History of the Royal Nfld. Regiment, CALLED "THE FIRST FIVE HUNDRED."

This Book will quite probably not be available after Christmas. It has been on the market only 5 weeks and more than half the total publication has been sold. Many people who really want this book will want to get it before it is out of print.

There has been only a limited number published, and at the rate these are selling there will not be a copy available by New Year's Day.

Many boys look forward to Christmas time with the hope that they may be able to add one or two good, worth-while books to their small collections. Give your boy or brother a thoroughly Newfoundland book this time that he will always prize highly.

Many people will want to send something representative of Newfoundland to friends in England, Scotland, the States, Canada, and other places. As a Christmas gift nothing that you could send would be prized as highly as a copy of this book, telling what Newfoundland's Sons did in the Great War.

Returned men will want a copy of the History that they helped to make. As years go by it will have increasing value for them and their children. This book is available now; it will not be available after New Year.

Harbor Grace Notes.

The funeral of the late Patrick O'Neill, who passed away on Sunday, took place on Tuesday morning at 9.30 o'clock, interment being made in the R. C. Cemetery. To the relatives and friends of deceased we extend our sympathy in this sad hour of their bereavement.—R.I.P.

Mr. Nath Noel, who has had charge of a Church of England School on the West Coast since September, arrived in St. John's by S.S. Portia recently and came to town by Monday night's train. Mr. Noel intends spending the Christmas holidays at his home.

Schooner "Cape Race," so we learn, has gone to Sydney to load coal cargo for Messrs. R. D. McRae & Sons of this town.

Miss May Whiteway, who resides with her sister, Mrs. E. E. Parsons, was taken very ill of Pneumonia last week. Her many friends will be sorry to hear she is still sick, but we hope ere long her condition will change and result in a speedy recovery.

Mr. Thomas Thistle, who has been acting as agent for Mr. E. Simmons at Hooping Harbor and Englee during the summer months, as well as those of the fall, arrived in St. John's on Saturday by S.S. Senef, and came on here by Tuesday night's train.

A number of young people who have been attending the different colleges in the city, arrived home to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents and friends. We are glad to see them all and trust that their holiday in the home town will be greatly enjoyed by one and all.

Schooner "Gordon C. Fudge," salt laden, arrived in port yesterday morning from Cadiz, via Carbonara, where she harbored the day previous.

Trade in town for the last few days has been a little bit brighter; yet, there is nothing to boast of and suppose, we must ascribe this slight change to the fact that Christmas time with its usual extra shopping is come once more. However, we hope to see things improving as the New Year comes in.

Mr. William Anthony, fish culler from St. John's, arrived in town Tuesday night to superintend the packing of some fish for one of our merchants, who will be making a shipment in the course of the next few weeks.

We avail of this opportunity, Mr. Editor, to wish the staff of the Evening Telegram—the "People's Paper" and its numerous readers here and abroad "A Very Joyous Christmas and every prosperity in the New Year—1922." (A wish which is very heartily reciprocated.—Editor.)
CORRESPONDENT.
Hr. Grace, Dec. 22, 1921.

"I am tired of hearing all this talk about doing your Christmas shopping early," said a man by the Post Office yesterday, but let that man consider how tired a clerk must be after being on the hop all day, then let him resolve to do his shopping early. It's no idle talk this shopping early idea, it means happiness to every clerk in the city. Then, don't let anybody neglect it, and don't forget to bring home some Life Savers for the children.—dec20,23

Keep Smiling for Colds!

SOME FIRST-RATE ADVICE BY A DOCTOR.

If you feel a little run down through having a cold hanging around you, dodge those morbid people who pessimistically assure you that you are looking very ill indeed!

Do not talk about illness or think about it, but seek the companionship of cheerful, genial friends and laugh your cold away.

Imagination plays an important part in making you ill or well; therefore think cheerful and pleasant thoughts.

You can throw off a cold if you take it in time. At the first sneeze take a dose of ammoniated tincture of quinine, a good teaspoonful in about two-thirds of a wineglass of water.

"Sneezing out" a cold is another way of getting rid of it quickly. You should be careful, though, that you do not take a worse chill on top of it, as the pores of your skin are well open.

The wisest way is to get into bed, roll yourself in a blanket, and before going to sleep, slip—don't gulp—boiling hot lemon water, or milk. If you are so disposed, a little rum or whisky in the hot liquid will help.

You will rise the following morning rather weak, but your cold will have probably disappeared.

Remember—and this is most important—to wrap up well if you go out in the cold air, and keep on the move.

NOTE OF THANKS.—Mrs. Pat. Murphy wishes to thank the following for donations in aid of Belvedere Orphanage:—Mr. James Reddy, Mr. D. Fynn, Mrs. Jas. Power, Mrs. Jas. Keen, Mrs. Philip Healey, Mrs. J. Whitty, Mrs. Jas. Brennan, Mrs. John Harvey, Miss Ellen Mahoney, Mrs. F. Reddy.—adv.

Towns in Trouble.

A town that misbehaves can get into very serious trouble. Witness the case of Poplar, whose councillors went to jail for refusing to pay county rates.

Sometimes a town runs into debt. You cannot put a whole town in prison, but you can put those responsible.

An instance in point is afforded by the Derbyshire town of Claycross, which borrowed £10,500 to put through a sewerage scheme. But the work cost more than expected, and the loan became exhausted.

Thereupon bailiffs seized all the town's movable property, including the seats and fixtures of the Town Hall, the fire engine, water carts, and the like. Horses and carts belonging to tradesmen had to be used to perform the necessary municipal work.

Blackpool, the great Lancashire resort, once got into trouble because the Town Council expressed official disapproval of the Miners' Eight Hour Bill. The Miners' Federation proceeded to boycott Blackpool, and held its annual demonstration elsewhere.

Blackpool, in consequence, lost a great deal of money that would otherwise have been spent in her pleasure resorts and shops.

Her First Attempt.

In the quietude of the Christmas Eve the waltz stood on the step of the ancient hall. 'Twas the first Christmas of the young squire and his bride in the old home.

As the last echoes of the carol had died away the window above the doorway was thrown open. A moment of expectancy, and then a burst of light.

die fell with a sickening thud at their feet. They tried to lift it, but could not. One of them undid the string, and the light of the silvery moon revealed that sadness had entered that ancient hall. It was the young wife's first Christmas pudding!
