers of Moslem origin had been released, most of those of Armenian nationality killed, and the other Russ-ians stripped of their clothing. The Armenians provided comforts for the prisoners, which caused resentment among the Moslems, Murad states. states Despite the Armenian efforts, he adds, only 70 survived out of the contingent of _,700.

The reason, she explained, why the Germans have not only been willing, but anxious, to send so many French people back from Lille is because the civilian population is little better than starving, and would be actually starving if it were not for the Ameri-can aid they have received. The civilians, she continued, receive the very good reason that the German soldiers themselves in Lille are almost without food. GERMAN THRIFT.

Dead Troop Horses Are All Skinned Now.

London Cable—As an instance of German thrift and thoroughness, the Germans remove the hides from dead army horses, says the Daily Mail's Balkan correspondent, in describing a trip from Constantinople to Nish over a road from which the evidences of war, he stated, had been almost entirely removed.

The correspondent found brigades and tunnels, which the Serbians had blown up, repaired in substantial manner and with astonishing rapidity. Broken bridges were lying in the Arrow of the skinned carcasses of horses and the skinned carcasses of horses along the route were the only signs of the recent fighting. The writer paid a tribute to the "German system of espionage," stat-ing that instead of one man being de-ing that instead of one man being de-tailed to shadow a suspect, the work is done by three or four. He con-cludes with the statement that he had been informad on good authority that German uniforms had been stored in huge quantities at Nish for Bulgarian troops in the event of fighting in Greek territory.
