Acadia Collegiate & Business Academy

Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy is the oldest of the three Acadia institutions located in Wolfville. Under the former name Horton Collegiate Academy, it was founded in 1828, by the Baptist Education Society of Nova Scotia. Mr. Asahel Chaplin, of Amherst College, Mass., the first principal, began instruction to the first ACADIA CLASS of young men in March, 1829, a little more than 85 years ago.

Rev. John Pryor, a graduate of Kings College and Newton Theological Institution, became principal in 1830. Mr. Pryor threw the whole force of his splendid Christian manhood into the undertaking with such effect that the Academy was rapidly filled with pupils.

In 1831, the Academy Hall was built and the house of William Johnson Esq., was rented as a boarding house. Later another large building was constructed under the supervision of a Boston Architect, which was enlarged at a later date and is known as the College Building which was destroyed by fire in 1877.

A number of worthy men have been connected with the early history of this institution, among whom may be mentioned: C. D. Randall, M. A.; J. Hart, Rev. T. A. Higgins, D. D. In 1874, Dr. J. F. Tufts became Principal, and great advances were made under his leadership, chief of which was the erection of the present Academy residence. Prof. Tufts was succeeded in 1889 by I. B. Oakes Esq., M. A., who successfully carried on the work for 11 years being succeeded by H. L. Brittain in 1900. Dr. E. W. Sawyer followed Mr. Brittain and was succeeded in 1906 by C. J. Mersereau, M. A., who, in turn was succeeded by Mr. E. W. Robinson, B. A., in 1908, who retired in 1910 to become Inspector of schools for Kings and Hants Counties. Rev. W. L. Archibald, M. A., Ph. D., became Principal in 1910, under his leadership the Academy is now prospering. The number of students is increasing every year, the total enrolment for the present year being 188.

In 1912 the name of the Academy was changed from Horton Academy to Acadia Collegiate and Business Academy, by which name it is known at present.

All through its history Acadia Academy has held a high place in athletics. Formerly the College and Academy were associated in one athletic society, but in Sept. 1909, the Academy organized a separate association.

On May 25th., 1909, the first provincial inter-scholastic field and track meet was held, including Acadia, Halifax, Truro, and Pictou Academies, King Collegiate School of Windsor and Acadia Villa. At this meet Acadia Academy far exceeded her opponents and won the Cragg Cup.

In 1912, Mr. J. T. Bulmer, of Winnipeg, presented a cup to Acadia for competition in an eight mile relay race between the College classes and the Academy. This cup has been won both in 1912 and in 1913 by the Academy team.

This year the Academy has made a splendid showing in Athletics, defeating Kings Collegiate Academy in football with a score 14-0, and The Halifax Business College in hockey 11-0, besides winning the inter-class hockey league.

The standard of scholarship has been raised in the last few years till today this institution stands in the front rank of residential schools for boys in Canada, both in point of equipment and the character of the work accomplished. The graduates of the Academy are prepared for admission to Canadian Universities, Technical Colleges, and other Professional schools. The Business department is becoming increasingly popular, and the attendance is taxing the capacity of the classroom. Graduates holding the Business Diploma are filling many important positions of trust in the commercial world to-day.

As a Residential school, Acadia Academy offers many advantages to young men, that are not found in the ordinary high schools. The Monitor system guarantees supervision during the study periods as well as during the hours of recreation. The discipline of the Academy Residence develops habits of punctuality, and provides a time for work, and suitable time for recreation.

The moral and religious surroundings at Acadia Collegiate Academy have been of a high type throughout its history. Usually a majority of the students are boys of sincere religious purpose.

The Y. M. C. A. which holds its meetings weekly exercises a great influence for good. Throughout a long and honorable record of nearly eighty-six years Acadia Academy has ever stood for the highest and best values in the education of boys and young men.

The Presbyterian Church

The old Presbyterian church was burned last year at the close of the day on Aug. 14th., many people have already forgotten about it for it was not an imposing structure nor could it claim a place in the department of the beautiful. Nevertheless inside, it was all that could be desired and the loss was by no means a light one to the people who worshipped there. To the Presbyterian it was a real church home and is still a place around which the memories love to linger.

It took a little while to recover from the loss and become adjusted to new conditions, but before winter closed in, plans for a new church were beginning to take shape. It was decided to move the manse to Sea View Avenue as being a more desirable residential quarter, and at the same time leaving a splendid place for a church building at the corner of Main St. and Sea View Avenue.

The manse has already been moved and the way cleared for the new church.

It was not without careful consideration that the building material was chosen, but it was finally decided that it should be of rough stone of such quality as is found in large quantities at White Rock and other places. Mr. Andrew Cobb was employed as architect, and the contract has been awarded to Mr. Charles Wright, so well and favourably known in Wolfville. It is not necessary to say much more about it for when these two men are associated in the work, good results are to be expected.

The size including the vestry is about 90 ft. x 40 ft. with the main entrance on Main St. Free stone will be used for trimming and the interior finished in native oak. The design is simple and the material is of the best.

The total cost will be about $20,000, three quarters of which will be paid off at the end of three years. This means real sacrifice to a good many, but it is assumed willingly and all look forward hopefully to the time when we shall meet for worship in our own Church on the old familiar ground. The work is to begin at once. The Corner stone will probably be laid in June and the building will be completed by the middle of November.
