very enver track steps and was also well to ceived. Of the cast a good deal might be said in praise, atthough in spectacular plays dramatic ability is not absolutely necessing. Ms. Chan Riegel was an imposing looking Zamalici, and was the devil entirely for will wert in appearance, at all events. Miss ida Mausey integrately filled thereis of the lovely Lens. Miss Laura Burt was a fascinating Fantas a, and Mr. X. Z Schner invested the part of Proo with all due comicality. Taken sitogether "The New Fantasma" is worthy of a successful run, and should attract a full house to every performance given during the present week. THE STREET MARKET.
