THE WOMAN'S CORNER

New Barbaric Coiffure

Some of the most daring New York women are trying out the new "barbaric" coiffure shown above, with the hair pulled in a fringe right over the forehead, and the heavily-jewelled bandeau-all

Where Woman Really IS Man's Incomparable Superior

BY CYNTHIA GREY.

It's a safe wager that the question of woman's superiority or inferiority to man-which is up for occasional profound discussion-never has been, and never will be, settled by these learned men to their own

They all agree among themselves that woman IS inferior, of course, but just turn any one of these wise old owls loose among a lot of babies and he'd howl for a woman to COME QUICK.

The majority of those women who were born to be mothers content to be queens of their home, and are perfectly willing that their husbands shall reign supreme elsewhere, hence this question never causes a ripple in the little worlds they rightfully call their own. FATHER is bound to provide his children with necessaries, but MOTHER gives them the physical care and the early mental training which FATHER is totally unable to supply.

The true mother consults her children as junior partners in the home enterprise; she interests herself in the small affairs of these juniors, and as the proper times is a child with them.

When maternal counsel is needed in times of childish revolt, she is pre-eminently the mother-gentle, patient, sympathetic and ate. She never forgets that the education of her babies begins at her very breast, and that every spoken word tends toward the formation of their

Here is an exquisite tribute to MOTHER-read it. you ever read an equally beautiful eulogy on FATHER? Not that father isn't all right in his place, but as a mother, he IS mother's inferior! No

> "Happy he with such a mother! Faith in womankind Beats with his blood, and trust in all things high And though he trip and fall, He shall not blind his soul with clay."

The Dragon's Teeth

Each One Sprouted Into a Soldier When Planted in the Ground.

Cadmus, Phoenix and Cilix, the sons, down to make his home. Others joined of King Agenor, were out playing in him, and they followed the cow for a a field one day with their sister Eur- long time, until she lay down, opa, when a butterfly fluttered near, they set about to build a house. Going and they gave chase, leaving Europa to a spring after water, Cadmus' new was weaving into a wreath, the little self upon the dragon, and after slayprincess saw a big white bull, and alling it, a mysterious voice told him to though frightened at first, the bull plant the dragon's teeth. No sooner seemed friendly, and she mounted on had he done so than a whole array of his back for a ride. No sooner had she soldiers sprang from the ground and done so than the bull started off at a fell to fighting and killing off each wild gallop, and plunged into the sea. other, until but five of them survived. father with the news, and parties day they were to build a palace for were at once organized to find Europa. The queen and the three boys, with a friend, made one party, found a big palace already made, and they searched all over the world built of marble, with stately towers. for many years inquiring if anyone As Cadmus entered the hall he saw on his back. They could find no trace of her, and said, "this is my sister Europa, who after a time, when the boys had all as come back to me."

grown to be men, Phoenix and Cilix

But there was a mysterious voice and the friend dropped from the party out of the sky, saying, "This is not and founded kingdoms of their own. your sister, but a maiden from the The queen and Cadmus alone continued the search, but one day the queen will find brothers, mother, friend and grew sick and died, and after burying sister to comfort you." his mother, Cadmus, feeling very sad, went to the oracle of Delphi to find justly for many years, over a mighty out what to do next.

The oracle told him to follow the them father and mother, and to make first cow he met, and where she lay them very happy.

friends encountered a big dragon that Looking up from some flowers she ate them all up. Cadmus threw himthree boys ran back to their They built some houses, and the next had seen a white bull with a little girl the figure of a young woman approaching to meet him, "Surely," sky, named Harmonia, and in her you

So they were married, and ruled kingdom, and children came to cal

Importance

There may be a retinue of servants; stand uncovered or decaying within it there may be a retinue of servants in a house, but unless there is a head small daily peep—to see that everyto the establishment, things will go thing is in condition, and all danger wrong. Imagine a man trying to run of ptomaine poisoning from spoiled a business of which he knows nothing. food is removed.

So few can afford a paid housekeeper to remove the burden of supervision that it belooves every woman that it belooves every woman who has a home of her own to know har a home of her own to know har to the underground the underground that it belooves every for the underground that it belooves every to be the underground that it belooves every woman fruit in them. Visit the underground that it belooves every woman fruit in them. enough of household arts to at least see that she is not being cheated or the health of her family ruined. It is not enough to give orders. See that they are fulfilled. One may talk indefinitely of what should be done, but it will not be done unless it is systematically followed up by inspec-

Matter of Health.

If only in the matter of health it is up to a housekeeper to look sharply to her affairs. Summer is a slack time in service, and refrigerator, garbage pails, cellar and food are apt to sufweekly, and nothing be allowed to nuts and chestnuts.

Yet that is what women are doing A cellar can get very moldy in every day in the home.

A cellar can get very moldy in week in hot weather conscious is not weather conscious in hot weather conscious is not weather. week in hot weather, especially if mar-ket baskets are allowed to stand around with decaying vegetables or part of your house every few days and at first sign of mustiness sprinkle lime and wash all shelves.

Insist upon careful preparation of food. Meats and fish not fresh can cause sickness, while stale vegetables and fruit are almost as bad. See that not more is bought than you can use in two days, also give strict instructions that suspicion is to be read spoiled when it comes to summer foods.

Glaced Fruits. Glaced fruits are delightful additions to the box of candy. To make them, cut Malaga or Tokay grapes from their bunches, leaving the stems long. Dust carefully and be sure they are from moisture. Holding them by the stems, dip one at a time in some melted fondant and place on oiled paper to dry. Mandarin oranges, structions given for its care nothing else could be done in the household. It is essential to health, however, that drains be kept free, shelves wiped out with soda water at least three times weekly, and nothing be allowed to tions to the box of candy. To _make

THE LIVING TEMPLE. Not in the world of light

Where God has built his blazing throne,
Nor yet alone in earth below. With belted seas that come and go, And endless isles of sunlit

In all thy Maker's glory seen; Look in upon thy wondrous Eternal wisdom still the -Oliver Wendell Holmes.

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

Dear Miss Grey: 1. I have black hair, blue eyes and fair skin. Am I a blonde or a brunette? 2. Is it true that one born in August is doomed to live unloved, and alone, unless one wears a monstone? 3. Are princess dresses out of style? CONSTANT READER.

A.—1. Neither. 2. Not the moonstone, but the August-born himself is to blame if he lives unloved and clare. Don't he so facility as to pay alone. Don't be so foolish as to pay attention to such superstitious rot. 3. Not much worn, but the one-piece dresses with belt at waist are more popular than ever.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. What part of the them on. home furnishing is the bride sup-posed to do? 2. What is an appropriate gift for the bride to give the bridegroom? 3. Which would be better for all around wear for winter, a coat or a suit? I can afford but one.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. How can I wash white silk gloves and keep them from turning yellow? 2. How shall I prevent color from running in tan silk gloves when washing them? 3. What is the authority for "kimono"? 4. What is the best way to press a cloth skirt?

EXPERIMENTER. A.—1. Wash with good white soap inse well and dry in a dark place. 2 Dip them first in salt and vinegar vater. 3. Kimono is a Japanese word. he name of the outer garment worn n Japan by both sexes. 4. Lay skirt on ironing board, dampen seams slightly and press with ordinary newspaper between skirt and hot iron.

DAILY MENU

BREAKFAST. Grape-Fruit. Fried Perch. Potato Pattles.

LUNCHEON. Lobster Cutlets. Horseradish Sauce Potato Salad.

Grapes. Citron Cake with Chocolate Icing. Grape Juice.

DINNER Clear Vegetable Soup. Mashed Potatoes. Fried Oysters. Shredded Cabbage. Stewed Corn. Coffee.

TOMATO RECIPES. When the family is tired of ordinary

ADVERTISER PATTERNS SEAUTY PATTERN COMPANY.

8796-A PRACTICAL AND COMFORT-ABLE APRON FOR PLAY OR

This model may be made of crash, linen, owelling, gingham or sanitas. It is made with sleeve portion, so the parts of the child's dress that are most exposed are well covered and protected, and the bib gives additional protection. The pattern is cut in two sizes, 1 and 2 years. It requires three-quarters yard of 48-inch ma terial for the 2-year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE ADVERTISER, Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to

Street Address Town

Provin &

Age (if child's or misses' pattern)..... CAUTION-Be careful to inclose above stewed and baked tomatoes try these; With Cream Gravy.

Cut in half without peeling, which holds them together without breaking, season with salt and pepper and roll in flour or very fine bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat until brown, but not blackened. Take up carefully with a pancake turner so as not to break the slices, and arrange neatly on a hot chop platter. Add a tablespoonful more of drippings or butter to that remaining in the pan (if there is only a little), stir in a tablespoonful of flour, and as soon as "bubbly" pour in a cup of hot milk. Stir until smooth and creamy and pour over tomatoes. Garnish with parsley.
Frenched Tomatoes.

Scald and peel half a dozen small, solid, round tomatoes. Make half a pint of good cream sauce by cooking together a rounded tablespoonful of flour, then adding a cup of milk, cooking and stirring until a smooth creamy sauce results. Season with a level saltspoonful of salt and half a saltspoonful of pepper. Put a tablespoonful of this sauce in the bottom of a buttered custard cup, lay on it one of the little peeled potatoes, cover with another tablespoonful of the sauce and a dusting of bread crumbs. Stand the cups in a pan of boiling water and bake half an hour in a moderate oven. Serve in the cups.

When a Man Marries

By Mary Roberts Rinehart.

Copyright, 1909, The Bobbs-Merrill Co. "Your brains, sir," Flannigan retorted gravely, and presented a pair of boxing gloves. Jim visibly quailed, but he put

"Do you know, Flannigan," he remarked, as he fastened them, "I'm thinking of wearing these all the time. They hide my character."

Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did A.—1. There is no "cut and dried" rule, but she is supposed to furnish the linens at least. The rest depends largely upon the state of her finances.

2. A watch fob, a scarf-pin, cuff links or a wedding ring. 4. A full-length coat.

Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. He demanded that Jim shed the bath robe, which he sunset. Then for fully a minute there was no sound save of feet running rapidly around the roof, and an occasional soft thud. Each thud was accompanied by a grant or two from Jim. Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. He demanded that Jim shed the bath robe, which he sunset. Then for fully a minute there was no sound save of feet running rapidly around the roof, and an occasional by a grant or two from Jim. Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. He demanded that Jim shed the bath robe, which he sunset. Then for fully a minute there was no sound save of feet running rapidly around the roof, and an occasional by a grant or two from Jim. Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. He demanded that Jim shed the bath robe, which he sunset. Then for fully a minute there was no sound save of feet running rapidly around the roof, and an occasional by a grant or two from Jim. Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. He demanded that Jim shed the bath robe, which he sunset. Then for fully a minute there was no sound save of feet running rapidly around the roof, and an occasional by a grant or two from Jim. Flannigan looked puzzled, but he did not ask an explanation. was grimly silent. Once there was a smart rap, an oath from the policeman, and a mirthless chuckle from Jim. The chuckle ended in a crash, however, and I turned. Jim was lying on his back on the roof, and Flannigan was wiping his ear with a towel

the roof, and Fiannigan was wiping his ear with a towel. Jim sat up and ran his hand down his ribs.

"They're all here," he observed after a minute. "I thought I missed one."

"The only way to take a man's weight down," Flannigan said dryly.

Jim got up dizzily.

Jim got up dizzily.
"Down on the roof, I suppose you nean," he said. The next proceedings were mysterious. Flannigan rolled the barrel into the tent, and carried in a small glass lamp. With the material at hand he seemed to be effecting a combination, no new one, to judge by his facility. Then he called Jim.

At the door of the tent Jim turned to structions compel you, that you will least have the decency to stay out of the tent."

"I am going at once," I said outraged.
"I am dabout it, "I'm not here because I'm mad about it, and you know it. And don't pose with that bath robe. If you think you're a character out of Roman history, look at

"I didn't mean to offend you," he said sulkily. "Only I'm tired of having you choked down my throat every time I open my mouth, Kit. And don't go just yet. Flannigan is going to put on my clothes as soon as he lights the—the amp, and-somebody ought to watch the

That was all there was to it. I said I would guard the steps, and Flannigan, having ignited the combination, what-ever it was, went downstairs. How was ever it was, went downstairs. How was I to know that Bella would come up when she did? Was it my fault that the lamp got too high, and that Flanigan couldn't hear Jim calling? or that just as Bella reached the top of the steps Jim should come to the door of the tent, wearing the barrel part of his hot-air cabinet, and yelling for a doctor?

Bella came to a dead stop on the up-Bella came to a dead stop on the up-per step, with her mouth open. She looked at Jim, at the inadequate barrel, and from them she looked at me. Then she began to laugh, one of her hysterical giggles, and she turned and went down As Jim and I stared at each other we could hear her gurgling down the hall

At seven o'clock, when Bella had dropped asleep and everybody else was dressed for dinner, Aunt Selina discovered that the house was cold, and ordered Dal to the furnace It was Dal's day at the furnace; Flannigan had been relieved of that part of the work after twice setting fire to a chimney.
In five minutes Dal came back and something had happened. While Aunt Selina was talking suffrage to Anne—who said she had always been tremendously interested in the subject, and if women got the suffrage would they be allowed to vote?—I slipped back to the

The table was laid for dinner, but Flannigan was not in sight. I hear voices from somewhere, faint voices that talked rapidly, and after a while I located the sounds under my feet. The men were all in the basement, and something must have happened. I flew back to the basement thinks something must have happened. I flew back to the basement stairs, to meet Mr. Harbison at the foot. He was grimy and dusty, with streaks of coal dust over his face, and he had been examining his revolver. I was just in time to see him slip it into his pocket. "What is the matter?" I demanded. "Is anyone hurt?"

"No one," he said coolly. "We've been cleaning out the furnace."

cleaning out the furnace."

"With a revolver! How interesting—and unusual!" I said dryly, and slipped past him as he barred the way. He was not pleased; I heard him mutter something and come regular after me but l thing and come rapidly after me, but I had the voices as a guide, and I was not going to be turned back like a child.

Our Fall Opening Occurs Tomorrow and Richly Werits Your Attendance

Color contrasts mark the new Millinery modes.

The Hat in a single shade is the rare exception.

Combinations that are unusual, even daring, are frequently to be seen, but none so much as border on the gaudy.

Every personal preference may find expression in these charming Hats. In this display we have endeavored to give our patrons a comprehensive survey of the Millinery modes which will be affected by well-dressed women this season. All are cordially invited to inspect our Opening Exhibition without the slightest obliga-

GRAY & PARKE

150 DUNDAS AND CARLING STREETS.

coal cellar beneath the street. The coal cellar was full of brick, with a cent floor, and in the left hall there gaped an opening about three feet by three, leading into a cavernous vold, perfectly black-evia cavernous void, perfectly black—evidently a similar vault belonging to the next house.

The whole place was ghostly, full of

At the door of the tent Jim turned to me, his bath robe toga fashion around his shoulders.

"This is a very essential part of the treatment," he said solemnly. "The excrise, according to Flannigan, loosens up the adipose tissue. The next step is to boil it out. I hope, unless your instructions compel you, that you will at structions compel you, that you will at the came back and called through the ragged opening in the wall. Then he came back and called through the page.

to us. "Place is locked, over there," he said. "Heavy oak door at the head of the steps. Whoever made that opening has done a prodigious amount of labor for nothing.

The weapon, a crowbar, lay on the ground beside the bricks, and he picked it up and balanced it on his hand. Dalflorid face was almost comical in his bewilderment; as for Jimmy, he slammed a piece of slag at the furnace, and walked away. At the door he turned around. around.

"Why don't you accuse me of it?" he asked bitterly. "Maybe you could find a lump of coal in my pockets if you searched me."

He stalked up the stairs then and left us. Dallas and I went up together, but we did not talk. There seemed to be nothing to say. Not until I had closed and locked the door of my room did I venture to look at something that I carried in the palm of my hand. It was a watch not running a gentleman's flat a watch, not running—a gentleman's flat gold watch, and it had been hanging by its fob to a nall in the bricks beside the aperture.

In the back of the watch were the inditials T. H. H., and the picture of a girl cut from a newspaper.

It was my picture. CHAPTER XVI CHAPTER XVI.

I Face Flannigan.

Dinner waited that night while everybody went to the coal cellar and stared at the hole in the wall, and watched while Max took a tracing of it, and of some footprints in the coal dust on the

She had violent hysterics for an hour, with Anne rubbing her forehead and Aunt Selina burning a feather out of the feather duster under her nose. Only Jim and I understood, and we did not tell. Luckily, the next thing that occurred drove Bella and her nerves from everybody's mind.

At seven o'clock, when Bella had At seven o'clock, when Bella had arawing pad just below him in the areaway. I went over and closed the shutway. I went over and closed the shut-ters before his very eyes, but even then he did not move.

"Will you be good enough to turn around?" I demanded at last.

"Said wheeling. "Are you "Oh!" he said wheeling. "Are you here?"
There wasn't any reply to that, so I spoke a few words to Max, who followed him to the basement, and in ten minnim to the basement, and in ten minutes more Flannigan puffed up the steps and called Mr. Harbison.

I am not curious, but I knew that something had happened. While Aunt Selina was talking suffrage to Anne—

I that I had noped. He stared at it for an instant, then at me, and with his hand outstretched for it, stopped.

"Where did you find it?" he asked. I couldn't understand his expression. He looked embarrassed, but not at all afraid. "I think you know, Mr. Harbison," retorted.
"I wish I did. You opened it?"
"Yes."

We stood looking at each other across the table. It was his glance that wavered.

"About the picture—of you," he said, at last. "You see, down there in South America, a fellow hasn't much to do in the evenings, and a—a chum of mine and I—we were awfully down on what we call the plutocrats, the—the leisure classes. And when that picture of yours came in the paper, we had—we had an argument. He said——"He stopped.

"What did he say?"

"Well, he said it was the picture of an empty-faced society girl."

"Well, he said it was the picture of an empty-faced society girl."
"Oh!" I exclaimed.
"I—I maintained there were possibilities in the face." He put both hands on the table, and, bending forward, looked down at me. "Well, I was a fool, I admit. I said your eyes were kind and candid, in spite of that haughty mouth. You see.

I said your eyes were kind and candid, in spite of that haughty mouth. You see, I said I was a fool."

"I think you are exceedingly rude," I managed finally. "If you want to know where I found your watch, it was down in the coal cellar. And if you admit you are an idiot, I am not. I know all about Bella's bracelet—and the board on the roof, and—oh, if you would only leave—Anne's necklace—on the coal, or somewhere—and get away—"

My voice got beyond me then, and I dropped into a chair and covered my face. I could feel him staring at the back of my head.

had the voices as a guide, and I was not going to be turned back like a child. The men had gathered around a low stone arch in the furnace room, and were looking down a short filght of steps, into a sort of vault, evidently under the pavement. A faint light came from a small grating above, and there was a close, musty smell in the air.

Te careful to inclose above I send size of pattern wantapatern is bust measure, were here before we went to bed, and I'll swear that hole was not there this mornin, sir, ever it may be. If a skirt, id length measure. When in waist measure, ever it may be. If a skirt, id length measure. When lay pattern, write only the nting the age. It is not write "inches" or 'years, iot reach you in less than method date of order. The pattern is 10 cents in cash is tamps.

IRN DEPARTMENT,

LONDON ADVERTISER.

had the voices as a guide, and I was not going to be turned back like a child, the furnace around a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call colled in the coll call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call call a low in the call a low where I found your watch, it was down in the call a low were looking and you and there was a close, musty smell in the air.

"It lell you it must have been last night," Dallas was saying. "Wilson and grouped into a chair and covered my face. I could feel him staring at the back of my head.

"It was not there then."

Flannigan insisted. "It has been made during the day."

"And it could not have been done this afternoon," Mr. Harbison sald quietly. "I' w

Every Woman who keeps house should know

"Granulated" "Golden Yellows" 'Extra Ground"

or Icing Sugar "Powdered Sugar" "Crystal Diamonds"

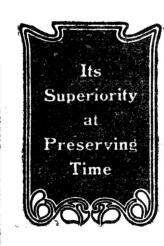

Each of these brands is guaranteed absolutely pure, and the choicest Sugar of its kind in the Dominion.

MADE ONLY FROM CANE SUGAR.

Remember to order "St. Lawrence Sugar" whenever you buy.

The ST. LAWRENCE SUGAR REFINING COMPANY, Limited

Two Minute Talks About RANGE for Goal or Wood

BEGAUSE the Pandora Reservoir is made of one piece of sheet steel and is OVAL in shape it has no square corners. seams or grooves in which dirt can collect. The triple-coated, smooth-as-marble surface of White Enamel is easy to clean thoroughly. You can make the Pandora Reservoir absolutely sweet and spotlessly clean, so that fruit can be cooked in it without risk of taint. As it holds much more than a kettle. it is a great help at preserving

The Enamelled Steel Reservoir is only one of the many Pandora conveniences which save time, labor, fuel and money. Get our Pandora booklet and learn about the others.

McClary's

Stands for Guaranteed Quality

Montreal, Winnipeg Vancouver, St. John, N.B., Hamilton, Calgary

FOR SALE BY J. Maker, 256 Dundas street; J. A. Brownlee, 385 Talbot street; J. A. Page, 807 Dundas street.