

SOL WHITE DEAD AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Ex-Mayor of Windsor Was a Great Stock Raiser and Farmer.

[Canadian Press.]
Cobalt, Nov. 11.—Mayor Sol White died at his home here tonight, after an illness of two weeks.

Mayor White returned from Windsor two weeks ago, and took to his bed, the doctors saying there was no hope for him. Throughout his illness Mr. White bore up with his characteristic courage. Great sympathy is felt for Mrs. White, who remained steadfastly at his bedside.

Mr. White was a former mayor of Windsor, and took a prominent part in politics. He was 75 years old.

In 1890 he was nominated for the Legislature for North Essex; he was elected at that time and served the capacity of M. P. for fifteen years in all.

From his legal practice Mr. White owned a magnificent stock farm, comprising 500 acres, three miles from Windsor, and on a portion of the farm not used for stock Mr. White located many vine-growers from France, and on this farm he established a beautiful summer home.

Mr. White served as president of the Windsor Driving Park Association, Essex County Agricultural Society, and the Windsor Land and Improvement Company. He made a specialty of trotting horses and Shorthorn cattle, and his exhibits were always among the best in their respective classes.

SIR WILFRID AT TORONTO

Pays a Week-End Visit With Some Intimate Friends.

Toronto, Nov. 13.—Sir Wilfrid and Lady Leveir, who have been spending the week-end with Rev. and Mrs. T. Crawford Brown, St. George's street, returned to Ottawa, and were present at the opening of Parliament on Wednesday.

Sir Wilfrid's visit here was purely of a social nature and devoid of any political significance. Arriving in the city on Saturday morning, the ex-Prime Minister made a few calls on acquaintances, but otherwise spent the day quietly. On Sunday morning Sir Wilfrid attended divine service at St. Andrew's Church, and was present at the baptismal service of the infant son of Rev. and Mrs. Crawford Brown.

Canada's grand old man appears to be in the best of health and spirits, and the cessation of official responsibility has brought him an enjoyable leisure.

to allow their names to be considered owing to personal reasons, and Mr. Rowell was made the unanimous choice. No person better fitted for the position could be found than Mr. Rowell. His record was clean. While he had never occupied a seat in either House of Parliament, he had given politics a close study, and had shown great capacity for public affairs. The question of securing a seat for Mr. Rowell had risen, and it was considered necessary to find a comparative safe seat for him, in order that he would have time to devote to covering the province, and explaining his policy. Dr. Mackay declared that he had been visited by Mr. Chas. Brown, M. P., the Liberal whip, and after considerable thought, and after consulting with many of his friends, he had decided to recommend Mr. Rowell to come to North Oxford.

"I was not anxious, nor am I now, to withdraw as representative of the Liberals of North Oxford," said Dr. Mackay. "When I considered that the interests of the whole party in the province could best be served by allowing Mr. Rowell to have the nomination for this constituency, I determined upon the course I have explained to you. If you are agreeable to the acceptance of my resignation, I retire in favor of Mr. Rowell. I do this because I believe the best interests of the great Liberal party would be the better served. I want to impress upon you the fact that no pressure whatever was brought upon me to force my resignation. If you nominate me, I will do so."

Fearful Headaches

STOMACH BAD, NO APPETITE,

WONDERFUL CHANGE WHEN HEALTH WAS RESTORED BY

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Headache is a symptom and not a disease in itself. It acts as a danger signal to warn you of serious trouble. By reading Mr. Donner's letter you will be satisfied that there is no treatment to be compared to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a means of building up the system and removing the cause of headaches, sleeplessness and indigestion.

Mr. Charles Donner, Kleinburg, Ont., writes: "I wish to communicate to you the great cure which I received from Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. For over two years I suffered from fearful headaches, my appetite was lost, my stomach bad, I was always poor, and the doctors had taken me for a nervous case, but the headaches persisted, and I was rarely free from them."

"Reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, I began using it, with little idea that I would be benefited. It had been too thin and weak, but the very first box helped. After a few boxes treatment I have been cured and feel like a new man. The headaches have disappeared, my appetite is good, and digestion excellent. I write this letter in hope that other sufferers from headache may use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and be cured."

light the battle of Liberalism behind him as I have always done." (Cheers.) "I believe the Liberal party in North Oxford is prepared to do a little more sacrificing, although they have done much in the past," declared Dr. Hotson.

Dr. Dewar, of Bright, and Peter Irving, of Woodstock, moved that the nomination of Dr. Mackay be accepted.

Mr. Rowell Nominated.
Mr. Francis Patterson, of East Nisour, nominated Mr. Rowell as the candidate for the Liberal party in North Oxford.

"I am sure that we will never regret this action," declared Mr. Patterson. "All the Liberals in the riding will stand behind him."

"The Liberals of North Oxford were always broad enough to look to the good of the party, not to the good of the constituency alone," said Mr. J. Munro, of East Zorra, in seconding the nomination. "We have selected an able, upright, honest man, a leader and the Liberals of North Oxford will do their duty."

"We got Sir Oliver Mowat from Toronto," said Mr. John M. Roth, of Taverton. "He represented us for 25 years and was the best leader the Liberal party ever had. History will repeat itself."

There was no other nomination, and the enthusiasm was intense when Dr. Hotson announced that it had been unanimous.

The action of the Liberals here today will do more to put stimulus into the Liberal party than anything we possibly could have done," declared Dr. Hotson.

A short address was delivered by Mr. John McLevin, of West Zorra, in which he pledged his earnest support to the nomination.

Mr. E. W. Nesbitt, M. P., also spoke briefly. He mentioned the unique fact that he alone of all the Liberal candidates in Ontario at the last election had increased his majority. He thanked the members of the party for their splendid support. He asked them to rally behind Mr. Rowell, and give the new Liberal leader the same enthusiastic support they had accorded him.

Leader Cheered.
At this juncture Mr. Rowell came into the hall, escorted by Dr. Mackay, and a scene of the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. The delegates stood on their feet and cheered for some time.

On reaching the platform, he was formally welcomed by the nomination by Dr. Hotson, the president.

"I thank you most heartily for tendering me the nomination, and I accept it," he stated amid great cheering.

"Some ten days ago," he continued, "I was waited upon by a deputation from the Ontario Liberal Association, and was informed that it was the wish of the association, of the members and candidates throughout the province as well as the rank and file of the Liberal party that I be their leader. It was a position that I had not sought, nor did I desire it. But the party saw fit to tender the call to me, and I found it more difficult to say no than to say yes. I recognize that in these circumstances a similar call has come to you. You are called upon to make a sacrifice in tendering me this nomination, and you accept it in the same spirit that I accepted the call to the leadership. If you are willing to accept the leadership, you must rest assured that I will do mine."

"I appreciate to the fullest the generous action of Dr. Mackay. He has given me a deep debt of gratitude. I desire to thank him from the bottom of my heart for this, his very generous action, and to thank you for your support of your self-sacrifice in tendering me the nomination. When I consider the great man who has represented North Oxford—Sir Francis Hincks, one of the greatest finance ministers the Dominion of Canada ever had; Sir Oliver Mowat, who gave Ontario the best government ever given by a Liberal party in any country; a late lamented and exceedingly popular Hon. James Sutherland, the brilliant and beloved Attorney General; and your present honored sitting member—I recognize that it is no slight honor to ask me to represent a riding represented in the past by such a series of brilliant leaders."

In a humorous way, he spoke of the criticism of the Conservative press at his selection as leader. It was admitted to the pleasant things the Liberal press had said, and would lead him to think soberly of himself.

"There is a heartening in the Liberal ranks throughout the province," said Mr. Rowell. "I have received, since my selection, the most generous and hearty support from all sorts and conditions of men throughout Ontario. Many Conservatives have written, saying they want to co-operate with us in electing a solid man to the new Legislature. The party is in good fighting spirit, and I am hopeful of good results on polling day."

Why This Election?
"I do not know why we are to have an election at this time. I thought that perhaps Sir James Whitney might have struggled through another session with his health as he has. However, he has called an election, and we will have to do our best. A strong opposition is absolutely necessary, and it would be the best thing, not only for the Conservative party, but the province, if the Opposition were strengthened by more followers. I am confident that we will have enough Liberals elected to force the attention of Liberal principles upon the Government."

"Sir James Whitney has given three reasons for calling the election. The Premier took occasion to say that, while he had not read the platform of the Liberal party, it was a very skimpy chicken from so much incubation. I wish to say that it is not a chicken, but a whole brood, all fine healthy chickens after a great deal of incubation, but in the meantime, he is claiming half our brood. Some of the Conservative papers are claiming the rest. They have taken our platform, and claimed it as their own. If it was so bad, why did they take it?"

"According to Sir James, there are three issues before the electors in this election. The first is—Should we join in spending money in developing New Ontario, provided the Dominion Government will spend money for the same object? What a splendid proposition, that a Government of a Government who, knowing the great possibilities of that hinterland of this province, do not take every step to develop it?"

"The second is—Should we transfer the hydro-electric commission to the Government, and make it a department of the Government? I have heard it stated in other words: 'Should we take Adam Beck into the Cabinet or force him out?'

Refers to Beck.

him out? I ask, are the enemies of Mr. Beck and his policy so strong within the Government that Sir James has to have the mandate of the people to take him into the Cabinet? That is the logical question, and the answer is obvious. We stand for public ownership, and it will not help the cause of public ownership to introduce politics into its management and control."

"The other question is whether or not the Government shall ask the Dominion Government to allow a subsidy of $4,500 a mile for the Temiskaming Railway. If the Dominion Government has that amount of money, and are willing to give it, we should hold out our hands and take it. We do not need a mandate of the people to do that."

"I do not intend to make a speech. We are going to put up a good fight. We will contest seat after seat. I will travel over the whole province, and do what I can to help the Liberal cause. I will rely on you doing your share in North Oxford while I am travelling throughout the province. I will be unable to spend much time here, but I am sure I can rely on you. We are in this fight to the end, and we look for great gains everywhere."

The whole delegation remained while Mr. Rowell was introduced to them by Mr. E. W. Nesbitt. If there was any mingling as to Mr. Rowell's ability with "his" party, they were totally dissipated at this meeting. He met them all, one after the other, and made a warm spot for himself in the hearts of the delegates.
