Nineteen millions of watch movements is scarcely conceivable, but this is about the actual number that the Waltham Watch Co. has manufactured and distributed in all parts of the world. Such a record could only be accomplished by turning out a watch that was perfect in workmanship and absolutely reliable.

GOVERNMENT RETURNING TO PARIS.

SPECIAL EVENING TELEGRAM. LONDON, To-day. The French Government will return to Paris to-day or to-morrow, according to the Paris correspondent of the Express, who makes the announcement on high authority.

THE KAISER AND THE SAXON TROOPS.

ROTTERDAM. To-day. The Kaiser has sent a telegram to the King of Saxony, in which he says he visited the Third Army on October 2nd, and greeted the brave and glorious One Hundred and Eighty-first Regiment. The Kaiser adds, the spirit of the troops is excellent and with such an army, we can finish the rest of our task gloriously and victoriously. The Almighty will stand by us.

GERMANY STRENGTHENING THE BELGIAN BORDER.

LONDON. To-day. A despatch to the Times from Ostend, dated Monday, says a very important movement of the German troops in Southern Belgium was reported this afternoon. A column of 20,000 strong, of horse and foot and artillery, with a Commissariat and wireless apparatus, marched through Tempe and Leuze, five miles North of Tournai in the direction of the French border. To the west all troops were young men. It is announced that the Great Eastern Railway Company's steamship service between Tilbury, England, and Antwerp has been suspended. The British steamer Ethel Hilda before reported arrived at Antwerp on Sept. 30 from Montreal, has gone aground and is leaking.

TRANSFERRED TO AMERICAN FLAG.

WASHINGTON. To-day. Sixty foreign built vessels, aggregating 233,781 gross tons, have been removed from danger of capture by the European Powers involved in the present war, by admission to the American Registry. Great Britain has suffered most, as 54 vessels previously sailed under the British flag, 4 German vessels and 2 Belgian, complete the list.

FEW BRITISH CASUALTIES ALONG THE AISNE.

LONDON. To-day. William Maxwell cables from a point in France to the London Telegraph: "I am delighted to be able to report that for nearly three weeks the casualties among the British troops have been insignificant. The artillery duel in which they have been engaged North of the River Aisne has been a more waste of ammunition on the part of the enemy. I have been listening to amazing stories of heavy German howitzers whose shells give 10 seconds notice and make a hole 8 feet deep and 15 feet across. The effects seem to be local and of 20 shells no fewer than 14 has been known not to burst. One shell exploded in front of a trench and blew a Subaltern into the air ten feet. He arose and walked back to the trenches as though nothing had happened. Another shell split the pole of an ammunition wagon and broke the rings of the leading horses reins, yet neither driver nor horse was injured. German infantry attacks which were made almost every night on the Aisne have ceased ago. They were so disastrous that no effort on the part of the officers can induce men to advance against our trenches. One night, nearly three weeks ago, a German officer at the head of a company was heard urging his men to come on and kill those English swine. Nobody stirred and at last the officers' words to his soldiers were these: "Come on you swine." This long period of inaction under shell fire in the trenches is very trying, yet our soldiers are in the best of health and spirits. They are amazingly well fed and their luxuries such as bacon, jam and tobacco fill their French comrades with envy. The Guards have done splendid work. When the men have been in the trenches four days, they are allowed two days rest. The Guards refuse to leave the trenches until they receive orders to advance against the enemy. A few days ago they managed to work round the flanks of a German trench, which was enfiladed by some field pieces and machine guns; not a German escaped."

GERMAN LOSSES.

LONDON. To-day. An official list published in Berlin says a Rome despatch, gives the German losses in killed and missing up to September 31st as 117,000. The authorities admit the despatch adds, that the total losses to date are at least 300,000.

BROUGHT DOWN GERMAN AEROPLANE.

PARIS. To-day. A despatch from Troyes, France, states that the announcement comes from Remilly Sur Seine, a town 20 miles Northwest of Troyes, that the French brought down a German aeroplane, while it was flying over that city yesterday.

ASIATIC CHOLERA AT TARNOW.

LONDON. To-day. A despatch from Rome says a message from Vienna announces the sudden outbreak of Asiatic cholera in a most violent form at Tarnow in Galicia, 40 cases the message says were reported on Tuesday.

THE LINES OF THE AISNE RESEMBLE RABBIT WARRENS.

LONDON. To-day. A correspondent of the Times at Epernay, France, telegraphing under date of Sunday, says the battle of the French rivers has entered upon the fourth week, and unless some flanking movement carry through, there appears no reason why the titanic struggle should not continue for a long time in its successful run. Now that the perfection of the German trenches is rivalled by those of the allies, it has become a struggle in which one is pitted against an invincible foe who is never seen until he springs suddenly from his hiding place. The countryside along the Aisne is a vast military rabbit warren, both sides resolutely determined not to give ground. The Germans are continually delivering attacks and counter attacks, but the allies are not making any definite attempt to advance in this region. They are content for the time being with beating back all German attacks and are not trying to occupy the enemy's trenches. The forces of Germans are worn by hard campaigns and frequent attacks, while the allied troops are fresh because they are frequently rested and changed. One feature of the allies' stone wall policy is that casualties on the allied side have been very slight. Recently everything possible has been done to relieve men from the strain of waiting. Tobacco and newspapers are provided and the mail is delivered regularly. The strain of waiting has been especially severe on the African troops. One of the most useful articles of the German war equipment is the sky rockets which give a powerful illumination lasting forty seconds above the ranks of the enemy, enabling German artillery officers to obtain an accurate range of trenches.

RHEIMS STILL BOMBARDED.

LONDON. To-day. A despatch to the Times from Epernay, France, under date of Oct. 3, states that the Northeastern suburbs of Rheims is still under German shell fire, which is doing considerable damage. The shells apparently are intended for the French batteries in the position just outside the town. Panic among the inhabitants, the despatch says, has been increased through the action of the German aeroplanes which are dropping bombs containing high explosives in an attempt to destroy the railway station. So far this place has not been damaged, but reports that fourteen persons were killed by one of the bombs.

More Fires.

Fires provoke immediate sympathy for the sufferer and also thankfulness for personal escape. Another thought should be whether one is personally and sufficiently protected? An insurance policy with Percie Johnson would provide for you this desired security and at small expense. Have you enough insurance?

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARTHER IN OWLS.

German Held Up.

For several days past two police officers, dressed as civilians, have been shadowing a man named J. Lago, whom they had reason to believe was a German and who left here to-day on the Allan liner Mongolian, for Philadelphia accompanied by his wife, Lago, it is said, was doing a business here. Before the ship sailed to-day he was confronted by Officers Byrne and Lawlor. Lago admitted being brought up in Germany but produced documents to show that he was naturalized in America since war broke out. He was not detained by our authorities and went on the Allan boat.
