

VALUES HER HEART AT $5000
A Captivating Widow and An Irresolute Widower.

WOODED BY AN ADVERTISEMENT.

How Thomas Ware Won and Lost His Love.

Sentiment and Business Combined—One of the Conditions of the Marriage Was That the Bride Was to Stay a House From Her Husband and They Were to Jointly Run It—But There Came a Day When the Husband's Business Branch of Premises Was Now Been Entered.

Mrs. Annie Bailey of 235 Markham Street, a widow, fair, 45, is suing Thomas Ware, a widower of 45, male and healthy, ex-farmer, ex-butcher and ex-estate dealer, residing at 64 Churchville Avenue, for $5000 damages for breach of promise of marriage.

Mrs. Bailey claims that Ware, like other men, has proven himself a hollow, tinkling, sounding mockery, that he has ruthlessly torn her heartstrings and that he is grateful to a wounded sparrow for the peace of promise of marriage.

Ware, on the other hand, appears to be a more shamless man, who is glad to see the Falls of Niagara when Mr. Ocar Wilde stood on their awful brink and told them in a calm firm voice that they were not what they were cracked up to be.

Mrs. Bailey was in a business manner and was devoid of all but the appearance of sentiment, and that he carried on his portion of the agreement, but the widow did not.

In June last, Ware was then residing at Zimmerman, Halton County, inserted an advertisement in a Toronto paper intimating that he was a widower seeking a wife.

Mr. Bailey, who has since been living at a comfortable house, has continued to accumulate wealth and success. He has no property, but I have quite a little money," she said last night.

Mrs. Bailey saw an advertisement and decided to answer it, knowing full well that the ordinary man, in her natural glib, unsophisticated, unwhetted state, is not so apt to be deceived as to be a big man for matrimonial purposes.

The return mail brought her a reply from Ware, and she was very interested in the information that he was a man of means, but lonely, and was in need of an owner of six houses in the city of Toronto.

Kind words never die.

The correspondence was continued and photographs were exchanged. The letters were of a character of endearment.

In one letter she wrote:

Your letters are cold, and I fear you don't love me as I love you.

A number of other letters have sentiment of another kind, and she was led to run away with her practical head. She was next day and learned that the house was assessed for only $500. She sent back to Thomas the money, and he decided to wait some time for the cheque, and she decided to delay for a season until she had had a personal interview with the man.

If he suited the complexion of her mind, or matched (or contrasted) as the case might be) the former partner, she would take him. It was about six weeks before the lovers met. Ware took advantage of the exhibition rates, came down to get into the room, and called upon Mrs. Bailey. To her he was as shy in the hands of the poster. To her he was as open book, and she took him at his word.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

TO HASTEN TARIFF CHANGES

THE BILL TO BE PASSED SO AS TO TAKE EFFECT ON MARCH 1.

A Long Debate in the House to Be Avoided by Giving Members Leave to Print Their Speeches—Expectation That It Will Reach the Senate Before Christmas.

THIS MAN WON A BRIDE.

He, Too, Advertised in the Papers for a Companion and Caught a Young Girl from North Bay.

Among the arrivals in the city from North Bay last evening were Oscar E. Perrigo and wife. In June last, Perrigo, who resides at New Haven, Conn., secured a divorce from his wife. Having got rid of one, he immediately set to work to procure another, and adopted the plan of advertising. The advertisement was by Miss Maggie Arnold of Iron Bridge, East Algonquin, eldest daughter of the postmaster and manager of that village, and a correspondent between the parties concerned.

The course of true love in this case apparently commenced with a photograph, which was exchanged and finally the two had never seen each other, became engaged.

An appointment was made to meet at the hotel, and the bride and groom were met there by Mr. Perrigo, and the expectations were realized, for the happy couple were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. McMillan.

THE LATEST GUNNY OF CHANCE.

Imagine He Is a Grand Trunk Detective and Writes the Life Out of Treatment.

In June last, Ware was then residing at Zimmerman, Halton County, inserted an advertisement in a Toronto paper intimating that he was a widower seeking a wife.

Mr. Bailey, who has since been living at a comfortable house, has continued to accumulate wealth and success. He has no property, but I have quite a little money," she said last night.

Mrs. Bailey saw an advertisement and decided to answer it, knowing full well that the ordinary man, in her natural glib, unsophisticated, unwhetted state, is not so apt to be deceived as to be a big man for matrimonial purposes.

The return mail brought her a reply from Ware, and she was very interested in the information that he was a man of means, but lonely, and was in need of an owner of six houses in the city of Toronto.

Kind words never die.

The correspondence was continued and photographs were exchanged. The letters were of a character of endearment.

In one letter she wrote:

Your letters are cold, and I fear you don't love me as I love you.

A number of other letters have sentiment of another kind, and she was led to run away with her practical head. She was next day and learned that the house was assessed for only $500. She sent back to Thomas the money, and he decided to wait some time for the cheque, and she decided to delay for a season until she had had a personal interview with the man.

If he suited the complexion of her mind, or matched (or contrasted) as the case might be) the former partner, she would take him. It was about six weeks before the lovers met. Ware took advantage of the exhibition rates, came down to get into the room, and called upon Mrs. Bailey. To her he was as shy in the hands of the poster. To her he was as open book, and she took him at his word.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

He tried to blow out the electric light. The young man, who had a few days ago spent many hours at the house, was told to go away.

Ware was to be kept in the house, and she was to have the privilege of residing there as long as she lived. The expenses of furnishing the house would be divided—Ware would put in the "nice" things for the front of the house, while Mrs. Bailey was to do the rest.

After the engagement, Ware became dictatorial. Mrs. Bailey says he grumbled and sulked and was always in a bad mood. He was so tired, and she was so tired.

The engagement was made. The bargain was a good one. A house should be bought by the widow. This house was one of the cost $1000, much less than its real worth.

PHIOTO SUING FOR PEACE

A Minister Confers With the Rebel Representative and the Conference Will Proceed to Rio Grande.

New York, Nov. 30.—A Montevideo cable says: It is reported that Minister Assis Broili, on behalf of President Pezozolo, has a plan looking to some decisive arrangements regarding the rebel and the situation in Rio Grande.

It is said that the result of the conference will be peace throughout all Brazil.

THE VESSEL ON WHICH HE WORKED

New York, Nov. 30.—The steamer Halifax Nov. 3, arrived here today and the following day will be in Rio de Janeiro.

The Sardinian Prince was in Rio de Janeiro during which time the vessel was almost completely destroyed by a fire on board.

It is reported that the vessel was almost completely destroyed by a fire on board.

THE PEOPLE AND LEADERS OF RIO

The people and leaders of Rio do not care to give expression to their views, but there is a strong undercurrent of opinion that Mello will finally succeed.

Such action, it is argued, would go far toward solving the vexing difficulty, which would result in the expenditure by the amount of the bounty, and would in addition be paying in so much money that it would be less need of an income tax or increased taxation of any kind.

The very fact, however, leads those who are in favor of the present plan to believe that the present plan is the best.

Such action, it is argued, would go far toward solving the vexing difficulty, which would result in the expenditure by the amount of the bounty, and would in addition be paying in so much money that it would be less need of an income tax or increased taxation of any kind.

THE POSITION OF THE SALTICONS (NORTHWEST)

The position of the Salticons (Northwest) settlement, the report says, is less satisfactory than the new law that is to be put into effect on all goods imported after that date.

THE EFFECT OF THE PASSAGE OF SUCH A RESOLUTION, it is held, would be to encourage importations of all kinds for the important reason that he would ultimately receive the benefit of whatever reduction in duty the new bill might contain.

THE HIGH STRIKE STILL ON.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING—The Company Moving Trains Regularly.

BUFFALO, Nov. 30.—"You can say officially and as emphatically as you like that the strike will not be declared off," said Grand Master Sargent of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen this evening.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

IT WILL BE LONG-TITLED AND HAWAII—MILLS Will Defend the Hawaiian People.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The President's message is practically completed, but it will not go to the public until after the cabinet meeting on Friday, at which it will be the subject of final consideration.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

WHO IS SHE?

THE LATEST SCANDAL WHICH CONCERNS THE ESCAPEES OF A FUGITIVE YOUNG TORONTO SOCIETY WOMAN.

New York, Nov. 30.—A Montevideo cable says: It is reported that Minister Assis Broili, on behalf of President Pezozolo, has a plan looking to some decisive arrangements regarding the rebel and the situation in Rio Grande.

It is said that the result of the conference will be peace throughout all Brazil.

THE VESSEL ON WHICH HE WORKED

New York, Nov. 30.—The steamer Halifax Nov. 3, arrived here today and the following day will be in Rio de Janeiro.

The Sardinian Prince was in Rio de Janeiro during which time the vessel was almost completely destroyed by a fire on board.

It is reported that the vessel was almost completely destroyed by a fire on board.

THE PEOPLE AND LEADERS OF RIO

The people and leaders of Rio do not care to give expression to their views, but there is a strong undercurrent of opinion that Mello will finally succeed.

Such action, it is argued, would go far toward solving the vexing difficulty, which would result in the expenditure by the amount of the bounty, and would in addition be paying in so much money that it would be less need of an income tax or increased taxation of any kind.

The very fact, however, leads those who are in favor of the present plan to believe that the present plan is the best.

Such action, it is argued, would go far toward solving the vexing difficulty, which would result in the expenditure by the amount of the bounty, and would in addition be paying in so much money that it would be less need of an income tax or increased taxation of any kind.

THE POSITION OF THE SALTICONS (NORTHWEST)

The position of the Salticons (Northwest) settlement, the report says, is less satisfactory than the new law that is to be put into effect on all goods imported after that date.

THE EFFECT OF THE PASSAGE OF SUCH A RESOLUTION, it is held, would be to encourage importations of all kinds for the important reason that he would ultimately receive the benefit of whatever reduction in duty the new bill might contain.

THE HIGH STRIKE STILL ON.

CONFIDENT OF WINNING—The Company Moving Trains Regularly.

BUFFALO, Nov. 30.—"You can say officially and as emphatically as you like that the strike will not be declared off," said Grand Master Sargent of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen this evening.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

IT WILL BE LONG-TITLED AND HAWAII—MILLS Will Defend the Hawaiian People.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The President's message is practically completed, but it will not go to the public until after the cabinet meeting on Friday, at which it will be the subject of final consideration.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

THE HOUSE IS CONSIDERING THE HAWAIIAN CASE, and the administration's policy is expected to be a somewhat different view.

WHO MURDERED ROGER ALLIN IN "BUSINESS" 20 YEARS AGO.

FOUND ON ST. THOMAS SIDEWALK WITH HIS THROAT CUT.

A Forgotten Incident in the Career of "Doc" Andrews, Which Has Just Come to Light.

It has generally been thought that "Doc" Andrews first came to notoriety in Toronto in connection with the Leslie case, but a glance through the Police Court records shows that 20 years ago, in the fall of 1873, Detective Hodgins had him brought into No. 3 Police Station for procuring abortion on a girl who lived the next door to where the Holmson Bank now stands in King-street west.

"Doc" was arrested at that time at the old Brocken Club, where he was keeping a saloon. He was brought before Ald. Baxter about midnight, who identified him as the woman doctor.

The police were at once notified, and examination showed deceased to be Roger Leslie, a well-known character of the city for the past 30 years.

Deceased, who was about 60 years of age, had long been a resident of 10 Edward-street, yesterday morning for his son's residence, which he left at 4 in the afternoon for his confinement, and was not afterwards seen alive.

The Body Removed After Death.

The appearance of his clothing, which was of a dark, heavy material, and his red neckerchief, showed that he had been dragged to the place in which he was found, and the discovery of a pool of blood 300 yards distant along the railway track, with no droppings by the way, also indicated that the body had been brought there after death.

No Motive For the Murder.

This, with the absence of any trace of the instrument, and the supposition of suicide, yet it was difficult to find any motive for murder. Deceased was a poor man, poorly clad, and was a stranger, and would not have had money with him.

The Inquest Adjourned.

A jury was summoned at the Dominion Hotel at 11 o'clock. They examined the body and adjourned until 2 o'clock that afternoon. At that time a post-mortem examination was made by Dr. Van Dine.

The public believe it a suicide, yet Constable Henry and other officers maintain that suicide is impossible under the conditions in which the body was found.

It was announced that the body was to be taken to the morgue, and that it would be buried in the family grave.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

PATRICIA, N.S., Nov. 30.—Right Hon. Sir John Thompson, premier of Nova Scotia, spoke with an enthusiastic reception here today. As a political meeting held in the afternoon, the premier was warmly received.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS ON TARIFF REFORM AT FRICTON.

WHO MURDERED ROGER ALLIN IN "BUSINESS" 20 YEARS AGO.

FOUND ON ST. THOMAS SIDEWALK WITH HIS THROAT CUT.

A Forgotten Incident in the Career of "Doc" Andrews, Which Has Just Come to Light.

It has generally been thought that "Doc" Andrews first came to notoriety in Toronto in connection with the Leslie case, but a glance through the Police Court records shows that 20 years ago, in the fall of 1873, Detective Hodgins had him brought into No. 3 Police Station for procuring abortion on a girl who lived the next door to where the Holmson Bank now stands in King-street west.

"Doc" was arrested at that time at the old Brocken Club, where he was keeping a saloon. He was brought before Ald. Baxter about midnight, who identified him as the woman doctor.

The police were at once notified, and examination showed deceased to be Roger Leslie, a well-known character of the city for the past 30 years.

Deceased, who was about 60 years of age, had long been a resident of 10 Edward-street, yesterday morning for his son's residence, which he left at 4 in the afternoon for his confinement, and was not afterwards seen alive.

The Body Removed After Death.