The gold annually taken from the Siberian mines is estimated to be worth $6,000,000. The first discovery of the metal in that country was made at the beginning of this century. The average cost of an expedition in search of gold is estimated at $3,000.

As a squirrel that had been shot at in Plumas county Cal., jumped from the tree unhurt, the hunter's dog seized it. The squirrel caught the dog by the lip. Unable to shake the squirrel off, the dog ran to a stream near by and, plunging the squirrel under water, held it there until it was drowned.

"Our first children all died," said a resident of the village of Port Valley, near America, Ga., "and as we were deeply anxious to raise some, we have named those now living after animals. Knowing that animals receive the special care of Providence, we call our children Fox, Coon, Rabbit, and Possum."

While herding his flock of sheep in the Salt Spring Valley, Cal., Amos Ross saw a large antlered buck bound in among them. As he went toward it the buck made a fierce plunge at him, but being an acrobat, he dodged the blow, and stepping on one side, caught the animal by the hind legs. He then whipped out his knife and cut its throat.

For several days the horse of S. B. Cohen, a merchant in Madison, has been found in a profuse perspiration in the early morning, with a print of a leg on either side, as if he had been ridden bare-backed. The stable is locked at night, and the horse is in his stall at daylight every morning, but for the past few mornings he is panting as if he had just returned from a long jaunt, and is wholly unfit for service during the entire day. The more ignorant are much agitated over the matter, contending that witches visit his stable.

Dr. Frederick L. Fischer, who in January last vaccinated the three-year-old child of Adam Haverstick, has been sued by the latter in the Supreme Court for $10,000 damages. Haverstick alleges that the child was permanently disabled by unskillfulness in the operation and the use of impure virus. Soon after the operation, he says, the child became paralyzed in both arms. Judge Barrett reserved his decision upon a motion made on behalf of Dr. Fischer that the child be examined before the trial by two regular physicians to be named by him.—N. Y. Sun.
