M'DRIDE PLEADS FOR NAVAL SUPREMACY

"The time has come for Canada to show to the empire and the whole world what she can do, and what she intends to do, to help the mother country, which as done so much for her children while they were growing up," declared Hon. Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, as he landed on Saturday, from the Empress of Britain, which brought him from England where he had conferred with Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty on Canadian naval matters. It is the duty of Canada to co-operate in the maintenance of British naval supremacy.

"Something serious should be done said Mr. McBride, "and this should be done quickly. As for British Columbia, no real policy founded on up-to-date and substantial lines will be too much."

VICTIM'S BODY FOUND BY SEALER

The body of another of the Titanic disaster victims, James McGrady of Belfast, Ireland a fireman, has been recovered by the steamer Algerine, a sealer, which is under charter by the White Star Line. Word to this effect was sent by wireless to Cape Race the Algerine at the time being within forty miles of that station.

Immediately after sending this information the Algerine set out on a ten days' cruise to further search the seas in the vicinity of the scene of the disaster in the hope of securing more bodies. The Canadian steamer, which also has been prosecuting the search for bodies, was spoken by the Algerine several days ago.

TO COMPETE IN OLYMPIC GAMES

Maritime Provinces Not Represented

The Maritime Provinces will not be represented on the athletic team which will represent Canada at the Olympic games in Stockholm. This morning there was despatched the last of the entries for the big games to arrive by mail before the date of closing of entries. It is expressly laid down by the International Olympic Committee that telegraph entries will not be accepted, so that in order to cover all competitors possible on the Canadian team, a separate entry has been forwarded for each of the athletes and events.

Fortunes in Tea Cups

Did you ever learn to tell fortunes in teacups? Some of you say: "There's nothing in it. It's just foolishness." But that is a mistake. There is any amount of fun wrapped up in the weird, uncanny-looking tea leaves, and now that the long cold days have come and the tea hour seems the coziest in the day your popularity will be established by enlivening your little tea-parties by telling your friends' fortunes.

Here is the way to do it. Brew the tea in a teapot without a strainer, or put a spoonful of tea in the cup itself and pour the hot water directly upon it. The tea must all be drunk except a few drops, which serve to keep the leaves in circulation. The cup must be whirled around three times, then turned on the saucer three times. Then begins the fortune-reading.

A lover (either man or woman, because sometimes you have "pink" tea parties) is represented by a number of dots in which one figure stands separate.

Two dots side by side mean an engagement.

An offer of marriage is shown by a figure kneeling in the cup.

A group of dots, three in a row, means that the offer will be accepted. Without them the lover has no chance.

Three large dots in the shape of a parallelogram will bear watching. These mean illness, sad news, or loss of home.

Three large dots in triangular shape mean just the contrary—good news, good fortune and good health.

If the following signs will tell you just what to expect: Four dots in a square tell of an important letter. A dot within the square means there is something in the letter which you will be glad to hear or something you want to receive, as money, a check, books, etc., arriving within the square or near it indicates bad news in the epistle.

A long journey is indicated by a long line of dots extending half way around the cup. A group of dots near the terminus of the journey denotes that you will be greeted by a large circle of friends upon your arrival.

If you wish for something very much, indeed, three small dots in a triangular shape bid you hope the wish is about to come true.

Very large dots in a line warn you that many trials are in store for you. If these are mixed with fine dots, you will encounter disagreeable people.

Tears to be shed for one cause or another are represented by drops of tea in the bottom of the cup.

A clean rim to the cup means a quiet, happy, and prosperous existence.

Look out for the leaf that folds over the rim! This means that you are likely to have a stroke of good luck very soon.

The different shapes of the leaves indicate respectively, men, women, and clothes. A long hard leaf shows a man. Small leaves, or even points upon this long leaf, take the form of his silk hat, cane, boots, etc. A woman is shown by a broader leaf or paler shade. She is often distinguished by her wide skirts, her bonnet, parasol, etc.

To ascertain whether or not the man and woman are friends or enemies examine the space about them. If it is filled with tiny dots thickly set, they are enemies. If the space be clear and no dots appear about them they are good friends.

A cross in the teacup means the news of a death.

A group of trees standing separately means that your wish will come true.

And as you become more expert new ideas will come to you. Try it, girls.

To make headcumbes quickly, cut the soft part from a stale loaf, put it into a clean muslin bag, tie the bag at the top, and gently rub it with the hands for a few minutes. The crumbs will then be fine enough for anything.

ONTARIO WOMAN'S FORTUNE

Freed From That Weak, Languid, Always Tired Feeling, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Thessalon, Ont.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a blessing to women, and I cannot speak highly enough of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."—Mrs. ANNIE CAMERON, Thessalon, Ont.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A PROMISING COLT

Graham Bellini Recently Purchased by R. J. Mackenzie

At a bid of $2,500, the Illinois trainer, Charley Dean, got the Bellini colt, he acting, it is said, for R. J. Mackenzie, the Winnipeg turfman, for whom Harry James trains. Graham Bellini, excepting in one respect, is one of the best-looking young trotters in the country. He has that peculiar cut-out formation under the knees. Mr. Dickerman states, however, that the colt was foaled that way, and a close examination shows that the peculiar formation is not in any way an indication of unsoundness. Robert J. 201½. It will be remembered "as characterized by this same conformation, only in a more pronounced degree, and no one ever had occasion to say that it was any drawback to his racing powers. From his looks Graham Bellini, appears to be a colt that will race over about any kind of a track. He is very strongly built, has, with the exception noted, a fine set of legs, and his head indicates the possession of the kind of brains that go with good manners on the race track. Of his speed there can be no question, for on the half-mile tracks of Kansas and Oklahoma, last season as a two-year-old he did what few trotters of that age have done. If all goes well with him he will be a factor in some of the futures of 1913.

COULD NOT RAISE MY RIGHT ARM

OLD BRIDGEPORT, C. B.

"For the past 41 years, I have been suffering with Rheumatism. When I read in the papers that GIN PILLS would positively cure rheumatism, I wrote you for a free sample to try. I could not raise my right arm because of the awful pain in my shoulder—was not able to drink. After taking a few GIN PILLS, I was able to lift my hand and put it on the top of my head."

I went to the Islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon and met an old fisherman named La Pape. His limbs were stiff from Rheumatism and I gave him some GIN PILLS. I met him again in a few days and he told me he could lift his arms, which he had not been able to do for ten years. ADOLPHE E. MAHER, 50c. a box—6 for $2.50—money back if not satisfied. Sample free if you write National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Dept. N. B. Toronto.
