

The New Millinery.

The Royal Stores Limited, are now showing one of the most beautiful and exclusive selections of Millinery ever presented to the Ladies of St. John's.

There is one feature that characterizes the Millinery Creations shown at this store—distinction.

The vogue of the overtrimmed Hat is passed, and the newer and more beautiful Cult of Simple Millinery has taken place.

Only the most Skilled Millinery Artists are capable of producing such exquisite and yet simple models as are shown here—models that are more becoming and perfect in appearance than the overburdened styles to which most women are now taking exception.

Every creation shown here possesses some exclusive feature of design, trimming or colouring. All are simple, yet capable of pleasing the most fastidious and particular women.

Women who desire Hats that express in individuality, and are true expressions of authoritative Fashion, should visit this exhibition of beautiful Millinery.

We are also showing this season's Fur Hats, Children's Millinery, Frillings, Over Laces, Shot Epingle Silk, and Tinsel Broache for Millinery.

Workmen for Quebec.

By the express last evening 38 workmen left for Jonquiere, Quebec, to work at installing a large pulp and paper plant. They will be met at Riviere du Loup by Mr. Lincoln, who will take them across the St. Lawrence in a steamer to Lacombe. They will then continue their journey by a smaller steamer up the river Saguenay to Jonquiere where a Quebec lumberer that has acquired timber rights on the Lake St. John is building a large pulp mill. The journey from Tadoussac on the St. Lawrence up to Jonquiere is about 45 miles. Most of the men who went yesterday, can do carpenter work, and a few of them were in Mr. Lincoln's gang when he built the plant at Grand Falls.

Housing Problem.

The representatives of St. John's in the Legislature and the City Council here including Mayor Ellis met in the Executive Council Chamber last evening to receive the report of the sub-committee on the housing problem, selected at a previous meeting. A circular letter addressed to manufacturers and employers generally was drafted and will be sent forward to-day asking them to erect one or more houses for their permanent employees, purely as a business matter, and to relieve the present congestion. The committee intimated that they would call on all employers to discuss the matter freely with them. The Street Railway Co. will be asked to extend their street lines as an aid to this desirable object.

Dramatic Society vs Choral Society.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—In your issue of yesterday I saw a letter signed "Amateur" with reference to the formation of a Dramatic Co. in this city.

Well, Mr. Editor, I perfectly agree with the writer and say that such a Company should be formed, but I do not think and I am sure that it would ever succeed for the reason that people in this town seem prejudiced against anything local except it is for a charitable object, when they come forward and put their prejudices on one side and back it up handsomely. A foreign company come here they get good patronage, but even these do not do as well as they did formerly.

The writer says he negotiated a company and had to stop for want of funds and support. Well, Mr. Editor, does not this tend to prove my assertion? Now that for five or six years people can see good acting and good staging in pictures altho' they hear nothing said, they would far rather go there than to a hall and pay 60c. for a seat and sometimes then cannot even hear a word said unless they are in front seats.

Let the writer please remember and ponder over the old saying? viz. music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, and not try to put a Dramatic ahead of a Choral Society. Thanking you in anticipation I remain Yours very sincerely, CHORAL. St. John's, Sept. 27, 1911.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

By Douglas' Egyptian Liniment. The man who knows from experience how difficult it is to get rid of the trouble will welcome the news of a cure. Mr. D. N. Melwood, of Alexandria, Ont., writes: "For four years I suffered from a severe case of varicose veins in my leg so bad I could not sleep or get a night's rest, but after using two-thirds of a bottle of Douglas' Egyptian Liniment I was completely cured." When two-thirds of a bottle of Douglas' Egyptian Liniment will cure a severe case of Varicose veins, which had been running on for four years, doesn't it seem reasonable to suppose that it must be a terrifically bad case which it will not cure, if used persistently? 6c. at all druggists. SUNLIGHT SOAP TRY THE SUNLIGHT WAY.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

Once there was a silly husband and he had a silly wife, and they both were sick and weary of their silly married life, for it brought no adventures, no excitement of the kind that they desired, and a life without the grandstand makes all silly people tired, just to labor and be decent will not bring the sunlight's glow; just to share each other's burdens is a dream of long ago. So a silly-billy poet came along to be the goat, and the silly wife and husband raised a loud discordant note; she had found a soul companion; he announced, till he was hoarse, that his moral scruples drove him to the courts for a divorce. There was soundings of the tom-toms, there was noise of tamborines, and photographers got busy for the yellow magazines, and reporters by the legion swarmed around the silly groovy and the moving picture graters gave a loud and joyous whoop. Thus the freaks are all encouraged to get up and do a stunt, and the silly people always keep a pushing to the front. When reporters and their bosses cease to be such easy skates, freaks will get their advertising at the business office rates.

A Suggestion.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—In last night's issue of your paper appeared a letter from "Citizen." I heartily agree with him on one opinion he advanced, namely, that it will be too late to talk when the T. A. Hall is once more leased to a moving picture concern. (It would be better if we could call them "removing" concerns.) However, on the whole his suggestion seems to be actuated by a desire to give more money to a few privileged individuals who would compose the suggested company, and more pleasure to those who are fortunate enough to be able to help "crowding the hall." Now, Mr. Editor, we all know that of late few clergymen have thought their sermons complete without referring to the morals of our youth in this city, and the responsibility of those who are accountable for the morals of those entrusted to their care. I wish that I could express my sentiments in nobler words so as to make this appeal to better advantage. But here is my suggestion: We have philanthropy and we have genius in abundance in our community. Let the former hire the hall and the latter mould the character of our future men and women by giving lectures that will stimulate their morals and intellect. Men of science and of letters will and must assist the already overworked clergy. It is their duty to God and to the State. In conclusion I trust that able pens and nobler minds will, by word and deed, augment this my humble suggestion.
