> The skipper of a rum boat is dying of wounds and the cook of the boat is led, both being in the hos pital at Gloucester, Mass., as the result of an attack by rum pirates. The rum business on land and sea is now about as risky a trade as men can engage in. Raids and murders are of almost daily occurrence on the American coast. Probition in the United States brought a train of new evils in its wake, whatever else it did.

About 3.500 members of the Philadelphia Police Department were recently insured by the city under a blanket policy amounting to more than $7,000,000. The premium on each officer is $2,000 and the contract is the largest municipal group insurance policy ever written.

The miners must have fine consideration for the public, for they strike or talk strike year after year, and the whole continent is short of coal in the bitter winter months because of the squabbling of the miners and operators. This year the situation is extremely bad. The statesmen on the other side will have to find some solution of the coal problem. Things cannot continue as they are. It is both dangerous and ridiculous.

There are 1,000.000 potentia "bootleggers" in the United States, Mayor Hyland of New York was recently informed by Palmer Canfield, federal director of prohibition, in a letter in which he tells the mayor that it is not as easy for the federal authorities to stop illicit sales as it is to stop counterfeiting. He further advised Mayor Hyland that 98 per cent. of all seized spirits show ether alcohol or analysis. Such is prohibition.
