The Shrewd Buyer

As a matter of economy will not always buy the cheapest goods. There is a greater saving effected in purchasing the better qualities even at a small additional cost, as the greater wear will more than compensate for the extra amount spent. It is more satisfactory to the seller also, and establishes a friendly feeling between merchant and customer. The policy of this store is to sell the better class of goods and to stand back of what we sell. If goods should prove unsatisfactory we should like to know it.

SIX MINERS WERE DROWNED

Had Been Drinking and Wanted Lobsters—Upset Boat at Traps.

North Sydney, June 4.—One of the worst tragedies in the history of Sydney Mines occurred there early yesterday morning when six men lost their lives by drowning off Cranberry Head.

The names of the men are Daniel McMullin, of Reserve Mines; Harry and Alexander Wilsonholme (brothers), John Fifoot, Frederick McNeil and Michael McNeil, the last five belonging to Sydney Mines.

Details of the accident are meagre but from what can be gathered from those who were with the men on Saturday night, it appears that after leaving a liquor saloon about 12.30 o'clock Sunday morning, the two Wilsonholmes, McNeil and McMullin, conspired to overhaul lobster traps off Cranberry, going out in a shell.

On reaching the traps, it is supposed all the men leaned over the same side of the boat to pull the trap in, with the result that the frail craft upset, throwing the six occupants into the water.

On the boat being righted by searchers who found the bodies, bloodstains were visible on the thwarts and bottom and the opinion prevails in some quarters that a quarrel preceded the tragedy.

The stuns, however are not at all unlikely to be those of fish which have recently been taken in the boat. Two of the bodies have been found. Three of the victims were married.

Halifax, June 4.—All the bodies of the victims of the Sydney Mines drowning accident have been recovered. One body has a broken nose, and another a head split open. The theory is that the men fought in the boat and upset it.

New Tailor made suits, received this week at McMurdo's. Price $15.00 they are the height of the fashion.

VALIENT SOLDIER DIED SUNDAY

Major Templeton Passed Away at His Chatham Home.

CRIMEAN VETERAN.

Fought at Alma and Inkerman and was Severely Wounded.

The death of Major Templeton took place at his home, Chatham, on Sunday after an illness of several months. The deceased gentleman was one of Miramichi's most noted soldiers and the news of his death will be heard with regret by all.

Major Alexander Sturthart Templeton, son of the late William Templeton, was born at Edinburgh, Scotland, about seventy-six years ago. As a member of the 49th Regiment of the British army he was with Lord Raglan at the battle of Alma, 1854, when the allies comprising British, French and Turkish soldiers administered a crushing defeat to the Russians. He was also engaged at the battle of Inkerman, when the Russians attacked the British camp.

In one of the many desperate skirmishes during that war, Major Templeton received a bullet wound in the forehead, which was feared would prove fatal, but a surgeon extracted the shattered bone and inserted a silver plate and the major recovered, the shot apparently leaving no ill effects.

At the close of the Crimean war he was given a medal by the Sultan of Turkey, and later he received long-service and good-conduct medals from the British government, and one from the Canadian government for good service in the Canadian militia.

He also served five years in the West Indies. About the time of the civil war Major Templeton was sent to New Brunswick by the British government to drill the militia and during the Fenian raid took a prominent part in the defence of the Dominion.

After many years of active service he settled in Chatham, where he was for eleven years superintendent of the Northumberland county almshouse.

The deceased was married twice and leaves a widow, a son, who lives in Boston, and a daughter in New York; and a brother private, John Templeton, who served twenty-one years in the British army, part of that time being spent in India.

Mr. T. W. Flett, the bustling manager of Messrs. Flett Bros. Nelson has a large number of men employed at his new mill, which is to take the place of the one burned some time ago and it is expected that she will commence operations about June 15. Only part of the machinery will be installed this year, but when the mill is completed this firm will have one of the most up-to-date on the North Shore.

Many Herring Being Caught.

Thousands of Barrels Caught At Shippegan Last Week.

A despatch from Shippegan says that herring have been caught on the shores in abundance and very good catches were made about 5,000 barrels being stopped, and large quantities salted in bulk by lobster packers for bait, 300 bbls. were put into the freezer to be shipped, some packed in barrels for home consumption, and quantities utilized for fertilizing purposes. Lobsters have been very good the catches varying from 1000 to 1200. Colliding boats came in this week for the first time this season with very good hauls, boats with crews of four men landing from 2000 to 3000 ood.

Fire insurance adjusters who are home from Woodstock report that the losses by the recent fire were all total with the exception of Smeagreen's drug store. There a large part of stock was saved, and the loss only amounted to about $1,000. —Globe.

RECORD SEASON FOR LUMBER.

Quantity Now in Miramichi Booms Nearly One Hundred Million.

RAFTING OPERATIONS

Many Men Now Hard at Work —River Completely Full of Logs.

Never in the history of Miramichi has the lumber outlook been so promising at present. It is expected that every stick cut last winter and what was hung up from last season will reach the booms, in fact the greater portion of it has reached the booms and rafting operations are well under way.

Already there are in the Southwest boom upwards of fifty million feet of lumber and it is estimated that nearly twenty and twenty-five million are yet to come.

On the Northwest the river is full of lumber and it is estimated that nearly twenty million feet are now in this boom and considerable more will come in this week.

This will make in round figures about one hundred million feet for this season, and it is quite possible that even this estimate may be exceeded when the rafting is completed.

The lumber cut for the northern country will be a record one this year and already there is at the booms at Campbellton as much lumber as came down during the whole of last season. This is not much more than half of the quantity that will be brought along when all the drives are in. At present the booms contain 75,000,000 feet of lumber and will be increased to a figure ranging between 125,000,000 and 150,000,000 before the lumbermen come in from the woods.

Among the big cogwheels at Campbellton which are handling a record output are the Wm. Richards Co., the Malouin Lumber Co., Moores, and Shivers.

The break in the booms at Restigouche has turned out not to be at all serious, the amount of lumber which floated away from the Restigouche Boom, Co's enclosures was not above 150,000 feet and the expense of gathering the logs together is the only loss entailed. The break was caused by a heavy wind and tide setting directly on the booms.

BISHOP KINGDON HAD ANOTHER BAD TURN

His Condition This Morning was Critical, but There has Since Been a Slight Improvement

Federicton, N. B. June 4.—About two o'clock this morning His Lordship Bishop Kingdon had another acute attack of heart failure. His Lordship had rallied somewhat since, but his condition is realized to be most critical. Nobody except the physician and nurse were allowed to enter His Lordship's room to-day, and the doctor said that everything as to the Bishop's recovery depended greatly upon the patient being kept perfectly quiet and not having any excitement. On Saturday His Lordship was not allowed to move his position one way or another all day long. The Bishop's pulse is steadier this afternoon.
