much interest.

Marysville Notes.

R. HENRY MACKY,

Mrs. Moses White is now confined to bed and all hope of recovery is at an end.

There is considerable illness in the town, but nothing of a very serious character.

It is reported that Mr. Duncan, of the cotton mill, has accepted a position at St.

John.

The Baptist church, the foundation of which is now being laid, will be of wood thirty-two by forty-eight feet with tower and gothic windows.

Geo. Hanson, the popullar blacksmith, has plenty to do at this season, repairing farming tools and wagons. George is a good hand at this kind of work, and all will find it to theiradvantage to give him their work.

There was a very successful parlor concert at Mr. Waycott's on Thursday evening. The
